

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

Our Higher Institutions of Learning the Base of Educational System

By CALVIN COOLIDGE, Vice President.

Our higher institutions of learning are not the apex of our system of education. They are its base. All the people look up to their influence and their inspiration. They must be under the guidance of men of piety and men of an open mind. They must continue their indispensable service to the cause of freedom by bringing all the people unto a knowledge of the truth.

There must be an increasing reliance upon religion. It is the source of all faith. It is the evidence of the eternal purpose, and of the true power, the true nobility of mankind. It gives a divine sanction to the authority of righteous government, to faithful service through economic relationship, and to the peaceful covenants of international understanding. It represents the only hope of the world, the only motive by which mankind can bear the burdens of civilization.

The peculiar meaning of America is faith, faith in the first place in an international power, faith in the second place in mankind. There are those who doubt the stability of republican institutions. There are those who question the ability of a people long to maintain a democracy. The progress of the race does not lie merely in the intelligence, philosophy, or the art of a few, but in their possession by the many, in their general acceptance.

America lays no claim to the discovery of the theory of freedom of self-government. Its glory lies in the ability of its people to put those theories into practice, not merely the power to state them but the capacity to live up to them.

The inalienable right of man to life and liberty and to be protected in the enjoyment of the rewards of his own industry have their source in religion. The rights of man as man, the dignity of the individual, find their justification in that source alone. Whenever its teachings were fully admitted, the rest followed as a matter of course. It was religion that came first; then the establishment of free government.

With these there came the opportunity for a general education, for a broader service by the institutions of higher learning, which ushered in the age of science, resulting in the great material prosperity. These were the institutions which Americans built up and supported out of their faith in an eternal purpose and out of their faith in mankind.

SILK KNITTED SCARFS EVERYBODY'S WEARING THEM

WHAT a boon to fashion-kind are the gay knitted scarfs! Everybody's wearing them! That is, speaking of those who give timely thought to the art of good dressing. When any article of apparel is as universally popular as is the knitted scarf "there's a reason."

In the first place, knitted togs of every description are fashion's hobby this season. Next the mannish tailored suits, polo coats and the like, which are prevailing vogue, seem to call for "just a touch of color." The knitted silk scarf supplies this need in its fascinating Roman stripes, gay plaids or checks. It may be said, in passing, that in addition to the colorful scarfs, many handsome matched suit colorings have also been brought out for those who prefer monotone effect in costuming. These are particularly attractive in heather mixtures.

With all due appreciation of the ornamental value of the knitted silk scarf, its greatest asset is its genuine usefulness for the summer time. Those who have the knack, add further glory to these scarfs by artfully throwing them about the throat with studied grace. Young girls are taking particular delight in thrusting the two fringed ends under the belt of their suits, sort of tuxedo collar fashion. The latest is for brilliant silk knit scarfs with solid colored sweaters, either the tuxedo coats or the V neck slip-on.

Perhaps the zenith of beauty is attained in the sheer sea-breeze scarfs for summer, which are thin, almost to transparency, and stretch over the shoulders like a silken cobweb. In conclusion, if you would be up-to-date, become the happy possessor of a silk knitted scarf, for knitted outer wear is the keynote of present moment fashion.
