DROPS DEAD AT STATION

Thos. D. Jordan Comes to a Sudden End

COMPTROLLER OF ASSURANCE CO.

Had Been Wanted to Appear Before the Armstrong Investigating Committee and Explain His Management of the Equitable.

By Wire to The Sun.

New York, July 16 .- Thomas D. Jordan, formerly comptroller of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, dropped dead of heart disease today in the Wall street station by tragic circumstances. Scores of persons saw him fall, among them Dr. F. C. Wells, a friend.

Dr. Wells hurried to the side of his in which were the members of the stricken friend, but he saw immediately that Mr. Jordan was dead. Mr. Jordan had parted from his con, Frank B. Jordan, only a moment before, and a messenger overtook the young man on the street and informed him of his father's death. The son was overcome with grief.

It was in the course of the Armtrong committee insurance investigation that Mr. Jordan's name came prominently before the public. It was brought out then that Comptroller Jordan had secured loans aggregating $68,000 for himself and James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable, from the Mercantile Trust Company, and that these loans had been covered upon the books of the com-pany. This $88,000 erms to be known as the "yellow dog" fund.

A desire was expressed by the Armstrong committee that Jordan appear before the committee and explain his financial management of the Equitable, but the precess servers were unable to locate Mr. Jordan. His con was called before the committee and asked to tell where his father was. The young man

His trial was set for the fall.

> Since his indictment Mr. Jordan had remained before the public eye as little as possible. While he was active n financial circles, his name seldom appeared in print.

Mr. Jordan had come to New York today from his home in Englewood, N. It shall be the aim of the management J., to attend a directors' meeting of to make the paper interesting and the Pacco Improvement Company, of which he was vice prosident, when he was stricken. As soon as Mr. Jordan's son had been summoned the body was taken to the police station. There it was viewed by Coroner's Physician Weston, who said that death was due to heart failure or apoplexy, and that an autopsy was not necessary. He gave permission for the removal of the body, and Frank Jordan had the body of his father taken to Englewood.

Mr. Jordan leaves a widow, his son Frank, and a daughter, Mrs. Edward D. emed Leading Knight, O'Brien, who married the son of Judge Dennis O'Brien.
