The Babe in the Manger
A Christmas Story

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory be to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger—Luke 2:8-16

THEATRE GUILD
STARTED SEASON
WITH LIVELY COMEDY

With an all-star cast presenting the play, "Depend on Me," the Little Theatre Guild opened the season at the high school auditorium last Friday night. Unlike the former Theatre Guild offering, "The Dust of the Earth," which portrayed the stark tragedy of human loneliness, the play given last Friday night was a lively rollicking comedy with plenty of swift-moving action and character portrayal. The marital difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. John Craig were effectively interpreted by M.
W. Gordon and Miss Katherine Weathers. Their good resolutions were often cracked—not to say broken, but they were always repaired, and in the end they were kept safely—that is until the next quarrel. S. H. Pennington, as Justin Hollins who enjoys poor health gave a very realistic performance with Frank Goldsmith as the efficient physician to help him, and Miss Mary Margaret Giles as his patient, long-suffering niece. Virginia Gilkey as the gold-digger made a valiant, and eventually successful, attempt to capture the wealthy young man, Patrick McCormick, the latter part being taken by Carlton Gilkey very excellently. The wise cracks of Laura Nesbit, as given by Miss Grace Mary Justice were a prominent part of the play, as she tried to bring peace and harmony to the oft-quarreling Craigs. Guyon Whitten gave a masterful performance of the young man who knows exactly what he wants—and exactly how to get it. Last, but most certainly not least, comes the faithful maid who can always be depended upon to keep the secrets told her in strictest confidence. This part was splendidly portrayed by Miss Debs Henderson with inimitable grace and skill.

The very appreciative audience that enjoyed this performance will be awaiting with great interest the announcements of the next offering of the Little Theatre Guild.

The Junior Woman's Club sponsored this play for the benefit of the fund for the Community Club house.
The members of the high school honor society served as ushers.

CROSS SCHOOL KEEPS
CHRISTMAS IN SONG
AND CHEERFUL GIVING

The Eugene Cross School closed for the holidays Tuesday, Dec. 19.
Each room had a Christmas party, after which the entire school assembled and sang Christmas carols. The children for the past two weeks have brought food, toys and clothes for the needy. These articles were delivered by the children and from their expressions one could readily see "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

A Star of Hope ★ ★ ★

TWENTY centuries ago a brightly-shining star led the shepherds on the hills of the Holy Land to a little house in Bethlehem and to a realization of a new spiritual power that had come into the world. That star still sheds its light over the world and at this time of year man lifts his eyes to it and the glow from it kindles in his heart that fire which we know as the Christmas spirit.

This year the Christmas star shines more brightly than ever before for it is a star of hope. Behind us lie the dark years of depression and defeat, of fear and foreboding, of economic disaster and social disorder. During the past year we have come up from the valley of gloom and started once more to scale the heights toward the light. The star of hope is leading us on to a richer life, richer in spiritual values as well as material values.

Let us keep our eyes firmly fixed on that star. Let the glow from it warm our hearts with the true spirit of Christmas —with charity, with kindness, with friendliness, with forgiveness, with forgetfulness for the past and hope for the future.

Let us join together in keeping the spirit of Christmas alive in our community not only on Christmas day but on every day of the year; let us support community enterprises, foster a stronger community spirit and make our community a better place in which to live.

To that endeavor the encouragement, the aid and the leadership of your Home Town Paper is pledged by
