MOTHERS OF HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ARE ENTERTAINED

Mothers of the Senior Class of the Marion High School were entertained at the school building last Monday afternoon by the grade mother of the Senior Class, Mrs. L. B. Coone, with Mr. M. W. Gordon and Miss Joyce Decker as joint hostesses.

There were twenty-seven mothers present, to represent the fifty-three seniors who will graduate from the Marion High School next spring.

After greetings were dispensed with, Mrs. J. H. Tate, who is a very brilliant entertainer, had charge of the social hour. Mrs. Tate is famed for her original wit and humor, and she kept the party in an uproar of merriment.

Frank Richardson, superintendent, and W. M. Gordon, principal of the Marion High School, each made short snappy talks.

A dainty refreshment course was served carrying out the senior class color scheme of green and white.

CANNON-M'GIMSEY
A surprise marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Annie Laurie Cannon of Marion and Mr. George Vernon McGimsey of Morganton, which took place on Saturday, November 16th, at York, S. C.

The marriage was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ellison of Charlotte.

Mrs. McGimsey is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Cannon of Marion. She received her education at East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville, N. C. She has taught school in McDowell county for the past year and will continue her teaching this year.

Mr. McGimsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGimsey of Morganton. He is a young man of splendid worth and business ability. He holds a position with the City Flour and Feed Company in Lenoir.

The young couple will make their home temporarily in Lenoir.

MRS. COLE HONORED
On Thursday afternoon the Woman's Missionary Society entertained at the home of Mrs. J. W. Ouzts.

The occasion was a most delightful farewell party given Mrs. Cole, wife of the retiring presiding elder. The house was attractive in Halloween colors and emblems, and Mrs. J. H. Tate, who was mistress of ceremonies, kept things moving in her usual happy manner.

At the close of the entertainment Mrs. Cole was presented with a beautiful corsage, made up of handkerchiefs presented by each member. Mrs. J. F. Jonas also announced the gift of a silver mayonnaise bowl and spoon, given by the society as a whole. Mrs. Cole made a gracious speech of acceptance, assuring all of the pleasure she had taken in the work of the society.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostesses.

MISS PAULINE CONLEY HOSTESS TO NUITE CLUB
Miss Pauline Conley was hostess to the La Nuite Club at her home on Garden street last Friday evening.

Bridge was played at two tables and the tallies were suggestive of autumn. Miss Jimmie Florence was awarded the high score prize, a box of stationery, and Miss Eddy Lyon Thompson, of Durham, was presented with a gift. Miss Conley, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Price, served a salad course. The invited guests were Miss Covington, Miss Jimmie Florence and Miss Eddy Lyon Thompson, of Durham.

MRS. W. R. CHAMBERS BOOK CLUB HOSTESS
The Wednesday Book Club met with Mrs. W. R. Chambers at her home on Morgan street last week. There were five tables of 108 in progression. The attractive living room was decorated with attractive fall flowers. Delicious refreshments in two courses were served by the hostess. Special invited guests were Mesdames T. H. Henderson, W. T. Morgan, A. V. Nolan, A. H. Giles, T. A. Wilson, J. M. Tyler, J. H. L. Miller, Geo. W. Chapman, G. F. Washburn, J. E. Decker and Miss Ellen Crawford.

BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN FOR MRS. S. D. STORY
Mrs. W. S. Shiflet charmingly entertained with three tables of bridge complimenting Mrs. Sam Story of Asheboro, Tuesday afternoon at her home on Madison street. High score prize was won by Mrs. C. F. Barnes and gifts were presented to the honoree and to Mrs. Edward McMahan of Asheville. The tallies were attractive in their suggestion of Thanksgiving. A delicious salad course was served by the hostess.

SANS SOUCI CLUB MEETS
Mrs. R. J. Noyes delightfully entertained the members of the Sans Souci Club at her home on North Garden street last Friday afternoon. Two tables of 108 were in play. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

MISS BURTON HOSTESS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Miss Julia Burton was hostess at a charming bridge luncheon Wednesday afternoon, entertaining the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home on North Main street. After the luncheon three tables of bridge were in play with Mrs. Fred Bryson having top score, and Miss Eddy Lyon Thompson of Durham, house guest of Miss Alice Roan Cross, was presented with a gift. An artistic arrangement of fall flowers carried out a color scheme of yellow and green.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess served sandwiches and tea.

Miss Pauline Conley and Miss Eddy Lyon Thompson, of Durham, were the invited guests.
