Griffin Speaker At D. A. R. Meeting

An address entitled "What Makes North Carolina a Great State," was given by Clarence Griffin, of Forest City, at the regular meeting of the Martha Pettigrew chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution last Thursday. The speaker is author of "History of Old Tryon and Rutherford Counties," secretary-treasurer of Rutherford County Publishing company, member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Department of Archives and History for the past 12 years.

Illustrating his address with a map of North Carolina, the speaker said the early settlers in North Carolina came of their own free will so they might have religious freedom and because of the opportunities afforded for material gain. He attributed the growth and development of the State to the fact that the settlers were the type of people who came to the State with a purpose.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Doris Hill. Mrs. R. J. Noyer vice president, presided. A report of the National D. A. R. Conference held in Washington in April was given by Mrs. J. F. Jonas and the resolutions passed at the conference were read.

Members of the Greenlee Chapter D. A. R. and Mrs. Daniel Briscoe, Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn., house guest of Mrs. Joseph L. Noyes, were guests.

Mrs. W. R. Chambers, hostess, served refreshments.
