In the Beginning it was said that in the Sweat of the Brow They should eat their Bread.

Wherefore ever has Man · labored to procure Bread Material, and Woman to Produce Bread therefrom.

Now in the Days of Plenty there rose up Inventors and Mechanics, and the same instructed Men how that they should prepare their Material with less Labor, and the Men followed after their Instruction, so that their Work was lessened.

And behold they were reatly pleased therewith. But the Women of the Land were worth. "Verily" said they, "are we to share none in Progress? As yet we continue making bread with all the Labor and Uncertainty of yore, even as our Grandmothers before us were wont to do."

Whereupon did many and wise Men move themselves for to devise Means whereby Labor and Uncertainty might peradventure be cast out of Baking.

And when the Result of their Effort was seen, then were the Women of the Land exceeding glad, for it was even as they list

Darkness Breaks Up Game After The Single Men Had Gained Lead

In Ninth.

Rain and darkness caused a complex situation in the game between the Married Men and Single Men in the City League series Saturday afternoon. It was a game in which the umpire was to be "cussed", no matter what the result may have been

However, the game was given to the Married Men, the score being 5 to 2, eight innings.

The game was called at five o'-clock. After the first half of the liam Cohen left this morning for Asheville, where they will spend the remainder of the summer. game was stopped for about twenty minutes by rain. It was then seen that even an unusually fast game of nine innings would last until it was too dark to play ball, but there was no agreement between the two teams to make the game shorter. It was Agnes Foy, and sons, Paton and the Married Men's game all the way Lewis, left this morning for Vandeso dark that it was really dangerous to play longer. In this inning the umpire, unable to see the ball, he with heavy hitting and numerous errors the Single Men scored six runs, making the score 8 to 5 in favor of the Single Men-had the game been fnished. The climax came in the last half of the ninth when, after two Married Men had been put out, Pitcher McSorley hit batsman Casey Seifert, giving him his base. At this stage of the game Umpire Daniels called the game on account of dark-ness, announcing that he could not see the ball in play. This decision on the part of the umpire gave the game to the Married Men, 5 to 2, the rules saying that each team must have even innings for a legal game, thus making Saturday's game eight innings.

It was seen that the umpire was who left on the morning train for slated for a "cussing," as it would Morehead City is young Kent Ban- have been unjust for the Married ner, a boy about fourteen or fifteen Men to have lost that game by finishing in the dark, as they had outplayed the Singles throughout the game, making ten hits, five runs and only two errors up to the ninth inning, while only three hits, two runs n a bicycle. He had an excellent trip, he said, Single Men. McSorley struck out

> Anyway the situation became so tense that Manager Patterson, of the Single Men's team sent in his resignation with the franchise of the team to President Daniels, and a number of the players have declared they will play no more. A meeting of the directors of the City League will be held tonight to elect a new manager for the Single Men and a reorganization of the team may take

This situation, however, does not mean that the City League is in danger of disbanding. The schedule could be changed and the remainder of the season finished with three teams, the Married Men, the Railroaders, and the Ghent Athletic Association. The rivalry between the teams is
