Lecture by a Native Chinaman.

Mr. George Bell, a native Chinaman, ectured, as announced, to a large audience at the Methodist church Thursday night. Bell has been in this country three years. He was converted to Christianity in China and is now! studving for the ministry at Emery College, Ga. When he finishes his course he will return to China and labor among his people, manners and dress are American. He talked about 50 minutes; has a very good command of the English language and could be easily understood. The main points in his address were an explanation of the Chinese government, the Chinese religion; the social divisions, habits and customs of the people. He took occasion to deny emphatically that the Chinese eat rats. The origin of this story, he said, was in the fact He returned Tuesday from a that the Chinese manufacture a supe-Tip to Caldwell and other rior kind of rat poison; and the picture you see in the geographies of a Chinaman carrying a pole on his shoulder and a lot of rats hanging to it by their tails, does not mean that the Cl inaman is offering rats for sale; they are only an advertisement of or a trade mark for his rat poison. In the course of his remarks on Chinese customs he exhibited a costume for a 9-year-old boy and a queue which he had grown himself but which he cut off when he embraced Christianity. Touching the matter of Chinese ladies' feet he compared the binding of ladies' feet in' China with the binding of ladies

Death of Mr. S. L. Dysart.

Just before going to press to-day, he sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Sam I., Dysart reaches our ears. He died at the home of his father, Mr. J. S. Dysart, last night about 8 o'clock after a sickness of about three weeks.

"In the midst of life we are in death." Who that saw young Mr. Dysart a few weeks ago in the full vigor of young manhood would have thought that he would to-day be lying lifeless, motionless, clasped in the cold arms that never

Death rides on every passing breeze, And lurks in every flower;

Each season has its own disease, Its peril every hour."

It was just a year ago on the very day of Mr. Dysart's death that a sudden gloom was thrown over Marion by the tragic death of Mr. Walter Gentry. It is strange, and we have often wondered why it is so, but our observation warrants the assertion, that there is a greater mortality among the young men between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five than among persons of any other class.

But death must, sooner or later, come to us all. It is a heritage entailed upon every member of Adam's family. the "female line" as well as the "mule line;" it is an estate that no man can sell or dispose of by any deed or conveyance known to human laws. Death reigns king over all things living, and subsists on the lives of his subjects, Whenever there is no life there will be no death. Death carries the keys to every bome, and can enter in the early morning, at noon or at the dark hour

But how strange? We cling to life ever. We pursue the fleeting pleasures of life as the ignorant child pursues the gaudy-winged butterfly; even while we chase them they evade our grasp, flit from us and are gone forever. The pleasures of this life

"are like poppies spread You grasp the bloom, the flower is

Or like the snowflake in the river; A moment white then melts forever." Men think of life, and talk of life, and prepare for life as if to live were all of life. Even on the Sabbath, the day hallowed by God himself, and set apart as a day of rest from all the toil and care of temporal life, men get together and spend the whole day talking politics or discussing the mean ways of a certain neighbor, but never a word is spoken about death and the hereaf

BIG PROFITS SMALL INVESTMENTS.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock. or EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a we'l-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading. Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit
