

Meeting of the Citizens of Marion in the Interest of the Marion, Linville Falls, and Cranberry Turnpike Road.

As was announced in last week's Record, a meeting of the citizens of Marion was held in the court house on Thursday evening, Nov. 14th, for the purpose of discussing the practicability of constructing a turnpike road from Marion to Cranberry, by way of Linville Falls, and of estimating the value of such road when completed.

Mr. B. B. Price, being called to the chair, stated the object of the meeting.

Speeches in favor of the road, were made by Messrs. Dugger, Newland, Dr. Morphew and W. F. Craig.

Mr. Dugger said that the road is a necessity, that it is the most direct and shortest route to the summer resorts, and that, when it is completed, the toll paid by persons travelling over the road would soon pay for the cost of building it.

Mr. Newland said the road would be a great benefit. If it were completed, said he, over the roughest four miles by the Winding Stairs at the head of North Catawba, a road from the point of intersection with this road at Arma roog to Bakersville would then be assured.

Marion is the natural trading point for the rich country up and down the Linville Valley, and the proposed road would be most direct route to that country. If we do not take advantage of the present opportunity, Morganton will build a road and intercept the trade that ought to come to Marion.

Dr. Morphew expressed great regret at seeing so few citizens out at the meeting. The construction of the road, he thought, is a matter of vital importance by the merchants of Marion, yet there was not a merchant present.

McDowell county, he said, is worse off for roads than any county he was ever in. He said that when a person has once driven over the excellent turnpikes of Caldwell and Watauga, he will ever afterward be in favor of good roads.

Mr. Craig thinks three roads are needed—one leading by North Cove, one by Spruce Pine, and the other up Buck Creek.

It has been wisely said that "good dirt roads are the measure of civilization," if so we are savages. One good dirt road would be worth more to McDowell than a half a dozen railroads.

Messrs. B. B. Price, J. C. Brown, and Dr. Morphew were appointed as a committee to assist Mr. Dugger in soliciting subscriptions to the road. We have not learned what amount was raised.

All we have to say is that the enterprise ought to meet the hearty support of every public spirited citizen in the county. The road ought to be built.

A Sad Affair.

The sheriff of Yadkin county passed through last night with two white women, one named Belle Holdbrooks, about 40 years of age, who was given twelve months and the other, Mary Bates, aged 18, was given six months. The two were tied together with ropes and looked very sad.

The charge brought against them was for stealing about ten cents worth of bacon. But they broke in a house to get it, which is a penitentiary offence.

We understand the women were very hungry and had only three cents worth of cakes given them for their supper. A gentleman realizing their need gave them a good, square meal, which they seemed to enjoy. This is brutal, even a convict should be fed properly.—Greensboro Record.

If they had been high government officials or cashiers of banks, and had stolen 50,000 each, they would have been fed and feasted on the fat of the land, and would now be worshipped as martyred heroes whose names and reputations had been sacrificed on the altar of human liberty.

The Asheville Citizen gets hot-ter and hotter. It now calls the schedule on the Western N. C. R. "that infernal schedule."

Haywood Hardware Factory at Waynesville was destroyed by an accidental fire last Monday. The Courier says the loss is $15,000.

We were glad to hear that the Railroad commission had taken the matter of delayed trains on the Southern Road under consideration. What is the use of a schedule if trains are not to be run by it.

The Rutherfordton Democrat says: Mr. W. J. Ford, of Big Island, lost his cotton gin and saw mill by fire few days ago. The fire was caused by a cartridge getting in the machinery and exploding.

Newton Enterprise: Five men with two queer colored wagons passed through Newton Wednesday. They were from Mitchell, Ohio, and will visit this section as Atlanta, spend the winter here, and return home next summer. They were making pictures of all noted scenery on their tour of travel.

The leather trust, which has already run the price of leather away up, has shut down one hundred tanneries it controls to reduce the stock of leather and have an excuse for another raise. A trust like that ought to have its hide tanned if there was any way of reaching it.—News and Observer.

The one-eyed Senator, of South Carolina is now making some very conservative speeches in the Constitutional Convention. He is urging the Convention to make the new constitution an enduring monument and is warning them against constructing a cheap, clap-net arrangement that could only meet the exigencies of the day.

The Record says a man passed Greensboro Thursday with his wife and several children in two large covered wagons, who came all the way from Colorado by private conveyance, a distance of 2,300 miles. He was heading for Wake county, near Raleigh, at which place he will locate. He had seven horses and all the crowd seemed to be in good condition.

Warning to Trespassers.—In Massachusetts the following legal notice was posted: "Any person who enters the grounds, or cows, or vines, will be liable to fine itself in a scrape."

And in Texas was the following: "Notis.—If any man's or woman's cows or oxen go on to this here lot his or her pile will be cut off as the case may be."—Gen. Digest.

Condemn no man for not thinking as you think! Let everyone enjoy the full and free liberty of thinking for himself. Let every man use his own judgment, since every man must give an account of himself to God. If you cannot persuade a man into the truth, never attempt to force him into it. If love will not compel him to come, leave him to God, the judge of all.—John Wesley.

A special from Grenada, Mex., dated November 10th, says: "A school building here in which 150 children were present, caught fire and before anything could be done, the whole building was ablaze and in spite of heroic efforts of the people the building was destroyed. Thirty-one charred bodies, including the teacher, have so far been taken. The fire is believed to be of incendiary origin.

Be Charged the Jury. A good story is told on a calamity justice of the peace somewhere in Kansas. A case was before his honor in which a young man was on trial for stealing a saddle. The time came for the county attorney to say: "Your honor, you will please charge the jury." After considerable hesitancy the Populist justice delivered the following charge: "Gentlemen, I know you are all hard-working and oppressed men. The iron heel of Shylock is grinding you down. I hate to do it, but at the command of the county attorney you know I must. I therefore charge you twenty-five cents apiece." The case was appealed to the district court.—Topeka Capital.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle at Morphew and White's Drug-store.

Discombs.

One singing, Boncombe, singing? With a vague and wild forest, And I would that I were lying In the thicket, rock-bound forest.

I am dreaming, Boncombe, dreaming Of the hills and valleys green, Whose heights and depths are gleaming With beauty's smiles and pain.

I am longing, Boncombe, longing For thy pure, tree mountain air, And a thousand melodies thronging Make me long to be there.

I am yearning, Boncombe, yearning For a glimpse of Pigeon's town, As he stands and takes the morning's Spite of "Richelieu" away from.

When the dying Boncombe, dying, After all his toil and sweat, Sees the glorious sunset, dying, May my weary feet find rest.

A Good Joke on a Magistrate. The Taylorsville, Alexander County, correspondent of the following joke on a magistrate of that county:

One fellow citizen, having lost a valuable article of personal property went before a certain magistrate and took out a search warrant. He placed the warrant into the hands of the proper officer, and diligent search was made but the property was not found. The citizen, being unwilling to give up the search, went before a second magistrate and swore out a second search warrant, and after due search had been made, the property was found locked up in the smoke house of the magistrate who issued the first warrant.

The reading of this story recalls to our mind a case that occurred about a year ago in a county east of here, concerning which we can vouch for the following statement:

A well-to-do merchant had, for about two years, been missing a certain article of merchandise from a box just behind the counter in the rear of his store, and was unable to account for the mysterious disappearance of the same. There lived about a mile from the store a highly respected and influential citizen, who was then and is now a justice of the peace. His visits to the above store were so frequent, that the merchant observed that the mysterious disappearance of the article above referred to occurred as regularly as the magistrate's visits, but he was never able to catch the "honorable dispenser of justice" in the act of stealing the goods, until, one day, he saw the magistrate coming one day, he concealed himself near by and saw him take the piece of goods and hide it in his pocket. When the magistrate saw that he had been overtaken in his evil course he confessed his guilt of a two-years' systematic roguery.

An Unfortunate Accident. Last Saturday Master Charles Hunter accidentally shot himself in the left fore arm while out hunting rabbits. It seems that the lad was dragging the gun which was heavily loaded when something caught the trigger, discharging the piece with the above effect. Dr. White removed one of the bones and although the wound is very painful it is thought that the lad may recover without having his hand amputated. Charlie is an orphan and has been living with his aunt Mrs. M. J. Jarrett.

Two Violent Deaths.

Morganton Special, 15th, to the Charlotte Observer. News reached here late this afternoon that Daniel Lester, a sawyer at a saw mill eight miles from here, in the edge of Goldsboro county, was killed by the saw today. Lester went down into the saw pit to repair the box that carries off the saw-logs, and forgetting for the moment that the saw, a circular, was running raised up suddenly and the saw split his skull clean to his neck. A circular saw running true makes no noise and this of course accounts for Lester not hearing it. He died in about an hour.

Another casualty happened five miles from here today at the Hicks place. A little girl five years old, daughter of Job Hicks climbed up on a stack of lumber pulling it down upon herself. A passerby saw the accident and ran to the rescue, but when the child was gotten out from under the pile of planks she was dead.

How To Fail. A story is told of a Liverpool merchant who lately went to his head clerk and said: "John I owe about 10,000 pounds, and all I possess is 4,000 pounds, which is locked up in the safe. I have been thinking that this is the right time to make an assignment, but what plausible pretext I can give to my creditors I know not. You have plenty of brains; think the matter over and let me have your decision in the morning." The clerk promised to do so. On entering the office the next morning the merchant found the safe open. The money gone and in its place a letter, which read as follows: "I have taken the 4,000 pounds and gone to South America. It is the best excuse you can give your creditors." Later on the honest merchant might be able to join his faithful clerk.

A Household Treasure. D. W. Fuller, of Campbell, N. How to Prevent Croup. SOME READING THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING TO YOUNG MOTHERS. HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THE DISEASE. Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Morphew & White, Druggists.
