WORRIED ABOUT JERSEY ROAD

Commission Asks Questions About Deterioration of State Highways.

The commission on road legislation of New Jersey has addressed a series of questions to engineers, contractors, manufacturers and other individuals throughout the state requesting their opinions upon the best course to be taken to redeem New Jersey's system of roads, which are said to be rapidly going to pieces.

"The construction of much needed new roads is coming to a standstill," says the commission. "The maintenance of old roads even at enormous expense is not keeping pace with the daily wear and tear of travel." Then the commission asks, among other questions:

"Does the fault lie with a tangled mass of unintelligible road laws?"

"Are we struggling hopelessly to administer the road laws in township, county and state by numerous undefined and varied types of roads organizations?"

"Are we building and maintaining our roads by unsound or unbusinesslike measures of finance?"

"Should we limit the traffic on highways as to the weight of vehicles and load, and if so what should be the limit and should we make regulations as to the width of tires?"

character in and to the lands described in the petition in this proceeding.

You will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the District Court of the United States for the Western District of North Carolina, at Asheville, for the condemnation of certain tracts of real estate.

(1). Two tracts of land lying on the waters of Little Buck creek, Tom's creek, and other waters of the Catawba river, in Marion township, McDowell county, North Carolina, adjoining the lands of Pete Hensley and others, said two tracts containing in the aggregate 1896.03 acres, more or less, covered by Grants 15819, 498, 566, 14751, 14383, 14959, 513, 16374, 15130, 6051, 281, 1559, 9819, 315, 358, 13887, 15829, 329, (359?) 3893, 5793, 6053, 650, 5049, 548 and 120; and a certain tract of land containing 41.96 acres, more or less, formerly a portion of the C. W. Godfrey tract, in Marion township, McDowell county, North Carolina, covered by Grants 5793, 650 and 817, lying on south bank of Betsy branch, all of which said lands are now claimed by B. F. Spencer and Ella B. Spencer, his wife, L. L. Bailey and Carrie H. Bailey, his wife, M. H. Stebbins and Addie C. Stebbins, his wife, of Wellsboro, Pa., and Reece Lloyd, J. Mac Haines and Thomas W. Haines, Jr., Executors of Thomas W. Haines, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.

(2). Situate, lying and being in Marion and North Cove townships, McDowell county, North Carolina, on the headwaters of Tom and Lime Kiln creeks, tributaries of the Catawba river, adjoining the lands of Pete Hensley and others, containing 811.66 acres, more or less, covered by Grants 412, 5327, 499, 530, 12484, 197, 6128, 6151, 557, 468, and now claimed by Holston Corporation, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Virginia.

(3). Situate, lying and being in Marion township, McDowell county, North Carolina, on the waters of Tom's creek, adjoining the lands of N. A. Riddle and others, containing 103.96 acres, more or less, covered by Grants 3893, 161, 317, 15083 and 3127, and now claimed by C. W. Godfrey, of Marion, N. C.

(4). Situate, lying and being in North Cove township, McDowell county, North Carolina, on the waters of Lime Kiln creek, and Wood's Knob, containing 109.63 acres, more or less, covered by Grants 566, 415, 412, 499, 12484, 498 and 2127, and now claimed by J. M. Greenlee and Mary Tate Greenlee, his wife, of Studley, Va., the said lands having been selected by the Secretary of Agriculture, with the approval of the National Forest Reservation Commission and found necessary for the purpose of carrying out an Act of Congress of the United States approved March 1, 1911, being Chapter 186, page 961, Vol. 36, Stat. at Large, as amended by the Act of August 10, 1912, 37 Stat. 269-300, Chap. 284.

And the said nonresident defendants above named, and all persons whomsoever owning or claiming to own any estate, lien or interest of any kind or character in and to the lands described in the petition in said proceeding, defendants named as aforesaid, will further take notice that they are required to appear in the District Court of the United States for the Western District of North Carolina, at Asheville, on the 28th day of November, 1916, and answer or demur to the petition or complaint in said proceeding, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said petition.

This notice issued by order of Court, directing that publication be made once a week for six successive weeks in The Marion Progress.

This 13th day of October, 1916.

THE OILING OF EARTH ROADS

Unless Proper Methods Are Used Result Is Unsatisfactory.

PURPOSE TO SUPPRESS DUST

Nearly 89 Per Cent of Roads Throughout the United States Are Earth Roads, and How to Grade, Drain and Maintain These Highways is an Important Problem.

There are 2,333,000 miles of public roads in the United States, of which only 262,400 miles have any kind of surfacing. In other words, nearly 89 per cent of our roads are earth roads, and it will be a quarter of a century, probably, before this percentage is reduced to 75. The great road problem of the United States is to grade, drain and maintain these roads so as to make them of the best practical use at a minimum annual expense. Some progress along these lines is evident, and in some sections very satisfactory earth roads have been built and are maintained in good condition, except for a few weeks in spring, by intelligent dragging. Another method of maintenance, originating in California, is now being tried with more or less success in a number of the central states. This is oiling the roads. Its purpose is to suppress dust, for in so doing the road surface will remain smooth longer than when the road is dusty, and there is less mud formed in wet weather. But oiling roads has to be done intelligently or it will make conditions worse instead of better.

It is useless to oil an earth road which is not thoroughly drained and properly graded. It is a waste of money to oil a road which does not have a smooth, hard surface free from dust. If the surface is uneven, oil collects in shallow depressions and softens the surface so that after the first heavy rain the travel tends to make mudholes at these places. If there is dust on the road the oil combines with the dust to form a sort of mat, which the travel over it quickly breaks up into large flakes or scales. If the road is in proper condition to receive the oil and the right kind of oil is used the oil percolates into the pores of the earth for a depth of several inches, sealing them with an asphaltic binding material which unites the surface into a tougher mass than the original surface.

The oil cannot make the road any harder, for only stone or gravel will accomplish that, but it will prevent the displacement of the earth particles under any loads which an earth road is adapted to carry. If the oiled surface is immediately covered with a thin layer of clean, hard sand, the travel will not disturb the oil, and the travelers will suffer less inconvenience. The right kind of oil should be used, for there are some kinds which act as lubricants and ruin a road instead of improving it. This kind of maintenance of earth roads is proving so successful in the central states that the Illinois state highway commission has recently issued for free distribution an illustrated bulletin telling how to do it and what things to avoid doing.
