Hats, Boots and Shoes,

OF EVERY STYLE AND PRICE.

Bonnets, Groceries, Hardware, Crockery, Paints, Oils, &c., &c., and in fact, almost every article usually called for in a retail Store.

They invite the community to call and examine their stock before they purchase, feeling confident it will be to their advantage to do so. They take pleasure in exhibiting their Goods—do not grumble if they don't purchase after examining them.

They will give the highest Market prices for produce, and sell as low as any other establishment in the place for CASH, or good responsible CREDIT.

GREGORY & GRISWOLD.

Goldsboro', April 24, 1851. 1 tf

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Goldsboro', and also of Wayne County, that he has just returned from the Northern Cities, and is now daily receiving a large and well selected stock of including a variety of qualities, and of every shade and color.

His Clothe, Cassimeres and Vestings, are of such superior qualities, as cannot fail to please the purchaser. His linens and fancy goods cannot be surpassed for quality and price.

In his selection of fashionable wares he has not forgotten the Ladies. They will find, on examination, that he knows how to suit their notions of comfort as well as of taste. And he respectfully solicits them to give him an opportunity of showing them some of the finest goods and richest patterns in Market. If they do not buy he will charge them nothing.

He has also on hand a large lot of made Clothing, adapted to every size, and made up in a variety of styles. The purchasers of these goods cannot fail to please.

He has also on hand, a rich and brilliant stock of consisting in part of Gold and Silver Watches, Gold Pencils, and Pens, Silver Pencils, Finger Rings, Ear Rings, Gold Chains, &c. &c., all of which he will sell as cheap as they can be bought any where in the State.

He will take the earliest opportunity of giving his former friends and customers at their own houses, where they can examine for themselves.

His new Store East of town and contiguous to the dwellings of Messrs. Edmundson and Fields, is now open where he invites his friends and customers, to call and examine his goods.

☞ All kinds of Country produce taken in exchange. F. ODENHIMER.

Goldsboro', April 24, 1851. 1 tf.

RICH JEWELRY.

THE subscriber, after a residence of over three years in Wayne county, during which time he has visited all the county towns of the adjoining Counties, hopes that he has earned a reputation which will recommend him, in future, to the confidence of all honest confiding men with whom he has transacted business.

He has now returned from the Northern Markets, and offers to the public a rich and valuable stock of Jewelry of every description in common use, viz: Gold and Silver watches, gold and silver pencils, gold pens, watch chains, seals and keys of Superior quality and finish. Breast pins, finger and ear rings, bracelets, lockets, cuff-pins, gold and silver thimbles, a very superior article; also silver combs and Ladies pocket books, gold buckles and slides.

In addition to the above, he keeps on hand a very superior article of pocket knives, pen knives and razors, also silver butter knives, and a full assortment of spectacles, steel, silver and gold frames.

He invites particular attention to his diamond rings and breast pins, an article which is seldom found with inland traders.

He has a handsome assortment of pocket books, port monies and cigar cases.

As the subscriber will continue to visit the Courts of Johnson, Wayne, Greene, Lenoir and Sampson, where he will always have on hand a full supply of the articles above enumerated, together with all the articles usually kept by the most extensive Jewellers, he appeals to the citizens of those Counties for that generous patronage which a Southern citizen may freely claim of the trading public. WAYNE HOTEL.

GOLDSBORO', N. C.

THE Subscriber takes this method of returning his sincere thanks to the public, for the liberal patronage he has received during the past year.

When he first undertook the enterprise of opening the Wayne Hotel, he felt more than ordinary solicitude, lest his efforts to please the travelling community might fail, and himself be visited with loss and disappointment. He is happy to say, however, that all his expectations have been more than realized, and he now feels encouraged to renew his exertions, and to double his diligence.

His House is situated on West Centre Street, immediately on the Rail Road, about 100 yards South of Mrs. Borden's Hotel, and is one of the most Central and pleasant localities in Town; and sufficiently convenient for travellers on the Cars, to give him a call without any risk of being left.

His table will at all times be supplied with the best the markets and surrounding country will afford, and active and obliging servants will always be in readiness to wait upon his customers.

Snacks to suit the taste and pocket may be had at any hour, from 6 o'clock in the morning, till ten at night. Horses carefully attended to.

HOOSIER CUSTOM.

The Picayune gives a queer account of an uncouth looking Hoosier, who went into an ironmonger's store in Charles street, while, loafing on somewhat a low key, "Yankee Doodle," and considering us indebendent as an eagle in his eyrie.

He threw his eye down the well arranged store, as a captain of militia would look along the lines of a training day, and then addressed the clerk with the well combed hair, who stood impatient to know what the Hoosier wanted, that he might at once supply him and return to the perusal of James' last novel.

'Stranger, you go it rayther extensive here, in the saw, hatchet and etcetera business.'

'Rather,' said the clerk, assuming a bland tone, but wishing the Hoosier on board of his fast boat; 'can I do anything for you, sir?'

'Well, I guess you can, young feller,' said the Hoosier, 'you seem to be a right kind of a nice man. Why, your hair is just as greasy and as glossy as if you eat cotton, but taste meat, you raccoon looking critter you. Why on earth don't you make clearing on your chin? (the clerk wore an imperial)—Out west we never leave a stump standing that we don't cut down.'

'Sir,' said the clerk, peevishly, 'do you wish to buy anything?'

'Hain't you got locks?' said the Hoosier, perfectly composed.

'Yes,' said the clerk, 'we have locks of every description, padlocks, springlocks, and double shooting locks.'

'Yes, stranger,' said the Hoosier, 'but I do all my shooting with a rifle. I don't want none of them locks. I want a lockjaw. For I've tried every means to stop my old woman's tongue, and I b'lieve nothing else will silence her.'

'Don't deal in the article,' said the clerk, gruffly returning to read the "Ancient Regime."

'And darn you, couldn't you say so at first,' replied the Hoosier, 'you half-feathered, half-starved looking prairie chicken.'

MARCH OF INTELLECT.—Extract of a letter from a newly married lady, who had finished her education at a fashionable boarding school. It was written to an old school mate:

"I was married ten weeks ago. Me and my dear husband has moved into the country, two miles from an Lous. We have no market to go to, but have to buy in our provision by the barl. My furnichere is much finer than most of my nabors. My husband and me agrees very well—as yet we have had no quarrel, and in most things he thinks as I do. I allow I done well in marring, for we are muchually happy. Him and me could live forever, together, and neither give the other a misbeholden word, ect.

"P. S.—I have not looked behind since my wedding day. My husband is the whole world to me. If I can please him, nothing else shall trouble me.

"What times we used to have at Mrs. K's boarding school! Such labor as studying Latin, and logic, and algebry, and music! I never could see the use of it.

"I edvice you to get out of your single blessedness as soon as you can. How frightful old maids is! Write me as the first opportunity."

"Dear me," said a little girl, when requested by her mother, as a test of her benevolence, to give the five dollars a coveted new comb would cost, to a poor relation—"Dear me, being good is very expensive!" Men and women often think what children speak.

LOOK AT THIS!

THE subscriber returns his thanks to the citizens of Wayne and the adjoining Counties, for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon him since he has been a citizen of Goldsboro'.

A long period of over eleven years residence in Wayne county, has enabled his fellow citizens to form a correct opinion of his claims to that patronage which he has studied to merit, and hopes to receive at their hands.

He continues to carry on the Tailoring business in all its Departments at his old stand, on East Centre Street, next door to Odd Fellows' Hall.

He has in his employment some of as good workmen as the country affords, and from his long experience in, and diligent attention to his profession, as a science, he flatters himself that all work entrusted to his care, can be cut and made in a style inferior to none in the country.

Persons from the country wishing to have clothes cut by him, will receive prompt attention at reasonable prices.

He respectfully solicits the continued patronage of his old customers, and hopes by diligent attention to business, to secure that of new ones.
