

Mincemeat Rolls For Tea Or Dessert

Mincemeat pie brings appealing visions to many people, but why stop with mincemeat in pie? Use this spicy-sweet mixture in yuletide dainties, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. Joined with rich biscuit dough, it's the perfect treat for tea or dessert time.

For clever rolls, mincemeat is spread on biscuit dough, rolled up in jelly roll fashion, cut into pin-wheels and baked. For tea-size rolls, the dough should be rolled thin, for dessert-size, a thicker dough should be used. And for even more appeal, dessert rolls are topped with a hard sauce.

Mincemeat also takes its place in adding flavor to cookies and pies—including apple, pear, cranberry and pineapple. One-half cup of mincemeat is spread over the fruit filling just before it is covered with pastry. Thinned with unsweetened pineapple juice, mincemeat is a delicious topping for ice cream or a tangy stuffing for baked apples.

MISS ANNE SIMMONS has been elected queen of Blanton's Business College at Asheville, according to announcement last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Simmons of Glenwood.

Miss Simmons is a graduate of Glenwood High School.

Home Demonstration Club Party Given

Mrs. Guy Lonon was hostess to the North Cove Home Demonstration Club last Thursday evening with 18 members present and Miss Elsie Garrett, Home Demonstration agent, and Miss Ruby Lee Kiser, assistant agent, as special guest.

The living room and dining rooms were most attractively decorated, carrying out the Christmas motif.

A business session was held at which time new officers for the coming year were elected. The officers elected are as follows: Mrs. J. E. English, president; Mrs. R. W. Lonon, vice president; and Mrs. Omar Wiseman, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Guy Lonon gave a beautiful devotional, using as her theme the Christmas story, after which Mrs. Leonard Swafford gave a reading on "Going Home For Christmas."

Several games were enjoyed and the group sang Christmas carols while gathered around the piano. Gifts were exchanged by members of the club and Miss Garrett and Miss Kiser were remembered with gifts from the club.

Mrs. C. F. Lonon and Mrs. R. W. Lonon assisted the hostess in serving refreshments carrying out a color scheme of red and green.
