CO-OPERATION TO FIGHT FLY PEST

Much Alfalfa and Clover Seed
Can Be Saved by Community
War on Insect.

SOME MEASURES SUGGESTED

Standing Plants Along Fences and In
Waste Places Should Be Burned
Over and Fields Cultivated
During Winter Season.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Thousands of dollars can be saved annually by fighting the chalcis fly in the districts where alfalfa seed and clover seed are grown, although it cannot be hoped to eradicate this pest from any seed-producing locality. This is stated as a result of investigations conducted by the bureau of entomology.

Control Measure Suggested.

The rapid dispersion of the adults of this species makes it vitally important that control methods should be taken up by community action rather than by the individual. The following control measures are suggested:

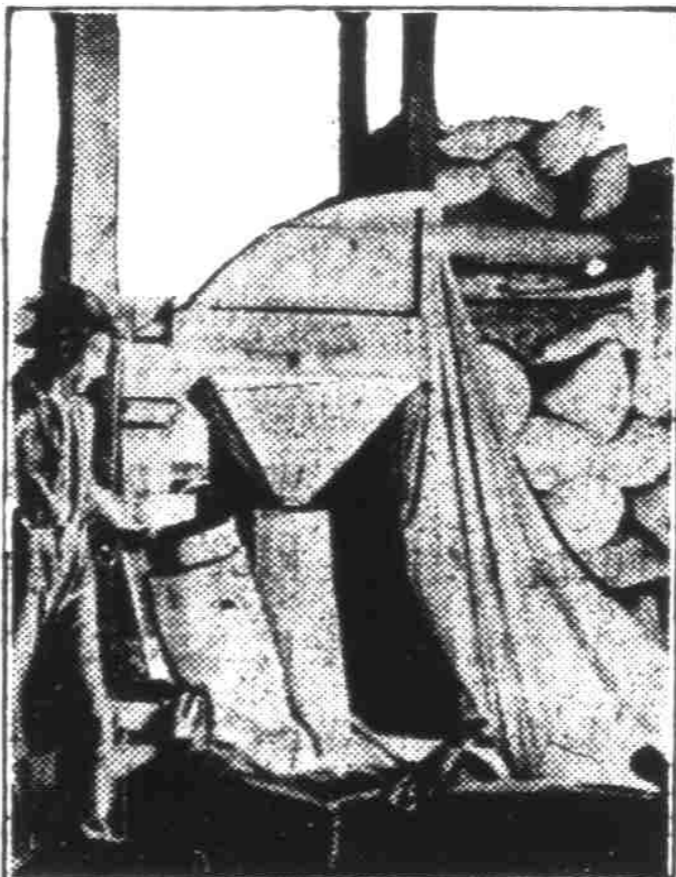

Standing alfalfa and red-clover plants along fence lines and waste areas should be burned over in autumn to destroy hibernating larvae.

Cultivation of alfalfa seed fields during the winter is of much value in covering the infested alfalfa seeds containing hibernating larvae.

Whenever possible, the alfalfa seed grower should do most of his irrigating in early spring, or before the seed crop is grown.

Every farmer in an alfalfa seed-growing district should cut all of the standing alfalfa along fence lines, ditch banks, and other waste areas at the time of cutting a hay crop and before a seed crop is grown.

Hay crops should be cut carefully so that no stems will remain standing to develop seed in advance of the greater seed crop.

Animals Render Valuable Service. Horses, cattle and sheep may render valuable service by destroying plants that have escaped the mower.

All seed fields should be handled so that a heavy setting of pods will be secured with the first bloom and the crop will be removed from the field as early as possible.

Attempts to grow second crops of alfalfa seed in a single season will meet almost certain failure because of the increased abundance of chalcis flies late in the summer.

It is a mistake to pasture alfalfa seed fields which have become too severely infested to yield a crop worth harvesting. Live stock walking through the ripe alfalfa cause the seeds to be shelled out, and those infested with the hibernating larvae of the chalcis fly fall on the ground, where they become the source of infestation the following year.

For the great reception you have given us

"The Phonograph with a Soul."

We had set a mark for our first years business. But our first weeks business, with our incomplete stock has exceeded our average weekly estimate for the year.

A Heart to Heart Talk.

I have traveled extensively and have been a "tar heel" for 21 years. In fact the tar is so thick it will never wear off. For some years since the "Climchfield" came through I have had my eye on Marion, and have passed through Marion many times without stopping. In March I came here and gave it the "once over," and decided that this was the place with a future. I do not see the Main street of today with its little one-story holes in the walls, but the greater Marion of five years from today. Get out your kodak and snap Main street. Open your eyes five years from today and see if "yours truly" is not a prophet.

Not a fly "between scenes" concern. We have been asked many times, how long will you be here? Unless our present plans are changed, it will be until the roll is called up yonder. Even if I pass on, there will always be an "Edison Shop" in Marion. I have taken a special course in repairing "Edisons." We are going to have a fine parlor as soon as it is built. Our stock of records will be second to none in the State. Come in and see us, we will tell you all.

Miss Freida Hemphel sings at Asheville May 17. If you can't go come in and hear her wonderful "Recreations." Many hundreds have already made "The Edison Shop" their stopping place. We want the rest of you to do so.

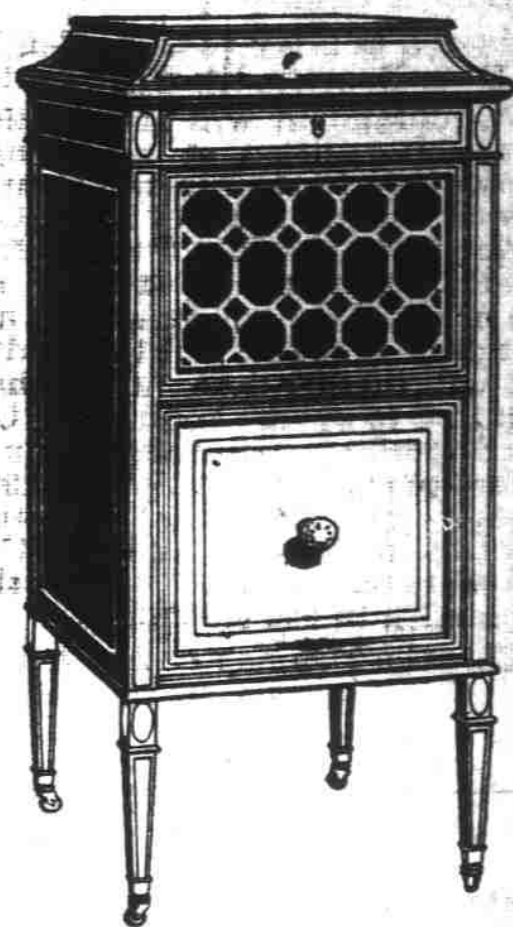

Yours truly,

Frank B. Mitchell

Overland Four-Door Sedan Insures Comfort

THE SUPERIORITY of the Sedan for autumn, winter and spring is even more emphasized in the wide range of summer motoring. It's thick permanent top is a cooler shield from boiling sun. Breezes are freely admitted or entirely excluded at will. Rain, dust and sudden cold, are shut out at your command by heavy plate glass which never cuts off your vision or leaves you feeling "Shut in." Now the Overland Sedan adds to all this convertible convenience, the riding comfort of Triplex Springs, and extraordinary light weight economy.
