Will the B. & O. Alsond the C. F. & V. TV?

The present receiver of the C. F. & Y. V., Gen, John Gill, to'ds large interest in the Rosnoke & Southern, and his it fluences strong with others who control the holdings of that road. The later railway was leased some time age to the Norfolk & Western rail wad for ninety nine years, but since this road has gone into liquidation. it forfeits its trust and the Roanoke & Southern bide f ir to form a con necting link between the Southern terminus of the B. & O. at Roanoke and the C. F. & Y. V. at Walnut Cove, a short cut to build of about thirty miles is all that is no ded to quicken the route. The wri er wa advised a few days since by an official of a competing line that the latter road has recently been run over and inspected by representatives of the Baltimore capitalists Gen. Gill is said to be a strong man at this centre.

Maxton market. On Monday the Bennettsville price was about 83 to 8.40, while Maxion's average price paid was 8,55, again 15 to 17 points in Maxton's favor. Thesday of this week at McColl the raling price for cotton was 8.33, while some sold as low as St. At Maxion the average price, paid was 855. Twenty odd points to Maxtons' advantage. We are told farmers living near Lumberton are Broad St., Avanta, Ga. handing their cotton to Maxten in order to obtain the better prices paid at the latter place. Here ngain the Maxton cot on market scores a winning point over all
