HEEDY AND THE SHARPS.
King Gambler Taught the Small Fry a Lesson.
Some years ago, when St. Louis was open. Pat Sheedy, king of gamblers, was sitting in the corridor of the Planters' hotel with a friend. Two strangers took seats alongside of Sheedy and very shortly turned the conversation to poker hands. They had never seen Sheedy before and did not know who he was, but he looked the part of a professional "poker," and at the same time he looked like "easy money."
"That's too bad," one of the strangers said, "that we haven't another man like you here. We might get up a little game of poker."
"I couldn't mind sitting in myself," Sheedy, with a nudge to his friend, said, "I haven't played poker for some time."
"We suppose you play a little showdown for $5 limit?" one of the strangers asked.
"I'm agreeable," Sheedy replied, "and my friend is. Make it a five limit for an hour or two."
Productions under fictitious names followed, and the four sides followed, and the four went to Sheedy's suit. On the cut of the first deal the speaking stranger and the honor. The way he handled the cards showed that he was a card that careless abandon method that only come from years of experience by a professional gambler.
The suspicions of Sheedy and his friends were verified by the third hand. Sheedy received three kings and a small full house, the deal and a pair of tens and the deal full. The betting was very heavy on the part of Sheedy and his friend.
The next deal was Sheedy's. He long while arranging the cards, they were dealt every one in a row had four, Sheedy's hand, of being the highest. The betting was heavy and when the hands were dealt the speaking gambler suddenly uttered a long distance telephone call himself and friend was waiting. They departed hurriedly, at Sheedy, turning to his friend, "Boy, it's been twenty years I had to do that for a living!"—Louis Post-Dispatch.

A GREWSOME PRISON.
Famous and Terrible Russian Fortress of Schlusenburg.
In the middle of the river Neva, where it flows out of Lake Ladoga, lies a tiny island surrounded on the sides by the mighty, turbulent waters of the river and hemmed in on the fourth by the cold and gray lake. Upon this island stands very ancient fortress inclosed by high walls more than twenty feet in thickness. This is the Fortress of Schlusenburg. Day and night sentries relieved every two hours pace the top of these walls, keeping a vigilant lookout on every hand. No one from within the fortress, not even soldiers or gendarmes, is allowed to communicate with the people who sell upon the banks of the river. If a fisherman chances to drift his boat too near to the walls of the fortress he is greeted by the shout of a sentry, aiming his rifle: "Not even, or I shoot!"
At any of the Dead sea in the deserts of Asia is so utterly isolated and cut from the living world as is this fortress of Schlusenburg, which lies thirty miles east of St. Petersburg. They are very ancient, the high walls of the fortress. In many places they are cracked from old age, and in cracks little trees have taken root. The lower part of the wall has gradually become covered with thick dark grass, just as the face of a very old man becomes covered all over with wrinkles. They look sullen and ominous as if they hid dark and growing secrets. And, in truth, in the hole world there are no other walls so grimly witnessed so many and such terrible human tragedies as the Fortress of Schlusenburg.—David Saxe in McClure's Magazine.

When Fashions Lasted For Years.
In times past a fashion lasted with slight modifications for years. Much the same fashion continued through a long reign of Louis XIV. and another through that of Louis XV. while the ladies of the middle ages never thought of varying their costumes. As the Greeks and the Romans, generation succeeded generation with little change in the female dress, and yet all the fashions of the past were more radically different than those of today. Any no doubt spent more than they could afford, but when they had a party dress they kept it and did not throw it away to replace it with another.—London Truth.

A specific for pain—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, strongest, cheapest liniment ever devised. A household remedy in America for 25 years.

A North Missouri editor says he was this on a moss-grown tombstone: Here lies our wife, Samantha Proctor, who ketches a cold and wouldn't doctor. She could stay, she had to go; praise God on whom all blessings flow."

Lion Fendies a Child
In Pittsburgh a savage lion fondled a hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes met when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he gets cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak lungs, 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free, guaranteed by J. M. Streetman.

Crooked Creek News.
"Ah, 'twas blithesome—the robin trilled in May—
Apple trees a-bloom and the passage birds a-wing.
Love had made the wild world over,
With the dew-drench on the clover,
And the sun-haze on the green, and the mellow throats to sing."

The weather is just the opposite now to what it has been—on the other extreme now. Though we are all glad to have May enter so favorable.
Rev. Marley delivered a most excellent sermon Sunday to a large congregation. Quite a number from Old Fort were among us. We are very glad to have them with us in the country once in a while. Hope they will come again.
The measles are said to be abroad in the land, but hope they won't visit us all. We can't welcome nor entertain them now. We are all to busy.

Some of the Crooked Creek people anticipate attending the commencement of Round Hill Academy.
Garland Gilliam and Miss Ollie White were married Sunday, Rev. Marley officiating. EVANGELINE.

You would not suffer one day for five times that amount. Then try Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve. We guarantee it to cure. It's painless and harmless.

Spoke Too Soon.
Alexandre Dumas was one day the guest of Dr. Gistal, a leading practitioner in Marseilles. After dinner, while the coffee was being handed round, the host requested the great novelist to enrich his album with one of his witty improvisations.
"Certainly," replied Dumas, with a smile, and drawing out a pencil, he wrote under the eyes of his entertainer the following lines:
Since Dr. Gistal came to our town
To cure diseases casual and hereditary
The hospital has been pulled down—
"You flatterer!" here exclaimed the doctor, mightily pleased, but the poet went on:
And we have made a larger cemetery.

Never hesitate about giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to children. It contains no opium or other narcotics and can be given with implicit confidence. As a quick cure for coughs and colds to which children are susceptible, it is unsurpassed. Sold by Marion Drug Co. and all druggists.

An Unlikely Substitute.
When I was trying to impress on my pupils the necessity of neatness. One little girl repeatedly forgot her handkerchief. One day I said to her, "Use your kerchief."
She, as usual, "fordot it."
I said, "You did not forget your lunch, did you?"
She looked up in great surprise and said, "I can't wipe my nose on an apple, can I?"—Delineator.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will clear the sour stomach, sweeten the breath and create a healthy appetite. They promote the flow of gastric juice, thereby inducing good digestion. Sold by Marion Drug Co. and all druggists.

Many a man who would be unable to find the family Bible if he hunted all day would have no difficulty in putting his hand on the corkscrew, even in the dark.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Why Experiment
When Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey has been tried with satisfaction for over sixteen years in millions of homes for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and bronchial troubles. You can get it anywhere. Look for the bell on the bottle.

Blumes Almanac says there will be an eclipse of the moon May 23 just about midnight. Remember the date and look out for it.

Colds contracted at this season of the year are quickly relieved with Bees Laxative Cough Syrup. Its laxative quality relieves the irritation of the cold. Pleasant to take. Best for children for coughs, colds, croup and whooping coughs. Sold by Dr. M. F. Morphew.

A man has to work harder to be a poor farmer than he does to be a poor one.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.
Prevalency of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common ailment of the day, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.
What To Do
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and soothing effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You should have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
Writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

BIRTH OF AN ICEBERG.

The Dramatic Experience of Two Arctic Explorers.
C. E. Borogrevink, commander of the antarctic expedition of 1898, nearly lost his life by an accident of a nature so peculiar that it is probable no other man could duplicate the experience. At the foot of Mount Terror in February, 1900, he landed from his ship with Captain Jensen and three other men. Then, wishing to take a picture of the shore, he sent his boat back to the vessel to get a camera, and he and Captain Jensen were left alone on the rough beach. Before the boat returned a strange and awful thing happened. Mr. Borogrevink told the story in the Outlook:
A roar and a rush, with tremendous explosions, shook the beach. The thought came to us that the perpendicular rocks above us were falling. Then we realized what was taking place. The mighty glacier immediately to the west of us was giving birth to an iceburg.
Millions of tons of ice plunged into the ocean. We could see nothing beyond an immense cloud of rolling snow. The water rose from the plunge of this antarctic monarch. I sang out to Jensen, "Now we shall have to face the wave!"
We rushed to the highest point of our limited beach, four feet above the sea. We saw advancing on us a dark green ridge with a white crest. I called to Jensen to struggle for dear life. We clutched the uneven rocks, with our backs toward the advancing water. Although it could not have taken more than seven minutes, the time seemed long before the water closed over our heads.
Floating upward, scrambling upon the rocks, I tore the nails from my flesh in my endeavor to keep from being dragged out. After the second wave we again felt the rocks under our feet.
At the place where Jensen and I first stood the rock was wet twenty feet above our heads. It was somewhat lower when it struck us. Where the wave had struck with full force the face of the rock had been altered, and the rocks were still falling when the three men in the boat found us, bleeding and torn.
Two facts had saved us. To our right a small peninsula of ice protruded some five feet from the rock, and the rock itself bent toward the west. From the moment it struck the curve of the mountain rock to the west of us the wave took a course more easterly than where Jensen and I stood.

"I have been somewhat covetous, but Dr. Ross's Regule gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."—George B. Krane, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Utilizing the Waste Product.
A parish in the highlands had been cut off from communication with the nearest town owing to a severe storm. Supplies began to give out, and the minister was much perturbed in mind, as his snuffbox was quite empty. The Sabbath came round. How was he to get through his discourse without the aid of his usual stimulant? He appealed to his faithful benchman, the sexton. Alas, he was in a similar unsatisfactory predicament! How was it to be remedied? Andrew shook his head, thought long and suddenly disappeared. Presently he returned with something resembling sauff wrapped carefully in paper. The minister took a hearty pinch or two and then asked: "Where did you get it, Andrew?"
"Please, sir, I just went and swept the pulpit out," was the reply.—Dundee Advertiser.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains come from sick kidneys.
I would save much needless woe.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.
Many residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Mrs. U. S. Bryson, 32 Carter street, Asheville, N. C., says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know that they are a reliable remedy. Some time ago I was in a bad way as the result of sharp pains in my back. The kidney secretions were also unnatural and caused me the condition that my kidneys needed attention. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and began their use in accordance with the directions. It was not long before I was able to perform my work without any inconvenience and felt better in every way."

THE CURSE OF THE SOUTH

What is the matter with the South? According to government report of 1908 "The Secret is out at last: The Southerner, contrary to current opinion is not lazy, shiftless, indifferent or careless. "He is Sick."
The South is afflicted with, and harbors that most treacherous and destructive of all diseases Anemia, Pernicious Anemia. The average Southerner is a sufferer of this Health destroying Parasite which destroys the red blood cells producing an impoverished condition of the blood, which is characterized by extreme Pallor, General Debility, Weakness, Loss of Vigor, Lack of Ambition, and general undermining of Vitality. The CLIMATE and ATMOSPHERIC conditions destroy the "Fertility." Let him get over his grip of it. Get well, and he is as good physically as the best American can boast. If there is health of the slightest degree in your system, "WAKE IT UP! CALL IT FORTH! PULL YOURSELF TOGETHER!" MAN, WOMAN or CHILD; all mean and should be well. To neglect yourself is to reflect upon the wisdom of your Maker. Nature intends all Humanity to enjoy a full measure of Health and Vigor. If you do not? The fault is your own, for you are yourself to blame for it. Wonders have been accomplished for the People of Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi. Let us now do as much for the People of the Carolinas. A postal will bring you the necessary information. Send no money. Write today. Don't neglect this chance here offered you.
