ROBT. MCKINNON GETS WEST POINT APPOINTMENT

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Neill McKinnon Honored by Congressman J. Bayard Clark; Fine Type of American Youth.

Robert Hector McKinnon, better known among his friends and acquaintances as "Chic," has received notification from the War Department that he has been selected by Congressman J. Bayard Clark to take the July examinations for admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point as a cadet. Mr. McKinnon is the first alternate among a long list of applicants. The name of the principal in the examinations could not be learned. In case of the principal's failure Mr. McKinnon is next in line. On information furnished the War Department Mr. McKinnon has been accepted unconditionally so far as mental examinations are concerned. The only examination that will be required of him will be a physical one.

Mr. McKinnon says he does not know anyone hard luck but he "shores up" to go to West Point.

Mr. McKinnon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Neill McKinnon and brother of Miss Flora McKinnon, society editor of The Red Springs Citizen. He was graduated from the Red Springs high school this year, standing fourth in his class of twenty-one. He is a young man of excellent character, almost perfect physique and carriage, and a good student—qualities which are needed by an army officer. His friends predict for him a great name in the military world.

Lloyd Huggins Shoots Self in Arm Accident

While rummaging in a dresser drawer for a necktie Tuesday about noon Lloyd Huggins suffered a bullet wound in his left arm. Among the ties in the drawer was a 25-calibre automatic pistol which in some way was discharged the bullet inflicting a painful flesh wound in the young man's left arm. Just what caused the gun to be discharged is not known. The bullet entered the fore arm about midway between the wrist and elbow ploughing through the flesh and coming out near the elbow. Fortunately, no bones were broken, but Mr. Huggins suffered considerable pain Tuesday afternoon and night.

J. T. Odom Brings First Blossom

Just as we were going to press last week Mr. J. T. Odom brought to The Citizen office the first cotton blossom of the season. Mr. Odom stated that he should have brought the blossom in the day before but just neglected to do so. We believe Mr. Odom has produced the first blossom of the state, as we have not seen anywhere an account of an earlier blossom.

Tuesday of this week we received through the mails a pink blossom from Claud Barnes, of Rennett, which was picked Monday.

Lumber Bridge News

On Sunday afternoon of last week about 3 o'clock, the planing mill of Mr. F. L. KING COTTON FEASTS IN SUN

Weather Has Been Made-to-Order Kind for Growing Purposes; Outlook Much Brighter.

The weather for the past several days has been ideal for cotton. Up until the middle of last week the outlook for a cotton crop was indeed gloomy but with the sun doing his stuff now the prospects are a hundred per cent brighter and so are the cotton farmers. With the exception of probably one day the past week has certainly been regular cotton weather, both day and night.

The farmers are in much better frame of mind now. There is plenty of time yet most of them agree, to raise a cotton crop if the weather will just stay as is. It is true plenty of weevil is reported from different sections, but with a scorching sun the weevil can do very little damage. Of course, it is a little early yet to make any forecast as to the outcome of the crop but the weather is ideal and the farmer has been given a new lease on life by it.

Dr. Moore-Miss Gates Married in Richmond

Dr. H. P. Moore and Miss Gertrude Gates were married at the home of the bride's sister in Richmond Monday evening, with only a few relatives and close friends present.

Mrs. Moore is an attractive young lady and although she has made Red Springs her home for only a short time, being connected with Flora Macdonald College, she has made many friends here. Her home was originally Richmond, Va.

Dr. Moore is prescription druggist with The Townsend Pharmacy and also has a host of friends in Red Springs, even though he, too, has only been here a short time.

Dr. H. P. Bowden and Miss Mary Lou Beard were the only local people attending the wedding.

Shower Given In Honor Recent Bride

On Friday afternoon, June 21st, Miss Edna Liles and Margaret Hodgkin entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Wade H. Leggett.

The Hodgkin home was artistically arranged with baskets of pink gladiolas, snap dragons and roses. On entering each guest was asked to write ten letters of the alphabet. Later they were told to write a telegram of advice to the bride using the letters previously written to begin each word. The bride was asked to read these and they proved to be very interesting. Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Smoak won the prize for completing a "Famous Lover's Contest." Misses Catherine McPhaul and Lila Liles won the prize for the "musical memory" contest and Mrs. J. W. McPhaul and Elizabeth Stutz arranged the brides new initials, which were cut in the form of a puzzle in the most attractive manner.

After the contests little Elizabeth Hodgkin pulled to the bride a wagon beautifully decorated with gifts. After a display of these Mrs. Leggett was presented with a unique book of "past made by friends." A delicious course of ice cream and cake was served. About 100 guests enjoyed the hospitality of Misses Hodgkin and Liles.

Strange Romance Is Woven Into Mystery Plot

"Chinatown Nights" at Red Springs Theatre 1. Was Exciting Activity of Chinese Tongs.

There is more mystery in one Chinese standing in a shadowy Chinatown doorway than in all the mystery stories ever written. And in "Chinatown Nights" which opens its two days run at the Red Springs theatre tonight, there are more than five hundred Chinese revealed in all the intriguing and little known business of their powerful tongs.

"Chinatown Nights" is a picture for everyone who loves drama, excitement and mystery. The suspense and action of the picture are excellently handled and the revelation of the inscrutable practices of Chinese tong life are surprising.

A superior cast of screen artists enacted this superb drama. Wallace Beery, Florence Vidor, Warner Oland and Jack Oekie head the cast of noted screen players. The picture was directed by William A. Wellman, the man who made "Wings."

"Chinatown Nights" is the story of a white boss of Chinatown who wins the love of a white society woman. She sacrifices everything for him but not until she is dragged down into the mire of the Chinese underworld, does he awaken to his love for her.

Those who see "Chinatown Nights" during its run at the Red Springs theatre will see one of the pictures which will win a leading place on the screen honor roll this year.

Novarro Has Ideal Role in "The Pagan"

Filming of Famous Book is Done Entirely on Tropical Island

"The Pagan," John Russell's dramatic novel of South Sea Island adventure and romance, with Ramon Novarro as the outstanding hero, is the attraction coming Monday and Tuesday to the Red Springs Theatre.

The play filmed in its entirety in the South Seas, is a vivid story of love and intrigue on a tropic island, with Novarro as a young islander, son of a pioneer settler and a native woman, in a grim battle with an itinerant white trader for the native girl he loves.

Sensational battles under water with man-eating sharks, hunting in the jungles, and other native thrills embellish the story.

Gorgeous tropical spots in the South Seas locales mentioned in the back ground.
