Ten New Commandments.

A woman in Cairo, Ill., recently threatened to apply for a divorce. Her husband promised to be good. He signed the following ten commandments of his wife's making, and which were filed with a notary public:

I am thy love, thy wife; thou shalt have no other love but me. Thou shalt not take unto thy heart any stenographer, or any other love pirate.

Thou shalt not promise to love in vain. Remember, thou shalt come home on the Sabbath. Six days may thou wander, but not at nights; nor the seventh day, which is the day of thy wife.

Honor thy mother-in-law; that thy days may be long in the land of love.

Thou shalt not carry a latch key. Thou shalt not return to thy happy home at three o'clock in the morning. The doors will be bolted if thou dost.

Thou shalt not grumble at thy lot. Thou shalt not object to buttoning my gowns, nay, even if there be five hundred buttons.

Thou shalt not covet the sweet temper of thy neighbor's wife.

Mrs. Frederick L. Douglass, of Macon, Ga., recently attracted attention by the unusual features of a conjugal contract existing between her and her husband. She promised to live within her husband's allowance and not to want an automobile; she agreed to restrict her light reading to two novels a week; she gave her word to pursue serious study under her husband's direction; she consented not to gad and shop about every day in the week; not to play bridge more than three times in seven days; not to imitate actresses in attire or manner, and not to threaten to go home to mamma more than once a month.—Atpchison Globe.

Poor Father! Children hush! for father's resting; he is sitting tired and sore, with his feet upon the table and his hat upon the floor. He is wearied and exhausted by the labors of the day; he has talked about the tariff since the dawn was cold and gray; he has lost eight games of checkers, for his luck today was mean, and that luck was still against him when he bucked the slot machine; so his nerves are under tension, and his brow is dark with care, and the burdens laid upon him seem too great for him to bear. Stop the clock, for it annoys him; throttle the canary bird; take the baby to the cellar, where its howling won't be heard; you must speak in whispers, children, for your father's tired and sore, and he seems to think the ceiling is some kind of cuspidor. Oh, he's broken down and beaten by the long and busy day; he's been sitting in the feed-store on a bale of prairie hay, telling how the hungry grafters have the country by the throat, how the tariff on dried apples robs the poor man of his coat, how this nasty polar rumpus might be settled once for all—and his feet are on the table, and his back's against the wall; let him find his home a quiet and a heart-consoling rest, for the father's worn and weary, and his spirit longs for rest.

Tell Your Neighbors When in need of a cough medicine to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It is the best. Look for the bell on the bottle.

People, as a rule, hear better with the right than with left ear.

$100 Reward, $100 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
