Must Report to Extra Session.

Raleigh, March 14.—When the legislature adjourned it was without reference to the proposed extra session. This will be called later when the special commission on constitutional amendments is ready to report. This is expected to be some time in the early fall.

The president of the senate and the speaker of the house have named the members of the commission from their respective bodies. They are to serve without compensation except their expenses. They will pass upon the constitutional amendments that they agree upon. These are to be taken up in the special session which will also have unlimited right to prescribe ballots on amendments without reference to whether they came through recommendation, or to have originated in the extra session. The extra session will have a constitutional limitation of twenty days for its session and can take up any phase of legislation desired.

Robins Belong to the Government.

The Yorkville Enquirer.

The small boys and others who have heretofore been having such a great time each Spring shooting the robins as they pass over on their way north, will do well to have a care hereafter. In the agricultural appropriation bill passed this year, Congress declared that all birds which do not make their home any one State during the entire year belong to the United States Government, and provided for their protection. That means hereafter the people who shoot robins will not run up against only municipal ordinances and State laws, but against Uncle Sam, and as is pretty generally understood, whatever the faults of Uncle Sam, he believes in the enforcement of his laws. The understanding is the Agricultural Department will promulgate regulations under which migratory birds may be killed or captured, if need be, and that these regulations must have the approval of the President. But it is not likely that these regulations are going to permit such slaughter as has heretofore been so common.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.
