LOCAL GLEANINGS.

Items of More or Less Importance Painted Briefly for Record Readers.

W. M. James is visiting in town. Don't forget the concert Monday night. Will Neal and W. P. Blanton spent the night at Asheville. The schedule of the R. & D. will be changed next week. Miss Mattie Burgin is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Morris. Col. O. H. Blocker, of Old Fort, was in the city Wednesday. Mr. Tom Sandlin and son, of Old Fort, were here on the 4th. Tom Dale of the Raccoon staff was visiting in Burke last week. Miss Mattie Buse, of Gastonia, is visiting at Rev. T. J. Rogers. Several communications were this week crowded out for lack of space. See the letter in another column to the public of D. N. Lonon & Bro. Samuel L. Adams, a representative of the Charlotte Observer, was in town yesterday. The Mayor's court is doing a big business this week. The coffee pot will boil over again. It is all quiet along the Potomac at present. The organ men have left and peace reigns. If you never saw a ghost, go to the ghost party to-night at the Kanipe house on Garden street. Rev. Curtis has a fact at doing anything if you don't believe it try his soda water at the drug store. The concert Monday night by the M. I. C. of Old Fort, is for a worthy cause and every one should give their support. Little Arthur Frazier, son of Capt. E. A. Frazier, says he went fishing last week with the liveliest crowd he ever had the pleasure of meeting. On last evening Dr. and Mrs. Landrum, entertained a party of their friends in a most delightful manner at their home on Garden street. A quantity of new fashion potato bugs arrived in this vicinity last week, and report the potato crop generally good along their line of march. I stood on the bridge at midnight, As hot as a hornet's nest, I could hardly wait for the fight, And everybody knows the rest. Mrs. C. E. Grilling, a former prominent resident of Marion, arrived here Monday from Washington City. She was met here by Mr. Grilling, and they left Tuesday for Spruce Pine. D. N. Lonon and wife returned from their bridal tour to the northern cities last Saturday. They took in all the sights at Washington and Baltimore. Mr. Lonon bought a large stock of goods while north and is now opening them up for sale at Streetman's old stand. News reached Marion Monday of the sudden death of Mr. S. H. Wiley, a prominent business man of Salisbury. His two sons were in Mitchell, and a messenger conveyed the news to them from this place. They reached Marion about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and took a freight train for Salisbury. Marion Lodge No. 471 O. O. F. at their regular meeting Monday night installed the following elective officers, which had been elected for the ensuing term: Geo. E. Lee, N. G.; W. E. Landis, V. G.; J. G. Nichols, Treasurer; Wm. Sweeney, Secretary. The lodge is in a flourishing condition, and Odd Fellowship is growing rapidly throughout North Carolina. The Mutual Improvement Club, of Old Fort, will give a concert in the Court House Monday night July 9th, for the benefit of the Vance Monument Fund. This will be a repetition of the concert given by them in Old Fort, sometime ago and is well worth seeing. The concert will be well worth the price of admission and is a worthy cause. Let us give them a crowded house. Every one should go. Admission 10 and 15 cents. We have been requested to comment upon the bad conduct of the Marion boys, and to write an essay on "how to raise boys." As we have never raised any, and have seen but few successfully or profitably reared, we decline the task. We would also add that if parents are willing to sit quietly and see their boys go to the devil, it is none of our business. Idleness is the devil's workshop, and the boy, like the mule, needs plenty of work. We will say that it would perhaps be a good idea for the aldermen to pass an ordinance requiring the town marshal to put the boys all in bed at 10 o'clock p. m. An ordinance forbidding any person under 21 years of age to go on the streets after that hour, unless a legitimate reason be given, would be a good one. Best Banjo and Guitar String at Swine's.

On Saturday morning June 30th H. Clay Sisk shot and killed Berry Lane son of Lafayette Lane, near Brindletown, in Burke. From the meagre reports obtainable it seems that Lane had whipped Sisk that morning early, and was about to repeat the performance. Lafayette Lane, father of the deceased is a good citizen and his friends sympathize with him in his trouble. We learn that Sisk went home after the killing and up to the present time we have not heard that he has been arrested. Do not think that because the Raccoon is serenaded every day and night, and all the time, by cow-bells around our windows, that it is because of our popularity that we love music. Neither should you think that because we lay awake all night and listen to the cow-bells, we are especially fond of music. It is not this, but we listen to it because we cannot sleep, and we now desire, in behalf of a non-music-loving town, to enter a protest against the wearing of bells by cows in town. We condemn it as one of the evils of the day, and a terror of night. We appeal to the board of aldermen in the name of a peace-loving and long-suffering community to unbell the bell-cow, and let her go in the even tenor of her way, seeking a weak place in her neighbor's garden fence, or outside grass while it may be found. Let her climb into the wagon of the countryman and steal his last bundle of fodder, eat the cabbage that the shop-keeper hangs out for a sign, chew the light summer coat which hangs before the store door as a sample, eat the gardens, hook the children, ornament and beautify the sidewalk, but in the name of peace, health and chaste language, dispossess her of the privilege of wearing musical instruments which never cease to play, and never change the key or tune.

4th July Picnic.

The glorious Fourth was celebrated by the people of Marion with a grand picnic at Buck Creek Falls. About 75 or 80 people repaired to that lovely and romantic spot to enjoy themselves. Everyone, big and little, were in the best humor, and some in the water, pleasure and jollity reigned supreme. Estates were abundant and of the best. Quite an array of good things were presented to the view of the hungry assembly, and every one's appetite was satisfied and there were taken up several baskets full of provisions that were left. We are not certain that any were left when the party arrived home. The party arrived home about 7 o'clock and all wet, dusty and tired. It was the general sentiment of the crowd, that all enjoyed themselves hugely. In addition to our own charming young ladies, the company was enlivened by the presence of several young ladies visiting in Marion, viz: Misses Julian, Mott, Burgin, Carter, Hudgins, Sellers, Wiseman and Shodge. The crowd all heartily join us in expressing their appreciation of the effort of Rev. T. J. Rogers in arranging the picnic.

A Ghost Party.

A novel entertainment will be given at the Kanipe house, on Garden street, Friday night July 6th, at 8:30 o'clock. Special communications may be had with a real ghost. Owing to the high reputation and genial manners of this ghost, the young ladies of the Presbyterian church, have begged its presence in Marion. Its ghost-ship craves audience with all, and extends a hearty invitation to each and every one for a quiet chat on ghost lore. An admission of 10 cents will be charged for a chat with the ghost, Lee Cream, Sherbet and Cake, will be served on the lawn. All may expect to have a pleasant evening. When nights are dark, drear and still, Ghosts walk around with their own free will. They tell of dark deeds secretly done, And trouble the conscience of the wicked one. When clocks are striking the midnight hour Lights stream from windows of a haunted tower, And weird, shrill screams, you then do hear, And gruesome faces and hands appear The people all who will not obey, Are told of the ghost who will take them away; And on headless horses at midnight will roam, Never again to see their dear home.

Populists Meeting.

The populist party met in convention July 4th, pursuant to the call of county Chairman, A. J. Dula. There were six populist party men present, who sat inside the court house bar, 8 or 10 Democrats and one Republican sat outside the bar as spectators. The convention was called to order; and a motion made that Rev. J. C. Brown be elected chairman carried, ayes 6, noes 0. Mr. Brown took the chair and made a few preliminary remarks. It was moved that A. J. Dula act as secretary of the convention, motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. M. G. Pendergrass moved to admit all populists present to seats in the convention, motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. The 6 faithful sat still but no recruits joined them. A. J. Dula moved that an executive committee be selected to serve the ensuing two years, motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. Committee was then named. At this point Rev. J. C. Brown invited all persons present who expected to vote the populist ticket to come forward and participate in the meeting. No response. The faithful 6 sat still. He also invited the reporters to come close up so they could hear everything and report it correctly. It was moved that the present chairman until new committee meets and organizes, carried, ayes 6, noes 0. The chair stated that next in order was the election of delegates to state convention. M. G. Pendergrass moved that the chair appoint 3 delegates and 3 alternates to this convention, carried, ayes 6, noes 0. They were named and M. G. Pendergrass moved that the chair appoint 2 delegates and 1 alternate to the judicial convention, carried, ayes 6, noes 0. M. G. Pendergrass moved that the chair appoint 3 delegates and 3 alternates to the congressional convention. Motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. It was moved that the chairman be added to the congressional delegation, carried, ayes 6, noes 0. It was then moved that the Sec. read the list of delegates named for the various conventions. Carried, ayes 6, noes 0. The list was read out. It was then moved that Asheville be designated as the choice of this convention as the place for holding the congressional convention, carried, ayes 6, noes 0. Campbell we consisting of A. J. Dula and M. G. Pendergrass was appointed and in a few minutes reported a string of resolutions beginning "we the people" as usual with such gatherings. M. G. Pendergrass asked Chairman Brown to speak to the resolutions which he had for a long, long time. After Chairman Brown had read sufficiently to satisfy the noble 6 that they would one day eat official pie from a populist pie counter, it was moved that the resolutions be adopted. Motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. It was next moved that the resolutions be published in the CAROLINIAN and MARION RECORD, motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0. It was next moved to adjourn, motion carried, ayes 6, noes 0 and the convention adjourned.

How to Advertise a Town.

There are many ways to advertise your town. We submit the following, after reviewing the past and contemplating the present conditions. When you see a stranger within the gates of the city, seek his acquaintance, and if you learn that he is prospecting with a view of locating here, with his wife and children, tell him about all the sickness of the community first, curse the schools out, and slander your neighbors. If you find he wants to buy land tell him the late boom and land agents killed the town. Don't forget to mention that the title to the piece he wants is inferior. If it be a farm of 200 acres with a good thousand dollar house on it, be sure and tell him that the whole thing isn't worth $500. If he inquires about the churches, be sure and tell him not to attend, that big organs are flying through the air, and one might strike him. If he is a secret society man, and inquires about the Masons, tell him we have plenty of brick masons but their chimneys all smoke, and he had better not build here. If he asks about public enterprises, don't mention anything else, but tell him there are 40 distilleries in the county, for in this way you will create a good impression on him. If he speaks of starting a cotton or woollen factory tell him our cotton all turns to corks, and our sheep are all born naked and wool won't even grow on a "nigger's" head. Finally, if he still persists in locating, get your gun and sneak about in the dark, just after he has retired, and shoot a couple of times through a window near his room at some one you hold a grudge against. If this fails to impress him favorably with the town get all of the nicest boys and well-to-do young men you can find and get right in front of his window and fire off 1,000 horse-power dynamite cartridges till daylight and then run up to his room and ask him if he heard the shooting? If all this does not make a good impression wait till he starts down main street for a drive and get all the highly-refined and well-raised boys and young men in town to sit along the sidewalk and holler "Oh, say, or-shi, O-say!" at him as he passes, and if any of these smart boys are your sons, laugh and clap your hands as the stranger looks around to witness an array of highly-cultured, two-legged jackasses.

Bob McCall Wins.

Hon. J. S. McCall was nominated on yesterday for Solicitor of the 12th Judicial District by Republican Convention at Waynesville, so states a telegram received by the Record, from Hon. J. C. Pritchard. Mr. McCall is a native, and for years a resident of this county. He was one of the most popular and successful lawyers at this bar and is a bright and energetic man, and an able lawyer. We don't like his politics, but we do like the man and are confident that the Republicans have made a wise choice, but of course Democracy will win, and we hate to see our friend McCall defeated.
