BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

WITHOUT A PARABLE HE SPAKE NOT.

The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.—John 4:63.

WITHOUT a parable spake he not unto the people.—What the prophet had declared of him was true.

There is absolutely nothing in the words of Jesus without a deep significance. How many have stumbled over our Lord's parables?

Eventually all the willingly obedient may enjoy the blessings of eternal life. On the other hand, the description of the burning of the tares, instead of referring to the literal burning, has, evidently, a symbolic significance.

The parable of "the sheep and the goats," taken literally, has caused confusion to many. They think of the separation of the sheep and the goats as now in progress, failing to notice the Scriptural declaration.

Evidently some wise and gracious purpose stands connected with the hiding or secreting at present of the Divine purpose from mankind in general.

Our text shows that however dark and parabolic were our Lord's teachings, nevertheless, rightly understood, his message is one that is spiritually helpful and life-giving to those who can and do understand it.

A GAMBLER'S RING

When its Owner Deals the Cards Are an Open Book.

A curious ring seen recently in one that belongs to a gambler, one of the most famous card players in the United States.

Inside the ring and grooved into its outer circle is another gold circle. When the ring is put on the operator's finger by a slight movement it is possible to slide the outside band around on the inner one.

When the operator sits in at a game of cards he wears the ring on the little finger of his right hand.

When he slides the cards off the pack as he deals this little mirror comes directly under the card that is being dealt.

Back and Forth. "There's one thing about you suburbanites that I never could understand," said the city chap.

"I've noticed time and again," continued the c. c., "that when you fellows reach town in the morning and again when you start for home in the evening you have a happy look. Now, why is it?"

"Oh, that's easily explained," replied the other. "After the day's work in the city we are always glad to get out of it, and after a night in the country we are always glad to get back."

A Rude Intruder. He was standing among his fellows, this lion of the salon of the Independent Artists, telling what art and life meant to him, when he was approached by a matter of fact citizen.

Opposition. A certain amount of opposition is a great help to a man. It is what he wants and must have to go for anything. Hardships and opposition are the native soil of manhood and self-reliance.—John Neal.

Torturing eczema spreads its burning area every day. Doan's Ointment quickly stops its spreading, instantly relieves the itching, cures it permanently. At any drug store.

The Balloon Spider. One species of spider weaves a balloon four feet long and two feet wide, which it fastens to a tree by a single thread, then marches on board with its little ones, cuts the thread, and away goes the airship to some distant place to make a new home.

These Pies of Boyhood. How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed the pie? No, it's you. You've lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood.

A Cough, A Cold. And then no telling what—unless you use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It is the best, ask your neighbor. Look for the Bell on the Bottle. Sold everywhere.
