NOON DISPATCHES. FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 12. Smith & Wesson's Pistol Agency has been damaged to the amount of $3,000.

The papers here take a more cheerful view as to the result financially and otherwise of the Boston fire.

In the shoe and leather trade there is a prevailing impression that no harmful results to trade can follow, as prices were at a very low point before the fire. Several Boston men are already here, who have bought new stocks, and will return immediately.

In the wool trade it is stated that none of the New York houses are disastrously affected. The actual sufferers will be the public at large, as all kinds of woolen goods will be advanced in price, it is expected, from 30 to 31 per cent. Several New York merchants are congratulating themselves upon the necessity of the defection of the wool trade from Boston to New York.

Several New York detectives have gone to Boston to aid the authorities there in arresting New York thieves.

The Bulletin says of the wool market, that dealers here recently sold heavily to Boston merchants, but the wool is still mostly held here, or is in transit, thus escaping destruction. Only a small amount of Boston paper, on account of wool transactions, is held here, and no fears are entertained here, that other than an extension of time will be necessary on maturing bills.

A partial suspension of the wool trade for a week is expected, until insurance balance is perfected, when the market will be more active than before the fire.

In the dry goods trade there is much confusion and uncertainty, owing to the non-reception of letters from Boston, but there is no great uneasiness manifested. In the hide and leather trade there is an entire absence of any panicky feeling, and the general impression is that the market will remain steady.

In the boot and shoe trade, no crisis is anticipated, the sentiment being that all the Boston dealers are still in good standing, and only an extension of time will be necessary.

Boston buyers, who appeared here yesterday, were cheerfully given all the credit they asked for.

3 A. M.—The streets are perfectly quiet. 250 mounted soldiers patrol them and no one is allowed to pass without authority from the commandant. One man who entered a store on Winter street, and who refused to leave after being repeatedly ordered away, started to run when about to be arrested and was shot by the guard.

Extensive lines of hose are stretched all over ruins, and engines are stationed at almost every hydrant, ready at a moment's notice to be worked if occasion should require. At points where persons are known to be buried the ruins are being covered with water, preparatory to digging out the corpses of victims. Immense piles of coal on Russia wharf, about 500 tons, is still afloat. City authorities have granted to Dry Goods merchants the privilege of using the Common, as a repository for such of their property as is saved, and to erect shanties and other structures for temporary uses.

Three men were discovered in an attempt to break into a room in the Parker House, but made their escape.

It was rumored that a drunken wretch late in the evening attempted to set fire to Gas House near Charlestown bridge, and upon being found was seized by an infuriated mob and unceremoniously hung to a lamp post.

Three men were buried under a falling wall on Washington street, leaving their heads only visible. Efforts to rescue them from the horrible position were unavailing, and in a few moments the remainder of the wall fell, crushing and burying them from sight.

It is estimated that nearly 10,000 girls have been thrown out of employment by the fire. It is known that thirty lives have been lost.

Detachments of the 1st and 2nd regiments are quartered in the Old South Church. This building has not been thus used since the British officers quartered there in the Revolution—100 years ago.

Six men were arrested this morning in the Northern part of the city. They were caught in the act of firing buildings by kindling bonfires. The streets are now being patrolled by the military.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The presence of auriferous metals in Virginia in the neighborhood of the Potomac, Rappahannock and other streams, as well as in the foot-hills of the Blue Ridge, has long been known; but the location of a permanent quartz mine has not been thoroughly demonstrated until lately. Parties of explorers have been at work in developing a mine near Kelly's Ford, four miles from Rappahannock Station, in the neighborhood of well-known places of deposits. They have found a series of well defined gold-bearing veins located in a mountain, three-fourths of a mile from the river. The surface rock of decomposed quartz bears a strict resemblance to the one taken out in the richest districts of California. A shaft 80 feet deep cuts three veins at a depth of 1,545 and 1,575 feet, yielding rock worth from $60 to $100 per ton. The deposit to be a basin of veins showing free gold with carbonates and no sulphates. Three tunnels are now being worked through rich rock, and everything gives promise of permanency.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue estimates the receipts of the Bureau for the present fiscal year at one hundred and five millions, or thirty millions less than last year, with a natural increase annually of 3 per cent. The receipts of the first quarter were larger than those subsequently collected, being accumulation on account of past indebtedness, and for other causes, so far as the Bureau is aware. Both the tobacco and the spirit interests are satisfied with the late law of Congress, and therefore there is no reason to believe that any modification of it will be recommended unless in the manner of administration and reorganization of districts in order to render the system more compact, and to reduce the tariff act will undergo any material changes.

Sheridan is here. The Meade obsequies have returned.

The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, after consultation with New York merchants, thinks there will be no panic or material interference of business by the Boston fire.

Col. Kresinwesi, who, as Supervisor of Internal Revenue of Georgia, fell into trouble, has been appointed Special Treasury Agent with headquarters at New Orleans.

Mail service has been ordered on the North and South Railroad between Columbus and Hamilton, Ga.

London, Nov. 12.—All London is mourning. Papers express the deepest sympathy for the sufferers by the conflagration in Boston. They attribute the great disaster to the bad management of the Fire Department, police and Municipal authorities of that city. The Standard says, the Boston fire is an outrage on civilization and evidence of a most inefficient government. By way of showing superiority in cases like that of the Boston fire, of a well organized fire department over that of a badly managed one, it compares the small London Fire Brigade and the narrow, crooked streets and alleys of this city, whose fires seldom go beyond the buildings wherein they originate, to the thousands of municipal firemen, large granite structures, and open spaces of Boston. Then it says the best portion of the city was destroyed for want of good management to prevent the progress of the flames, which were finally stopped by gunpowder and this wretched business was entrusted to volunteer citizens instead of skilled operators.

It is believed that the amount of insurance in London companies upon property in the burnt district of Boston is $2,500,000. A Commission is to be sent to Boston by London Companies to make investigation of facts in relation to the cause and progress of the conflagration as a matter of general importance to the insurance interests.

The ship Helvetia, which sailed from here, never, when nearing the English coast on Friday last. Wife of Portland her machinery broke and she succeeded however in reaching the Isle of Wight, when she became unmanageable and drifted rapidly towards the French coast as Cherbourg came in sight. The anxiety of the officers became very great; they were unable to regain control over the steamer's movements, and were in danger of being driven on shore when within ten miles of Cherbourg they threw up rockets and made other signals of distress, but they were not noticed on the shore. Fortunately the wind changed and the steamer began to run before it down the channel. The steamer Ethel came to her assistance, and while trying to give her a tow ran into the boat which had been launched by the Helvetia. The boat was crushed to pieces, one man killed and two injured. The Helvetia was finally towed into Falmouth, remaining there to-day.

The Norwegian bark Domar, which sailed from New York for Queenstown, for orders, October 19th, was abandoned at sea on the 8th inst., in a sinking condition. The crew was rescued by the officers and crew of the steamship Idaho, after much difficulty, by means of a lifeboat, and landed at Queenstown last evening.

A dispatch from Hong Kong says the telegraphic cable between that city and Shanghai has ceased to work. Cause of interruption is unknown.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, Nov. 11.—The Coroner's Jury rendered a verdict to-day in the case of Rev. Dr. J. Brinton Smith, supposed to have been poisoned by his family on the 1st of October. That the diseased, J. Brinton Smith, came to his death on the morning of the 1st of October, 1872, from the effects of strychnine mixed in a dose of seidlitz powders, administered by Francis L. Mann, and that Mary E. Smith was the custodian of the key of a closet in which was found a vial of said poisonous drug. Miss Mann is the daughter and Mrs. Smith the wife of deceased. Dr. Smith was an Episcopal clergyman and President of St. Augustine College in this city. The affair has caused great excitement in this city. Mrs. Smith and Miss Mann were committed to the county jail this evening. Application will be made by counsels for their release on a writ of habeas corpus. The sentiment of the community is divided as to the guilt of the parties. The stomach and brains of deceased were examined by Dr. Genth, of Philadelphia, upon whose professional opinion the Jury rendered a verdict.
