There's Mary - you always are saying She's sweet and serene; But I shouldn't want to look like her, Not fit to be seen: No gewgaws, no jewels, no flounce : No friz to her hair; When we go to a social party. Is she anywhere?

You know she steals off to a corner And sits there alone,

And where is the hurt?

Now, Robert, let's settle the matter:

If you think my serene cousin Mary

You who hardly will treat her politely-

Just as plain as that I, when I'm minded,

She'd go to'church with you, and sit there

Just take her: she's ready and willing,

She'll cook you most beautiful dinners,

She'llsweep and she'll dust, And obey you in every trifle When she finds that she must.

And tell you the text and the sermon

While I'm free to acknowledge I study

his strange when a man finds a woman

With haidlying smooth on her torehead,

With no gittward adornings to make her

That he # #ses this excellent creature

Spite of trinkets and bows, --

The model who suits him precisely,

Now, Robert, one way or another

We'll settle this sham:

Apron on and dash in hand,

O'er the old churn here I stand:

Gachug ! cachug !

Ab. how soon I tired get

But the butter lingers yet:-

Falls in love for the droop of an eyelid

Then tries with what might le possesses.

Take your model, who shan't be my model,

THE CHURNING SONG.

How the thick cream spurts and flies

Now on shoes, and now in eyes ! -

- Mett' in Harper's Barar.

And allow his faint heart to be smitten

Falls in love spite of slate pencil crimping s

With a calm, sweet, and modest demcanor,

The fashions of dresses and bonnets

Is more to your mind-

That's plain to be seen-

Why, I am resigned.

Can marry Eugene !

Precise and demure.

Distinctly, I'm sure !

Very Mien when there

And people's back hair.

Reafranade in his style,

Dress straight to her feet.

More tarimly complete,

Most horoughly by,

By a jirl such as I.

Or tira of a nose.

To force her to be

Or me - us I am

Cachug!

Most Avonderful she.

And/Otosi of a smile,

A stick or a stone;

I dance and I flirt With lots of the jolliest fe lows,

I'm tiken to death

At every breath.

Looks the veriest poke in creation.

A California Story. The following anecdote, which was told me by an eye-witness. I will relate as I can recol-

In the early mining days of California there stood at the foot of the hill, not many miles from Nevada, one of those rough-built gaming houses so common throughout the mining sections of the territory. A description of this structure and its surroundings will convey to BALTIMORE AND NORFOLK the reader a better idea of the incident I am about to relate. The building contained but one room, the entrance to which was situated at on- end, with a large adobe fireplace on the other end, nearly opposite to the entrance. On the large stone hearth burned a wood fire, giving to the room a cheerful appearance. On the front, at the right of the entrance, was a well-filled bar, around which were congregated representatives of different nations, some speculating on the success of various mining operations, while others were discussing the general topics of the day. Along the rear side of the room extended a row of tables, around each of which was seated a company of miners playing poker, and staking large sums of gold with as much coolness and apparent unconcern as if they were partaking of their evening meal. A few rule scars occupied the space around the ireplace, and in the trent portion of the room beyond the bar. The cabins of the settlers extended some distance to the front of the spot, while the unsettled portion of the country lay

As the even. ing wore on, the patrons of the saloon became more numerous, while the chillness of the atmosphere caused those most interested in the Opposite American House. games at the table to gather round the fire. The conversation which at this time was becoming animated, was suddenly interrupted by the entrance of a tall rawboned Yankee, bearing in his hand a long ritle; around his waist he wore a belt, from which was suspended a powder flask and build pouch. Advancing to the faceplace, he deposited his ride in the corner, and after accepting the scat Clothing, Boots and Shoes courteously offered him by one of the company. he seated himself by the fire : resting one elbow on his knee, and dropping his chin into his hand, he sat gloomily watching the fire as if some neighty grief was proving upon him. He mumbled incoherently at times, and sat without changing his position. The attention of the samples sent when desired. Farther wishing price company was soon drawn to the stranger and an occasional glaner of these at the table was directed towards the place where he sat. He a length broke out into such lamentations as these<sup>t</sup> "I am fired of life. My claims have failed and I am without triends or money. I have not even enough to purchase a support. I have been out all day hunting and I have killed nothing." He a blicessed no one personally, and no one seemed to sympathize with him in his disturbed condition. He sat in silence a tew minutes and then rising his head he exclaimed:

THAT AT THE SAME TIME PURGES. PURIFIES, AND STRENGTHENS

THE SYSTEM.

Dr. Tutt's Pills are composed of many ingredients, Prominent among them are Sarsaparilia and Wild Cherry, so united as to act together; the one through its admixture with other substances, purifying and purging; while the other is strengthening the system. Thus these Pills are at the same time a tonic and a cathartic, a desideratum long sought for by medical men, but never before discovered. In other words, they do the work of two medicines and do it much better than any two we know of, for they remove nothing from the system but impurities, so that while they purge they also strength-en and hence they cause no debility and are followed by no reaction. Dr. Tutt's Pills have a wonderful influence on the blood. They not only purify without weakening it, but they remove all noxions particles from the chyle before it is converted into fluid, and thus makes impure blood an utter impossibility. As there is no debilitation, so there is no nausea or sickness attending the operation of this most excellent medicine, which never strains or tortures the digestive organs, but causes them to work in a perfectly natural manner; hence persons taking them do not become pale and amaciated, but on the contrary, while all impurities are being removed, the combined action of the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry purifies and invigorates the body, and a robust state of health is the result of their united action Price, 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists: Depot Cortlandt St., New York.

Pure Air in Churches.

The time to change the air in churches is immediately after the congregation has departed. This is a fact for sextons to make a note of in order to avoid the complaints of those people who, realizing their right to pure air, will not breathe a vitiated element without remonstrance. When the services for the day are concluded and while the audience room is still warm, if the windows and doors are left open for a short time the cooler air of out-doors will rapidly displace that which has been breathed over and over again by the throng of for LIVER COMPLAINT and its painful offspring, DYS-worshippers. The usual custom is to SICK HEADACHE, Colles Depression of Spirits, SOUR close the church windows and doors as soon as it can be done without rudeness, and urgent demand, we now produce from our original thus leaving the bad air to cool and concentrate near the floor. The new plan is easily tried, and as there is no patent right to sell in Provisions, Wines, Liquors, Tobacco, Cigars, &c. &c. and as there is no patent right to sell in Purchasers are invited to call and examine the stock at connection with it a trial will prove as cheap as it will be beneficial.
