NEWS IN BRIEF

Short Items of Interest Condensed into Small Space

Judge C. M. Cook today convened a session of Carteret county Superior court in Beaufort. A number of New Bern lawyers have gone down to attend the session.

Prof. H. B. Craven, says the New Bern Graded and High Schools have not reached its normal condition in attendance since closing down several weeks ago on account of the scarlet fever, but students are coming in daily. The roll shows there are about 50 who are still remaining out. The Superintendent says those present are steady at work and great progress is being made in all branches of the institution.

Remember the Lyman Twins will appear at the New Masonic Opera House on Thursday night in their big musical comedy "The Yankee Drummers."

Weather forecast for North Carolina: Rain tonight and Tuesday. Warmer tonight and cooler Tuesday.

There was quite an amusing scene at noon today on Middle street, opposite the Hazelton Hotel. A horse hitched to the delivery wagon of Mr. F. M. Bowden became frightened and made a complete circle in the street, at intervals raising his hind legs to the dash of the wagon, carrying the driver around with him until the lines parted. Quite a disturbance was in evidence for a few moments Mr. Alex Hall, who was up the sidewalk, near the team, was so over-anxious to gain entrance to a harness shop that he measured his length on the concrete pavement, while his derby took a roll down the street.

The following morning arrivals are registered at the Gaston and Gem hotels: Gaston: William H. Draper, New York; U. S. Senator F. M. Simmons, Trenton, N. C. At the Gem: William J. Nobles, Virginia; C. J. Morton, North Harlowe, N. C.

The barge C. McIlwain arrived in port from Virginia with a cargo of 700 tons of fertilizer consigned to E. K. Bishop & Co.

The schooner Carrie Farson, mastered by Capt. Elijah Lupton, came in from Virginia with a cargo of corn consigned to J. A. Meadows.

The schooner Virginia, mastered by Capt. Ernest Lupton, arrived in port from Norfolk, Va., with a cargo of merchandise for merchants in this city.

Your attention is called to the advertisement in this issue of the Home Building and Loan Association.

There was an interesting session of the city police court held this morning, which was presided over by Mayor James A. Bryan. The Monday morning harvest was gathered after Friday's and Saturday's seed-sowing. The offenses consisted of disorderly conduct. A free for all fight, in which one of the combatant's face showed signs of bad treatment, and a colored female, pulled, charged with running a blind tiger. His honor found probable cause and bound the "tigress" over to the next term of Craven county criminal court, which convenes in this city next June.

Chicken sandwiches always on hand at Royall's.

PROGRAM AT AMUSEA TONIGHT.

"The Adventures of a Beggar"—This unfortunate character has much to contend with, and the sight of this picture will enlist your sympathy.

"The Artful Lovers"—A comedy of much merit. The scene where one of the lovers saves his sweetheart from a watery grave, while the stormy billows are rolling high, is a beautiful sight.

"The Scout"—The hardships of these brave men in time of war surpass the imagination, and their wonderful escapes are marvelous. By special request, in addition to our regular program, we will show "Fighting Bob's Battle Ship Fleet," one time at 9 o'clock.

Orchestra and duet by the Misses Peck "Silver Threads Among the Gold," illustrated.
