CARSON-CRAWFORD

Pretty Wedding Celebrated at the Home of the Bride's Parents Tuesday Afternoon.

On Tuesday, October 17th, at 3 o'clock p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crawford on Morgan street, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Laura Glenn Crawford to Mr. James McIntire Carson, of Rutherfordton, N. C.

This large spacious home was elaborately decorated in ferns, white chrysanthemums and pink dahlias. With all the lights softly shaded in pink, filling the rooms with a rosy glow, and the merry assemblage with its joyous spirit of good wishes, one quite forgot the continuing down pour of rain in the outer world.

Before the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Pless sang "Love's Serenade" accompanied by Mrs. John Decker, who also played the wedding march. With the beginning of Mendelsohn's march little Miss McCall and Master Stoner entered the parlors drawing the broad pink satin ribbons, forming an aisle through which the bridal party passed.

Proceeded by the ushers, Messrs L. J. P. Cutlar and C. B. McBrayer, the bride's maids, Miss Ellen Crawford and Miss Joyce Decker, accompanied by Mr. York Coleman and Mr. James Crawford followed by the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Crawford, and Mr. B. H. DePriest, and the bride who entered with the Dame of honor, Mrs. B. L. Ashworth, and the groom and his best man, Mr. A. M. Cagle, grouped themselves gracefully under a large arch where the Rev. Edward Long performed the ceremony in a specially impressive, easy manner, the bride and groom standing under a true lover's knot of pink roses.

The bride was dressed in a most becoming tailored suit of broadcloth with velvet hat and gloves to match, and carried a large bouquet of brides roses. The three bride's maids were daintily gowned in pink satin with large black velvet hats and carried pink carnations. The Dame of honor wore a white cloth suit with black velvet hat and carried white carnations.

Following the congratulations, the wedding repast was served in the dining room where the table was handsomely ornamented with pink and white roses and white tulle.

The wealth of beautiful gifts displayed in the library bespoke the popularity of Miss Crawford and the high esteem in which Mr. Carson is held by his Rutherfordton friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson departed on the six o'clock train, many of their friends giving them a royal start on their journey. They will be "at home" after November 1st at Rutherfordton, N. C.

Mr. Carson was accompanied to Marion by several of his best friends, and a number of guests from Asheville and Biltmore were also present.
