Fat Sometimes Helps Speaking in a paper on the subject of the various diet cures for fatness, the eminent authority, Dr. Andrew Wilson, says: "Doubtless starches and sugars, represented in such vegetable foods as bread, rice, taploca and the like, are fat formers. The living body has a power of making fat out of that which is not fat. And along with this point is another-that fat itself does not go directly at least, to make fat in the body. Fat is, on the other hand, a valuable addition to the diet of a corsulent person, because it has a power properly administered of burning off food excess. In more than one system of body reduction fat is, therefore, administered as an essential part and parcel of the diet cure."

A DERVISH MIMIC.

Wonderful Piece of Pantamine and Among the men who now leaped of the rallway trucks and burried off to dervish worthy of mention, says the London Times. This was Sound, the Soudanese jester of the camp, who can always raise a roar of laughter in th working gangs, and is of destinct ice, keeping up the men's apdoes, by clever mimicry tricks. A bugler in Hicks Pafated army, he was captured camp at Omdurman.
