SIX LOSE LIVES IN UTAH LAKE

Squall Upsets Launch Throwing Occupants in Water

PROSPECTIVE BRIDE, BRIDE-GROOM VICTIMS

Young Man and Fiancee in Whose Honor Boating-Party Was Given, Sink in Each Other's Arms

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 6.—Six persons were drowned in Utah Lake Sunday when the sailing launch Gallie, on which sixteen persons were attending a party, given in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Vera Brown, 21 years old, and Edward B. Holmes, captain in a squall. Among the drowned were the prospective bride and bridegroom and Frank and Helen Brown, two other children of Capt. Frank Brown, owner of the launch. Benjamin W. Raymond seized his 15-year-old son to save him, and both were drowned. All the victims of the accident lived in Salt Lake City. All sixteen passengers were thrown into the water when the boat turned over. Holmes, guided by the cries of his fiancee, went to her aid. The struggling woman and the rough water were too much for him, and they went to the bottom, clasped in each other's arms. Frank Brown, tried to aid his sister, Helen, but both were soon exhausted. The chill of the water benumbed them, and they sank together. Some young men in a sailboat were attracted by the cries of the others, who succeeded in grasping the upturned Gallie, and went to the rescue. They succeeded in saving ten persons, who had been in the water and hour and a half.

DEATH IN PISTOL DUEL AT EAGLE ROCK

Buck Robertson Killed By H. W. Montague

LADY PEACE-MAKER HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Robertson is Claimed to Have Called Montague Out, and After Few Words Began Shooting—Montague in Jail—Details.

Raleigh, N. C., June 6.—J. B. Robertson was killed and H. W. Montague was wounded in the right arm as the result of a pistol duel on Mr. R. H. Hick's place, near Eagle Rock, at an early hour Sunday night. Montague surrendered later in the night to Deputy Sheriff R. H. Biggs at Wendell, and was brought to Raleigh and committed to the Wake county jail on the charge of murder. Miss Flossie Hicks, a young lady, threw herself between the men in an attempt to prevent trouble. Miss Hicks and Robertson, known in his community as Buck, and Montague and Miss Clarice Robertson were returning from a wedding celebration at the home of a Mr. Stone and had reached the home of Miss Hicks, when the trouble occurred. Buck Robertson, it seems called Montague from the house and wanted to know what Montague had been saying about Robertson and his sister. Montague replied that any report to that effect was a lie, that he thought too much of Miss Robertson to make any remarks about her, and assured Robertson that nothing had been said about him or his sister. After this declaration, Robertson is said to have threatened to shoot Montague, and thereupon drew his gun. Miss Flossie Hicks then appeared upon the scene with a buggy whip in her hand and endeavored to prevent any trouble. She knocked up Robertson's pistol arm with the whip and the bullet intended for Montague's body went crashing through his right arm. Robertson fired again and was advancing on Montague when the latter drew his gun and sent two bullets into his antagonist. One of these shattered Robertson's chin to pieces and the other struck him in the chest. Robertson fell to the ground mortally wounded, but raised up long enough to fire a third shot at Montague. The bullet went through the dress of Miss Hicks, but she was unharmed. Robertson died in a few minutes. How Miss Hicks escaped injury in the mild fusillade of bullets is hard to understand. The men were shooting at each other with the intention of doing mischief, and the young woman was in the line of fire. One of the bullets, the last fired by either party, tore through her skirt and all but wounded her. Buck Robertson was the son of George E. Robertson of the Eagle Rock section. He was about twenty-one years old and is said to have a reputation as a trouble-maker. A year ago Mr. George E. Robertson forbade his daughter from keeping company with Montague and the trouble last night may be traced to feeling over this. It was about Miss Robertson that Buck Robertson and Montague fired at each other. Montague, who was committed to jail yesterday afternoon, is 27 years old, is of slight build and of fair complexion. He would weigh about 150 pounds. He is a native of Granville, Ohio, and has been visiting with Mr.

BANK OF LAGRANGE IS CLOSED

Institution Found to be Unsafe By Examiner

$12,000 OVERDRAFTS AND UNSECURED PAPERS

Officers Were Warned of Abuses Some Time Ago—Receiver Will Be Appointed at Once—Capital Stock is $10,000.

Raleigh, N. C., June 6.—Acting on the report of Bank Examiner Doughton, the corporation commission yesterday ordered closed the doors of the Bank of LaGrange, Lenoir county, and a receiver will be appointed at once to take charge. Mr. Doughton was instructed to take over the affairs of the bank. He made an examination Saturday and reported his findings to the commission. Mr. C. V. Brown, assistant bank examiner, made an examination of the institution in October last, and on this report the commission criticised the officers of the bank and instructed them to correct the abuses then apparent. These consisted of unsecured paper, and the commission was informed later that the bank was complying with the law. Less than 30 days after the examination and criticism by Mr. Brown the officers got the bank into such trouble that its closing was made necessary. "It has been conducting its business," reads the order of the commission, "in an unsafe and unauthorized manner and is insolvent." The bank has overdrafts and unsecured paper to the amount of $12,000, and one of the directors is reported as seriously involved. In spite of its bad condition it is possible that the depositors will be paid in full. The Bank of LaGrange was established in 1906 with a capital of $10,000. John R. Wooten is president, and L. F. Davis is cashier.

SMOKE COSTS HER 30 DAYS.

Woman Jailed for Puffing Cigarette in Bayonne, N. J., Street.

New York, June 6.—A woman proceeded along Broadway, near Twenty-second street, Bayonne, Sunday puffing a cigarette and followed by a crowd of jeering boys and girls. A policeman arrested her after making her throw the cigarette away. She described herself as Grace Saunders, aged 30, of Hoboken avenue, Jersey City. Recorder Mara lectured her and sent her to the county jail for 30 days.

Boys Steal Chicken from Hotel Stove

Atlantic City, N. J., June 6.—While the waitress was in the dining room and the cook in the basement five negro boys invaded the kitchen of a small Tennessee avenue hotel this noon and lifting the chicken off the fire made away with it.

When the cook came up the last in the row of fire was just going out the door. He gave chase but the youngsters dodged under the boardwalk and got safely away. The sub-committee has indicated a disposition to confine the sittings to Washington as closely as possible, but it is understood that Illinois will be visited. The committee will be empowered to sit during sessions of the Senate and there will be an effort to conclude the work during the extra session.

WILL PROBE LORIMER CASE IMMEDIATELY

Senate Sub. Committee is Named to Investigate

FOUR DEMOCRATS FOUR REPUBLICANS

Half of Committee Voted in Illinois Senator's Favor at Former Hearing—Confine Sittings to Washington as Closely as Possible.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Senators Dillingham, Gamble, Jones and Kenyon, Republicans, and Fletcher, Johnston, Kern and Lea, Democrats, will constitute the sub-committee that will conduct the new investigation into the bribery charges against Senator Lorimer. They were named for this duty yesterday by the Committee on Privileges and Elections and are all ready to begin services with all the authority of full committee as soon as the Senate approves. Of the eight members, Messrs. Dillingham and Gamble, Republicans, and Fletcher and Johnston, Democrats, voted for Lorimer in the previous investigation. Mr. Jones, Republican, voted against him. Messrs. Kenyon, Republican, and Kern and Lea, Democrats, were not then members of the Senate. They are known, however, to be opposed to Mr. Lorimer. The committee considered first Mr. Kenyon's motion directing the investigation as a whole, but after brief discussion it was rejected by a vote of 3 to 10, affirmative votes being cast by Senators Kenyon, Clapp and Jones. The resolution providing for the appointment of a sub-committee of eight was proposed by Mr. Bailey, Senior Democratic member of the committee, and it named Messrs. Dillingham, Gamble, Clapp and Sutherland, Republicans, and Messrs. Fletcher, Johnston, Kern and Lea. This followed the rule of seniority except where senators had refused to permit the use of their names and insofar as its impartiality could be assumed. Among those declining to serve on the ground of other engagements were Messrs. Bailey and Painter, Democrats, and Heyburn, Republican. When the list was read Messrs. Clapp and Sutherland voluntarily retired in favor of Messrs. Kenyon and Jones. Contending for the rule of seniority, Mr. Bailey suggested that Messrs. Bradley and Oliver should be designated. When, however, it was pointed out that both of those senators were ineligible, because, in the previous inquiry they had voted for Lorimer, the Texas senator yielded and the Iowa and Washington Senators were added to the list. The sub-committee adopted a resolution for presentation to the Senate today to clothe the sub-committee with all the powers of a special committee. It is expected that the resolution will encounter comparatively little opposition. The sub-committee has indicated a disposition to confine the sittings to Washington as closely as possible, but it is understood that Illinois will be visited. The committee will be empowered to sit during sessions of the Senate and there will be an effort to conclude the work during the extra session.

JEALOUS HUSBAND ENDS LIFE

Bride-Groom of Two Weeks Uses Pistol

Wm. P. EWART SUICIDES IN SEVERSVILLE

Remarked to His Young Wife "You Don't Love Me Any More as You Used to Do."—Also Criticized Hobbles Skirt That She Wore.

Charlotte, June 6.—William P. Ewart committed suicide and thereby by the pull of a trigger, ended Sunday night a married life of two weeks' duration, said to have been preceded by a courtship of seven years. A moment previous he had returned from attending a church service with his wife, who was with him in their room in Seversville, where he opened his trunk, took from it the pistol, executed his deed of self-destruction and fell into the arms of his bride. The young man was 21 years of age. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ewart, of the vicinity of Huntersville. His father and mother had visited him during the day and it was remarked upon last night that in bidding his mother good-bye just prior to her departure for her home at dusk he was unusually demonstrative and gave many evidences of affection and of regret at the parting. Evidently, therefore, the act was not the result of a momentary impulse, but had been a subject of some consideration and perhaps of some days' brooding. "You don't love me any more as you used to do," This remark, says Mrs. Ewart, was made to her by her husband. That remark gives the only clue to the motive, with its intimation that young Ewart believed he had cause to be jealous. "Oh, yes, I do," the bride of two weeks says that she made answer. He made some disparaging remark, too, about the "hobble skirt" he said his wife was wearing, criticizing her fast in buying it. The suicide occurred so quickly that nothing could be done to prevent it. Death occurred speedily. Coroner Hovis, Patrolman Walter Orr and others who went to the scene found the body lying in the middle of the floor of a room to the north, near a pool of blood. Death of His Son Kills The Father. St. Louis, Mo., June 6.—Mrs. William C. Kidwell called an undertaker to take charge of the body of her infant son. When the undertaker arrived a neighbor escorted him into the room where William Kidwell, the father was ill. "What are you here for?" asked Kidwell. "To take charge of the body of your son," replied the undertaker. Kidwell gasped and fell back in his bed dead. Was Faithful to Convicted Lover. Wheeling, W. Va., June 6.—The constancy of a woman's devotion will be demonstrated here in a few days when Miss Bertha Sherwood becomes the bride of Robert A. Schick, of Barton, Ohio, who was discharged a few days ago from the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus, where he served nearly eight years for murder. Schick and Miss Sherwood were to have been wedded prior to the former's sentence. If a man would work at some employment half as hard as he will try to get a public office at a low salary he could make a full story.

SEN. BAILEY SPEAKS TO CONFEDERATES

Texas Senator Speaks Principally of the Negroes

MUST RECOGNIZE THEIR INFERIORITY

No Other Terms Possible For The Two Races to Live in Peace in This Country—Ceding by Southerners Within Their Rights.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, addressing a gathering of Confederate veterans last night declared that if the two races are to live in peace in this country it must be with the black race in constant recognition of its inferiority. Speaking of Jefferson Davis, in observance of whose birthday the gathering was held, Senator Bailey said he was less responsible for the conflict between the States than any other man and was the last man in all the South to abandon the hope of a reconciliation. The truth of history was with the Confederate people," said the Senator. "The fathers would never have formed this Union if they had not believed that it could be dissolved for cause. If the Southern people believed they could not remain in the Union with honor and safety they had a right to secede." There was applause when Senator Bailey presented an aged negro James H. Jones, who had served as Mr. Davis' body guard. "He is the only man living," said Senator Bailey, "who knows where the seal of the Confederate States is, and he won't tell." Many shook hands with the old negro, who had Jefferson Davis' name with him. Attention K. of P. No. 8. The regular meeting K. of P. will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Blades Building, Middle street. Every member is earnestly requested to be present as there will be election of officers and arranging of program for memorial service Sunday, June 11th. E. H. HARDISON, C. C.

Thanks to Firemen.

I wish to express my appreciation to the firemen and citizens of New Bern for their efforts to save my property at the fire last Friday night on South Front and Middle streets. J. B. BLADES.

Nagged Him Asleep Then Biffed His Nose.

Chicago, June 6.—Mrs. Elinor F. Hanks has a mean disposition, according to her husband, Edmund L. Hanks, who asks a divorce. It was hard enough for her to be compelled to step lively several times a week to escape being carved with a bread knife, his complaint sets forth, but when Mrs. Hanks swatted him on the nose in his sleep and blacked both his eyes he decided he couldn't stand married life any longer. "She nagged me until I dropped to sleep from sheer exhaustion," Hanks says in his complaint. "Then she propped me up in a sitting posture, took careful aim, and biffed me in the nose. I got two black eyes." Hanks further alleges that on one occasion he got a policeman to spend the night in the house, so he could sit without fear that his wife would kill him with her favorite carving knife.
