THE SAME OLD THING.

At Tax Listing Time Every Year Property is Undervalued and a Part Kept Back.

Chatham Record.
Tax-listing time has come again, and once more, and probably forever, man's frail nature will yield to avarice when he lists his taxables.
This is the time of year when there is less wealth than at any other time, and when all kinds of property shrink in value. Men who sit in the "amen corner" and are counted as devout church members yield to their love of money and stretch their consciences when they list their taxables. Such men would indignantly denounce perjury and false swearing, and yet with the smile of innocence swear that their property is worth about half its true value!

When any such man is caught in his false swearing as to the value of his property he attempts to excuse himself by saying that he was only doing that which nearly everybody else does. Such men do not seem to have any compunctions of conscience whatever in thus trying to cheat the State and county out of just taxes by undervaluing their property. Of course it is to the interest of all men who list their property according to its true value to expose and punish such false swearing, because the burden of taxation is unequal and unjust when one man's property is assessed at its true value and another man's at half its value.

Suggestions are made continually as to the best way of putting an end to all this false swearing, but no successful way has yet been discovered. It is something that is talked about and written about every year, and still men keep on listing their property at valuations which they know are false. Not only that, but some men actually conceal much of their property and do not "give in" all that is liable to taxation.

Apply Now for Farmers' Institute.

Progressive Farmer.
We want every neighborhood in which there is a reader of The Progressive Farmer to make application at once for a farmers' institute this summer. One in each township would not be too many.
Of course, if each township applied for an institute some would not be able to get it, but there is no fear of that. There is no manner of doubt about its paying any community to hold a farmers' institute.
In the first place, it costs any particular locality nothing extra to have an institute. The State holds these institutes out of funds paid by you in the form of taxes, and if you do not get the benefit, some other section will. All that it need cost any section is some effort on the part of a few leading spirits to help advertise and arrange for the meeting; and it may be made worth hundreds of dollars to any farming section.

We appeal to every reader of this paper to take an interest in these institutes, and don't wait for others to act. Get to work yourself at once and stir up your neighbors to the point of asking for an institute this summer. If you cannot get others to act with you, make the start yourself. You need not fear the results. At the first institute the attendance may be small, but those who do attend will be benefited, and the next time there will be a larger attendance.

Write a letter at once to your State Director of Farmers' Institutes, or to the President of your Agricultural College, or the Director of your Agricultural Experiment Station, or your Commissioner of Agriculture, asking for an institute. It will find its way to the proper person who will see that you get the institute if your application is received in time.

MANNING APPOINTED JUDGE.

Raleigh, June 8.—Governor Kitchin, a little before noon, appointed James S. Manning, associate justice of the Supreme Court, to succeed Henry G. Connor, now Federal judge of this district. The appointment is an excellent one in every way and was expected by a great majority of people. Mr.
Manning is a fine lawyer and of very high standing. During the campaign last year he very admirably managed Governor Kitchin's campaign, with Durham, his home, as headquarters. Mr. Justice Manning was born in Chatham county, at Pittsboro, in 1859, and is a son of the late Congressman John Manning. He was prepared in Pittsboro under Dr. Sutton and at Mr.
A. H. Merritt's school for the University of North Carolina and graduated in 1879, taking the degree of A. B. He then studied at the University law school. He was nominated for Superior Court judge in 1896. For some years he was city attorney of Durham. He represented that county in the Legislature in 1907 and at the session of 1909 was Senator from the 19th district. He married in 1888, Miss Julia Tate Cain, and has six children.

Oil Inspectors Chosen.

The State board of Agriculture in session in Raleigh last week chose the following as the ten oil inspectors, one for each of the congressional districts, they to be paid by the day when on duty: George G. Stoddard, Washington, N. C.; John D. Battle, Tarboro; G. V.
Robinson, Beaufort; Jacob Thompson, Pittsboro; J. H. Watson, Graham; J. D. Austin, Maxton; S. S. Lockhart, Wadesboro; Martin A. Higgins, Eunice; E. B.
Jones, Hickory; R. E. Flack, Rutherfordton.

There were between 400 and 500 applicants.
The act, which becomes effective the first of July, requires that all kerosene or other illuminating oils sold or offered for sale in North Carolina shall be subject to inspection and test to determine its value for illuminating purposes. Those handling oils are to register with the Board of Agriculture, naming the oils they propose to handle, and samples of these oils are to be collected by the oil inspectors, the testing to be done by Dr. W. A.
Syme, the State oil chemist, so as to see that they are up to the standard required. The expenses are to be met by a charge of one half a cent a gallon on all illuminating oil brought into the State before its delivery to agents, dealers or consumers and the oil vessels shall be tagged. The surplus over expenses goes into the general fund of the State, there being severe penalties for the violation of the law in any way, and the board is preparing instructions for the observance of the law.

A Home for Superannuated Preachers.

Rev. W. M. Bagby, presiding elder of Mt. Airy district, M. E.
Church, South, has interested himself in a plan to provide homes for superannuated Methodist ministers who have been unable, by reason of serving weak charges with small salaries, to make provisions for the future.

It is stated that if the North Carolina Annual Conference, which meets this fall, approves Mr. Bag-by's idea, he will retire from active ministerial work and devote his whole time to the project. His purpose is to canvass this and other Conferences for funds and whenever practicable establish and furnish homes for aged and infirm ministers who have retired from the work.

Mr. Z. P. Smith, who has been elected editor and general manager of The Greensboro Daily News, which is to be the successor of The Daily Industrial News, announces that the new paper will make its appearance Sunday morning, July 18.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW

Board of Public Charities Writes Board of County Commissioners.

The State Board of Public Charities has sent a communication to each board of county commissioners calling their attention to certain State laws relating to prisoners and public health, by virtue of the supervisory and advisory power entrusted to the board over the whole system of charitable institutions, including those of the counties.

The laws quoted, with the enforcement of which the board ask the co-operation of the county commissioners, are as follows:

The law for the separation of the races in the camps, passed by the last Assembly; the law for the separation of the tuberculous from other prisoners; the statute for the construction of jails and the appointment of the Attorney General to the effect that proper constitution means solid partitions dividing the five apartments, thus providing for the separation of the races and sexes in the jails, and to section 4445 of the Revised, which makes the County Superintendent of Health not only the physician to be called in the county institution, but the sanitary inspector, and requires of him a monthly report to the county commissioners and to the State Board of Health.

Mining Interests Developed.

Squire J. A. Dula has secured the services of Mr. Bys, of Baltimore, to develop his mining interests in the Baker gold mine, near Lenoir. Mr. Bys began the work last week and he is finding, in abundance, gold, silver, copper, lead and asbestos. Mr. Bys has plenty of capital behind him, and it is gratifying to learn from Squire Dula that the work of developing the mine will be pushed vigorously.

1, and the blank applications for

Why farmers should keep a Bank Account

These bank deposit books afford them a complete record of their cash receipts, while the stubs of their check books are a perfect record of expenses and payments. Paying a laborer a check is much easier than with money, because you avoid the risk of handling the actual cash, and the endorsed check returned by the bank is the best kind of a receipt.
Farmers, try the experiment for one year of keeping a bank account and see if it does not pay you.
