WEDNESDAY, NOV. 22, 1893.

The question of the re-establishment of State banks of issue is one which is attracting a good deal of discussion in the South at this time, and those who favor the proposition are of course anxious for a repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on State banks of circulation. It is argued that the State banks would furnish a local currency which would remain at home and furnish accommodation to the farmers and laboring people who cannot borrow money from the national banks for the reason that they have no security to offer save land.

The Chicago platform promises to repeal the 10 per cent. tax on State banks and give the people the relief that the country stands in need of. The Democratic party cannot go back on this solemn pledge without imperiling its success in the future. Of course we want more money, but we want the money we already have where we can get hold of it.

A bill should be introduced into the next Congress to tax incomes. A bill was introduced into the 51st Congress, we think it was, to tax incomes, the proposition being to raise $130,000,000 from the salaries of rich men and reducing the tariff which oppresses the poor. By taxing incomes England has been enabled to sustain one of the most expensive of governments. By this process of taxation the rich man is made to bear his share of the governmental burdens.

In America the poor whose incomes do not meet their security expenses, have to carry the burdens of the government. Every man, according to divine law, is responsible in proportion to his ability to do. The whole trouble in American government is this law is violated. It is the greatest of our abuses, and the consequence is that a few men are gradually getting possession of all wealth. With a reasonable reduction of the tariff, the moderate taxing of large incomes, a farther halt in federal pensions, the farmers and the poor who have character and industry ought to come up rapidly.

Dr. Pritchard has begun a series of articles in the Biblical Recorder on the higher education of women and the co-education of the sexes. We see no reason in the world why this is not practical, and we would rejoice to see the denominational colleges of the State throw open their doors to the young ladies who are denied the thorough course these colleges offer. No female college south of the Mason and Dixon line, is doing anything like the thorough work of our male colleges in North Carolina and our girls are entitled, at least, to advantages equal to our boys. We heartily endorse the advanced position taken by Dr. Pritchard, and we hope his articles will lead to practical action.—Laurinburg Exchange.

And we desire to add that we would rejoice to see the University throw open its doors to the young ladies. It stands at the head of our higher institutions of learning and the full benefits of its facilities should be offered to them. The young ladies are evidently knocking at its doors and to deny them entrance is to hold to the old exploded theory that they are mentally inferior to the young men.

Harvard has thrown its doors open to the women. That institution now has 260 female students. They pursue the same studies, have the same teachers and pass the same examination as the young men at Harvard. They are denied the right of degrees and diplomas, but that makes little difference when the brain has been rightly polished.

Look out for the higher education of women and the co-education of the sexes.

Journal of Legislature of 1780. News-O-server-Chronicle

In preparing the Records of 17-1781 for publication it has been found that the manuscript Legislature Journals of both the Senate and House for the year 1780 have been abstracted by some one from our archives. At that time (1781) printed copies were doubtless sent out. But not one of these is in possession of the State. Possibly among the descendants of the members of the Legislature of 1780 a copy has been preserved. If any one knows of the existence of a copy of the printed Journal of 1780 they will please address Judge Walter Clark, Raleigh, N. C., who has charge of this work.

Is Ransom Frightened?

The Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says: The Battle delegation the last of whom left to day, are all personal friends of Senator Ransom. One of them had a statement from him two days ago to the effect that he did not want the Judge's help, and yet after they had come on here, some of them said they thought Ransom would like to have the place offered to him. It is said by some of his friends that he is not doing a thing to get it but he really wishes it to go to the State, and rather than it should go elsewhere, will take it if tendered.

According to the Raleigh correspondent of the Messenger, J. C. L. Harris, the Napoleon of the Republican party in this State, says there will certainly be fusion between the Republican and Populist parties in this State next year and that the two parties will "divide" the nominations. He adds that such a division will suit the Republicans very well indeed. He announces his "platform" as "fair elections and more money." The Populists, it is said, feel greatly drawn toward Harris on account of his friendship toward them last year.

It is given out from Raleigh that the Republicans are now applying themselves to the study of how best to get the negroes to go with the Populists. It is said that next spring a great deal will be heard of this matter. Some of the Republicans are opposed to anything which will break up the organization of their old party, so there is likely to be a clash in the convention next year. Those who want Republicans to preserve their party lines cite the failure of the Populists to accomplish anything in Virginia and are disposed to ridicule their pretensions and bluster.

THE NEWS IN A NUT SHELL

Cumberland County sent five negroes up to the penitentiary at Raleigh last week. At the recent meeting of the stockholders of the C. C. Railroad in New York City the old officers were re-elected.

Senator Van was now at his mountain home near Asheville. The Senator is reported to be looking better than for many months past.

Commissioner John Robinson, Prof. Massey and Col. A. Q. Holiday will organize a Farmers' Institute at Whiteville, Columbus county, next week.

Many Northern people will spend the winter at Asheville and Southern Flies. Raleigh's high priests of progress are making an effort to get some of them to stop there.

Statistics show that nearly one fifth of the population of this State belong to the Baptist church. That church has made very rapid strides within the past twelve months.

Gov. Carr has been informed that another colony of Waldensians have arrived in Backe county where they have purchased lands.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. J. Sam Harper, a well known demagogue of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Carr-Cross, until recently proprietress of the Sanford Hotel, on the 29th inst. The nuptial knot will be tied at Raleigh.

There are 173 students at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. There are between 350 and 400 at the State University. Wake Forest and Davidson have 130 each, while the Greensboro Normal and Industrial has more than 300.

The Conference of the Christian Church of this State and Virginia met at Jonesboro yesterday. The Baptist State Convention meets at Elizabeth City on the 30th inst. The N. C. Conference will meet at Wilmington on the 6th of the ensuing month.

This far North Carolina exhibits at the World's Fair have won 124 medals and awards, and several "groups" are yet to be heard from. Col. Wharton J. Green has just received an award for his widely known "Tokay" wines, also Mr. J. K. Hoyt of Bannock for his "Engelside" wines. Several specimens of North Carolina granite "took the cake" at the Fair.

The N. C. Chronicle says: The discovery of a large deposit of green sand at New Bern, as stated in the Journal, is an event of great importance. Green sand has been found on the Cape Fear, but not in such quantities as to justify handling it. But at New Bern a bed has been found twenty feet thick, and if it proves as rich in phosphates as that on the Cape Fear, as that of New Jersey, it will prove of immense utility. A company of North Carolina gentlemen, part of whom reside in Baltimore, have purchased Sir Walter Raleigh's farm on Roanoke Island. They desire to purchase also 250 acres of land lying contiguous to the farm. It is their intention when the purchase has been completed to take the entire tract, fix it up suitably and reserve it in proper shape as a memorial of the first white settlers in America, the birth place of the first white child and the place where first the Christian rite of baptism was administered.

Congressman Alexander and Prof. W. F. Massey of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Raleigh have just returned from Nebraska, where they went to see the best sugar farms and factories in that State. Prof. Massey thinks the best sugar is likely to be introduced into our own State with profit. He says the principal part of the sugar that is used in this country is made from the beet, and that the beet produces a very fine quality of granulated sugar. He brings specimens of sugar made in twelve hours time from the green beet.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Messenger writes: The monument will be 61 feet high and of North Carolina granite. It will be 27 feet square at the base. Some of the stone used in its construction will be 23 feet in length. At the base of the shaft will stand two figures, one of a cavalry, the other of an infantry soldier. The shaft will have a very handsome Corinthian cap, and will be surmounted by a large figure (nearly 10 feet in height) of a soldier at "rest." These figures will all be of the finest bronze, and are to be cast in Munich, which is said to be the only place where pure bronzes can be obtained. The two medallions, one containing the seal of North Carolina and the other that of the Confederate States, will also be of bronze and will be cast at Munich.

Charlotte News: While a News reporter, was in Concord last night he made a few inquiries in regard to the Montgomery gold mine lately opened up under the management of Messrs. Church and Mabone, for Senators Jones of Nevada and Mabone of Virginia. Everything around the mine is kept very quiet and the employees under as strict rule in regard to "talking out of their mouths" as the railroad employes. But in two days and nights this week, during which time the mining machinery was run continuously, there was taken out 900 pounds weight of pure gold. The lump in the alloy weighs nearly five pounds. This is considered even remarkable by the Colorado miners, but shows what North Carolina dirt can produce.

Let 'Em Ring.

And soon the wedding bells will begin to ring out on the frisky air of night, and the young man and young maiden who have told their love will be in it for a while. They will hire a parson and the fellow's wopsy poppy will go with him and live with him and cling unto his coat tails until death wheels up in a hanging basket.

Also runs the world a way. We have been thinking about this to some extent, and what boots it? Suppose the maiden tait and fair to see desires to hitch on for life—to become the slave and lover of the man and all things like that. That ends it, and it sho'ld. There is reason why men and women who love each other, or who like each other, should "join" their miserable fortunes of war" and let it go at that. We expect to have some poetry on this subject pretty soon.—Durham Globe.
