WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything."

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks. I read of Cardui, I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before."

"I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

CARDUI HELPS WOMEN TO HEALTH

Take Theodore's BLACK-DRAUGHT For Constipation, Indigestion, Bilemness.

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois.

THE PRAYER PERFECT

Dear Lord! kind Lord!
Gracious Lord! I pray
Thou wilt look on all I love,
Tenderly, kindly!
Wound their hearts of weariness;
Scatter every care
Down a waile of angel-wings
Winnowing the air.

Bring unto the sorrowing
All release from pain;
Let the lips of laughter
Overflow again;
And with all the needy
O divide, I pray,
Thine vast treasure of content
That is mine today!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Giblet Gravy Survivor of Pilgrim's Festival

Despite the reverence still held for the first Thanksgiving and the elaborate menu that is supposed to have been presented to the Pilgrim guests, about all it has left to posterity is giblet gravy.

"There were many shortcomings in the original feast," says Farm and Fireside, reviewing the historic event, "but it left the gravy that still remains one of the features of every great Thanksgiving dinner."

"The original New England dinner was far from those that have been enjoyed since, from the beginning of the Nineteenth century until now. The oldest narratives of this feast refer to five deer, a gift from the Indians, being served on huge pewter platters. There were also wild turkeys weighing from 30 to 40 pounds. Sugar was scarce, and honey, extracted from hollow trees, was used for sweetening purposes. Dried corn, secured from the Indians, was made into corn bread, enough of a novelty to be most popular.

"Several napkins were given to each person. And needed they were, for forks were not in use. Trenchers took the place of plates and two persons ate from each one. Cups were not in use. The Pilgrims had two or three tankards. These were passed around the table, each person drinking his share in turn.

"But there was giblet gravy and it soon became a specialty of the New England cooks. It survived throughout all the famous kitchens of noted persons since that time, the table of Jacob Thompson, secretary of Interior under President James Buchanan, being especially famed for the dish. It was made of heavy cream thickened with flour and mixed with water in which the giblets, wing tips and neck had been boiled. Rice and buttered asparagus were served with the gravy as its use increased after Pilgrim days."

PEACE AND PLENTY

In winter, plans we make, with tender art,
Recalling fertile earth beneath the snow;
And springtime thrills anew the human heart
With promises fair as the flowers that blow.

In summer, we enjoy the sun's bright rays,
Or watch the rain, from shelter of the wood;
And learn that patience sanctifies our days,
That all things work together for our good.

But now the fields have yielded up their store,
Like Indian wigwams, shocks of sorghum stand;
The grain-filled barns no longer cry for more,
Peace and contentment lie upon the land.

So, after labor, comes the day of rest;
We feel and know Thanksgiving time is best.

—Karlus Kurtz Gusing.

Great Turkey Parade

In Cuero, Texas, which ships more turkeys during early November than any other railroad station in the world, a mammoth parade is held in which from 10,000 to 20,000 or more turkeys march through the principal streets of the town to the music of several brass bands. And from the pomp of parade, the white, red and bronze gobblers and hens trot in dignified cadence to the killing, picking and packing plants where they are prepared for shipment to the northern markets.

For all things are for you,
Nakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.—2 Cor. 4:15.

Nation's Happy State

As a people, the citizens of the United States have much to be thankful for at this season. We are at peace with all the world. In most sections of our country, prosperity abounds. While the past year has witnessed great disasters, the heart of America, as always, has poured forth sympathy and help to the unfortunate. We have abiding institutions to commend our loyalty and exalted national ideals, to give zest to our life, and make fruitful the pursuit of happiness.

Day's Spiritual Side

American citizens enjoy the greatest material benefits of any people on earth. A war which nearly destroyed European civilization left her comparatively unscathed. Her destiny lies in the future. Her greatest concern, however, should be the retention of that faith which is at once the recognition of human frailty and a firm confidence in the ability to conquer that which lies ahead. There is no better time to express it, to lay a more firm hold upon it, than on occasions such as Thanksgiving, which, without a definite spiritual anchor, would become little better than the orgies of boasting and indulgence of pagan days.—Chicago Journal.

Turkey, Japanese Style

Theodore Roosevelt, while President, received a request from the Japanese ambassador to permit his chef to prepare the prize turkey sent the President. When it appeared, its golden brown plumage, its red head ornaments and its claws had been spared. A slight movement removed all of these and the bird, browned to a tawny and seething in rich gravies, was disclosed. It was boned and within the turkey had been placed a capon, with in the capon a pheasant and within the pheasant a grouse. One serving consisted of four delicious meats.—Farm and Fireside.

Let Us Be Thankful

The Pilgrim Fathers endured hardships which we would shudder to face. They lacked nearly all of the conveniences that we now regard as necessities.

Of necessity, they were frugal and thrifty. Yet they set aside a day of Thanksgiving and gave thanks for blessings that we would consider hardships.

How much more should we be thankful! How much easier it should be for us to practice thrift without suffering from inconvenience and want!

Let us truly be thankful!
