Lenten Thoughts.

Baltimore Sun.

Lent as a period of physical recuperation has long ago received the endorsement of sanitary experts as well as exhausted devotees of society. But we imagine that at a time of such heart searching as the present, even scientific cynics will be disposed to feel that its observance is closely connected with the things that touch the moral welfare of all mankind. Religion ought not to be a matter of days or of seasons, and it is not with those who are in earnest; but human nature, whatever denominational dress it may wear, needs special occasions of spiritual revival and refreshment. The miracle of Pentecost must be repeated each year, if Pilgrim is to keep up his progress toward the holy city.

This Lenten season, like that of last year, is invested with unusual solemnity and significance by the crucifixion of humanity that is going on in Europe. After all, the meaning of that awful calamity goes far deeper than conflicting dynasties or race ambitions. It goes down to the foundations of civilization and religion. Can we contemplate such a spectacle without asking whose sins and omissions have nailed these millions of human beings to the cross of the bloodiest war in all the ages? Emperor William, King George, the Czar of Russia? Yes, but only as they are products of our religious practices and standards. Can religion, like Pontius Pilate, wash its hands of the blood of the victims of this European madness? Religion, in the abstract, it is true, cannot be indicted on this charge. The crime cannot be laid at the door of any creed prevailing among the so called Christian nations of the world. But a timely Lenten question is, How far is the religious creed of love, mercy and justice still a living force among men? Humanity on its iron cross and with its crown of thorns is asking the disciples of religion that question now, as it has for eighteen months past; and the world's future will depend on how that question is answered.

Whether the churches realize it or not, they are on trial. The world must grow better or worse, and whether it shall do the one or the other will be determined by the spiritual attitude and the practice of those who, in the tabernacle, cathedral, church or synagogue, profess to pray for the reviving spirit of the creator of the universe.

Southern Girls in Various Clubs.

Washington, March 29.—Home demonstration work among women in southern states by the department of agriculture brought 32,613 girls into canning clubs, 9,854 into poultry clubs and 3,062 into bread clubs during 1915. More than 6,000,000 pounds of vegetables and fruits were canned. The average profit from each tenth of an acre that the canning club girls were required to cultivate was $24.01. A poultry club girl cleared $164.17 profit from 30 hens.

There are now over 350,000 Indians in the United States and 25,000 in Alaska.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excitable; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Mace Waives Preliminary Hearing; Goes Back to Jail.

Morganton, March 29.—A preliminary hearing of the alleged wife-murderer, Charles Mace, was held before Justices Kirksey and Hallyburton yesterday. The prisoner waived preliminary examination and was committed to jail without bond. Spainhour and Mull and Attorney Jonas have been employed to conduct his defense. It is said he claims his wife committed suicide. The dead woman's relatives have employed Avery and Huffman to assist the solicitor in the prosecution. It will likely be a hard fought case.

There was a large crowd on the court square to catch a glimpse of Mace, but there was no demonstration whatever. He appeared to be in a very nervous condition.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Resourceful.

A negro preacher was edified on one occasion by the recital of a dream had by a member of his church, according to The New York Times.

"All dis time," said the narrator, "I was a dreamin' dat I was in Ole Satan's dominions. I tell you, pahson, dat sho' wrs a bad dream!"

"Was any white men there?" asked the dusky divine.

"Sho'—plenty of 'em," the other hastened to assure his minister.

"What was they doing?"

"Every one of 'em," was the answer, "was a holdin' a cullud pusson between him an' de fire!"
