DEMOCRATS AT RALEIGH ENDORSE WOODROW WILSON

SENATOR SIMMONS POINTS DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION TO MATCHLESS RECORD OF NATIONAL PARTY.

SIMMONS, OVERMAN, CRAIG, AND CARR ARE DELEGATES

Youth, Vigor and Enthusiasm in Great Gathering.—Delegates and Electors Are Elected and State Platform Is Adopted.

Raleigh.—Youth, vigor and enthusiasm stood out prominently in the State Democratic Convention which met here, for it was essentially a convention of young men although it was seasoned with a springling of the veterans who have fought the battles of Democracy.

It was good to look upon this body of youthful militant Democracy representing the best manhood and the best interests of North Carolina. The magnificent personnel must have impressed itself upon all. It was live, enthusiastic and harmonious. It represented ideals. That it was here for continuing the Commonwealth's government on its present high plane instead of personal aggrandizement or selfish aims was apparent. The spirit of optimism radiated throughout the immense auditorium.

Endorsement of the Administration of President Wilson, the preparedness program, proposed National rural credits legislation and the declaration that more important National legislation had taken place in the last three years than in any decade of American history were the outstanding features of the platform adopted here by the State Democratic Convention.

The mention of President Wilson's name always brought applause showing the keen hold that the chief executive of the nation has upon the hearts and minds of the people of North Carolina.

Because the new primary law took from the convention the privilege of nominating candidates for state offices the delegates had before them only the adoption of a platform, the election of delegates-at-large to the National Convention, nomination of presidential electors and consideration of a successor to Secretary Daniels as National Committeeman. State officers will be nominated in a primary to be held on June 3 and in the primary the electorate also will express its preference for a presidential candidate.

Senators Simmons and Overman, Governor Craig and Gen. Julian S. Carr of Durham, were elected delegates-at-large to the National Convention by acclamation and Cameron Morrison of Charlotte and J. O. Carr of Wilmington, were nominated as presidential electors-at-large. Delegates to the National Convention from the 10 Congressional districts were elected and presidential electors nominated at district conventions held earlier in the day.

Several of the district conventions departing from the usual custom of electing two delegates and two alternates elected four delegates, each with half a vote, and dispensed with alternates.

A. W. McLean of Lumberton, was elected National Committeeman, the first time in the history of the party in his state, that a convention had so acted. Secretary Daniels after serving 20 years as committeeman, declined to seek re-election.

As regards state affairs, the platform declared that so long as the Democratic party remained in control the suffrage amendment to the constitution would be maintained, assuring a state government "conducted by white men." A continued policy of economy in handling the financial affairs of the state was pledged and the widest publicity as regards state and county financial transactions and frequent audits were urged. The platform also pledged the party to conservation of the public health, encouragement of highway construction, development of rural communities and recommended the construction of state warehouses for the storage of farm products.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headache, dizziness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Senator Simmons, temporary chairman of the convention in the keynote address declared the Democratic party in seeking the re-election of the Administration was making the campaign solely on the record of the party. Since the election of President Wilson, he said, the party had done nothing it was ashamed of and it had no apologies to offer. His address dealt entirely with the history of Democracy in North Carolina and the achievements of the Wilson Administration.

By vote of the convention a committee waited on Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Governor Locke Craig with an invitation to deliver addresses. Secretary Daniels was the first to appear on the platform. He was given a rousing ovation while the convention arose to its feet. The work of the Administration was discussed in an impromptu address by Secretary Daniels. He stressed the fact that the United States was at peace and told of some of the plans for preparedness against war. As regards preparedness, he said the War and Navy Departments had profited by the experiences of European Governments since the war began and already had taken steps to put into practice plans which the belligerents did not consider until after the conflict was a year old.

In a brief address, Governor Craig declared that after due consideration he had concluded Col. Theodore Roosevelt would secure the Republican nomination for the presidency and that the election in November would be a declaration for or against war.

That the United States now was at peace, was due to Woodrow Wilson, he said, and his re-election was necessary. The election of any candidate other than Mr. Wilson would mean the participation of the country in the general conflict, he asserted.

The convention was called to order at 12:15 by Chairman Warren. Dr. J. E. Underwood, presiding elder of the Raleigh district, led in prayer. No time was lost in preliminaries. Mayor Johnson made a brief address of welcome, followed by a short speech by Chairman Warren, in which he drew a picture of the ideals of Democracy and compared it with that of Republicanism, and reviewed party history for the past 20 years, paying high tribute to Senator Simmons, whom he introduced as temporary chairman. Senator Simmons was received with much enthusiasm.

Following the speech of Senator Simmons the temporary organization was made permanent on motion of W. E. Brock, of Anson, and A. J. Maxwell, Stacy Wade and K. B. Council were made secretaries.

Senator Simmons turned over the gavel to Judge J. D. Murphy of Buncombe, who presided during the remainder of the session. The election of delegates to the St. Louis convention occupied but a few moments. Judge Biggs of Wake, placed in nomination Senator Simmons, Senator Overman, Governor Craig and Gen. Julian S. Carr. They were nominated by acclamation.

Mr. Brock put in nomination the following for alternates to the national convention: E. L. Travis, J. C. Biggs, Thomas D. Warren and J. D. Murphy. Mr. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, arose at this point and said that he wanted to see Wade Harris, one of the distinguished editors of the State included among the alternates.

Both Chairman Murphy and Mr. E. L. Travis said it would give them great pleasure to withdraw in order to allow Mr. Harris to become one of the delegates.

The following being nominated singly were elected: Wade Harris of Charlotte, J. Crawford Biggs of Raleigh, J. D. Murphy of Asheville, T. D. Warren of New Bern.

District delegates and electors having been elected at the morning district meetings, were announced as follows:

First district—Col. W. G. Lamb, of Martin; A. T. Baker, of Chowan; F. G. James, of Pitt, and E. F. Aydtlett of Pasquotank. Elector, H. C. Carter, of Beaufort.

Second district—W. O. Howard, of Edgecombe; H. G. Connor, Jr., of Wilson; J. A. Albritton, of Greene; Thomas Gilliam, of Bertie. Elector, G. V. Cowper.

Third district—L. I. Moore, R. O. Johnson and J. A. Tingle, elector D. E. Henderson.

Fourth district—Edward E. Britton, of Wake; E. W. Pour, of Johnston; A. J. Harris, of Vance; E. R. Pace, of Wake. Electors, T. T. Thorne, of Nash.

MARION WOMAN IN A BAD WAY.

A case like this right here at home is the strongest kind of evidence. This Garden Street woman tells about her experience for the benefit of Marion people; read what she says. The facts can be easily proven.

Mrs. C. A. Dale, Garden St., Marion, says: "My system was full of uric acid and my feet and hands swelled to twice normal size. The skin was drawn as tight as a drum and was purple. I was helpless for two months and the pains in my back never let up. At times there was an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions. The doctor didn't help me and I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Streetman's Drug Store. They cured me." (Statement given in February, 1911.)

Over Three Years Later Mrs. Dale said: "Except for a little soreness in my back occasionally, I have had no sign of kidney trouble in years, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."
