

Poor deluded Chanticleer thought that each morn his Crow brought forth THE RISING SUN.

But we all know that he was wrong.

For at the beginning of every day ten thousand cooks bring forth THE RISING SUN;

And the many thousand hungry breakfasters rejoice

That THE RED MILL has given to them a Flour that helps as much to brighten the new day as its name-sake.

THIS CRAB HAD FIVE "FINGERS"

Freak Caught by Mr. A. B. Paris This Morning—To Be Preserved

Did you ever catch a crab with five "fingers" on one "hand?" This was the fortune of Mr. A. B. Paris, who works for the East Carolina Lumber Co. He was crab fishing this morning. Instead of the usual pair of snappers to be found on the end of a claw, forceps-like, this crab had five distinct projections on the end of one claw, giving him at least two pair of forceps on one "hand." Mr. Paris is certain that both sets were in good working order for his crabship got in some effective work with them as he was being lifted out of the net.

There may be a species of crab to whom such a number of finger-like appendages is normal, but if so Mr. Paris has never encountered it before in all his crabbing experience, and neither have other local crabbers.

In order to prove that he hadn't simply been seeing two or three objects where there really was but one and further to substantiate the supposition that reliable reports can come from Paris even during the war, the fisherman brought the crab's whole "leg"—or rather "arm"—down to The Sun office. He says he will preserve it in alcohol. Most similar monstrosities are simply conceived in alcohol instead of preserved by it—the distinction between illusion and reality.

The local scientific authorities who viewed the phenomenon this morning are satisfied that here they have important evidence in support of the Darwinian theory of evolution. It has long been supposed that when life originated upon the earth it must have done so in the sea. Now, this crab had five "fingers" just like a man. Talk about your missing link! The case is proved, and the evolution of those crabbed old gentlemen we hear talking hard times is plainly traced.

RAILROADERS WON SATURDAY'S GAME

Defeated Picked Team By The Score of 5 to 1—A Good Game.

The 1914 baseball season in New Bern has closed. The Railroaders won the pennant in the City League, and won an additional honor Saturday by defeating a picked team from the other three teams in the league. It was a good game, with most of the feature plays being pulled off by the Railroaders. The big feature was Sparrow's work in left field for the Railroaders. Another notable feature was Harker's batting, making three hits. Spencer's work in the box was great, allowing only four hits and striking out nine. Freymoyer pitched good ball but was banged for ten hits.

Following is the game, tabulated:

CATHOLIC SCHOOL OPENS OCTOBER 1

Will Have Kindergarten For Children From Four To Six Years.

The opening of St. Paul's Academy has been fixed for October 1. For several days the Sisters of Mercy who are to conduct it have been in the city preparing for the opening.

The school was founded a year ago, and last spring completed a remarkably successful year. Since then arrangements have been made still further to broaden out the courses of study offered.

Perhaps the most important new feature is the kindergarten for children from four to six years of age. This will be the only kindergarten in New Bern, and will be conducted along the lines of the latest educational advances in the teaching of small children. This department will be presided over by a graduate of the Southern Academic Institute of New Orleans.

Pupils of every shade of religious feeling will be welcomed, and it is expected that many parents will desire in planning the education of their children to secure for them that discipline and thoroughness which characterizes the schools conducted by the Catholic Sisters. The aim of the institution is to form its pupils into cultivated and refined men and women.

As was the case last year, the music and art departments will receive most careful attention.

Mrs. Jones dropped her glasses and broke one of the lens. She never knew there was a manufacturing establishment of the kind in New Bern and had them sent away, her eyes in the meantime suffering greatly without them.

She has now found out that DR. J. O. BAXTER grinds difficult glasses in an hour or so; also examines and tests the eyes without any blinding drugs.

SUCCESSFUL MEN

EDWARD HARRIMAN

It has been said that the secret of Harriman's great success, was in his ability to borrow money but his ability to borrow money was due to his wise use of it. He proved to money lenders that he knew how to use it to make more money, and without an exception who ever went into deals with Harriman and stayed with him did make money.

The son of a clergyman whose income was scarcely over $200.00 a year, and part of that in notes, young Harriman was compelled to strike out for himself at the age of fourteen with a meager education; but with a great ambition to earn enough money to enable him to enter West Point and become a great soldier. As a broker's clerk, as a broker himself at the age of twenty-two with a seat in the New York Stock Exchange which cost him $20,000, he still retained the desire to become a great soldier. But when he embarked upon his railroad career, he found an ample outlet for his fighting spirit and some of the battles he had with such men as Fish, Hill, Gould, Morgan, and the Vanderbilts ought to satisfy the most ambitious seeker of conquest.

He died in 1909 worth anywhere from two hundred to five hundred million dollars, all gained as a result of his financial victories.

The Ability To "Make Good"

This was the secret of Mr. Harriman's success and one of the best securities a man can offer.

IT IS A STRONG FACTOR

LAYING TRACK TO FAIR GROUNDS NOW

Work To Be Completed First Part of October, According to Contractor.

This morning was a morning replete with significance for the Eastern Carolina Fair Association. The work of laying the track from the site where the West Lumber and Box Co. plant formerly stood to the fair grounds was begun today.

Mr. Herman Bell, the contractor, is confident that the entire length of track, solving the fair transportation problem, will be completed the first part of October. The grade across Jack Smith's creek, he says, will be finished by Wednesday.

UNSETTLED WEATHER THE WEEK'S FORECAST

Washington, Sept. 14.—Unsettled weather with showers in the great central valleys, extending by Tuesday in the eastern and southern states, was forecast by the weather bureau last night for the first part of this week.

"Temperatures will average near the seasonal average in the southern states," said the bulletin, "and below normal elsewhere with frosts probably along the northern border and in the northwestern states and the Rocky mountains and plateau regions."

CARNIVAL HERE ALL THIS WEEK

Past Week Said to Have Been Profitable One in Spite of Bad Weather.

The Liberty shows that have been showing here all last week under the auspices of the firemen will stay another week, as the past week has been a very profitable one for both the carnival and the fire companies.

The patronage extended to the many shows and the concessions last week was extra large, and it was deserving as all the attractions have proven to be clean and worthy. And there has not been a single word of complaint made in regard to any of the shows or any one connected with the Liberty company. The fire boys that are handling the affair are being well paid for their trouble, as they receive a liberal per cent of all money taken in on all the attractions. Yesterday afternoon the carnival band gave a concert at Ghent Park and there good music was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd. This is one of the best bands ever here with a carnival and it is receiving many praises.
