Young People Meet At Methodist Church

At their regular weekly meeting last Sunday evening the members of the Epworth League had as their guests the members of the Senior B. Y. P. U. and Senior Christian Endeavor. A fine program was presented by the Leaguers, which was much enjoyed by those present. The subject was "The Church," and those who appeared on the program which was in charge of Miss Catherine McLean, were Miss Johnnie Graham, Mrs. Louise Byrd, Miss Louise Mandeville and Miss Mattie Odom. Miss Mandeville and Miss Linda Cook sang a beautiful and impressive duet selection.

This is the first of a series of meetings to be held among the young people of the various churches of the town. The next meeting will be held in January and the program will be announced later. These meetings of young people of the different churches will be very interesting, and will give the members of each organization a knowledge of the work the others are doing.

ENTERTAIN B. Y. P. U.
Miss Grace and Mr. Vincent Strain entertained the members of the Intermediate Union of the Baptist church at a very enjoyable social at the home of their parents in the edge of town last Thursday night. Many games were played after which refreshments were served. Miss Olive Baxley is leader of this union.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL
Mr. B. W. Townsend, who has been a patient in Highsmith hospital for several weeks, has returned home and is getting along nicely.

Highway to Raeford Under Construction

People traveling over highway No. 70 have had to detour for several days between here and Raeford, a crew having been engaged in resurfacing the road. The tar-gravel surface on this section of highway has become worn and full of holes and workmen are leveling and adding another layer of gravel. Cars going to Raeford are routed over the Wagram road to Antioch when they go over the Wire road, entering the highway again in the edge of Raeford.

In this day of good roads, traveling on roads that are rough is a test of patience for most motorists, and they should not mind the going on detours for a few days for the sake of having a smooth road later.

Mr. S. M. Odom Passes Thursday

Funeral services for Mr. S. M. Odom, who died at the home of his niece, Mrs. T. F. Boehn, last Thursday, were conducted from Mrs. Boehn's home Friday by Rev. C. T. Rogers, pastor of the Red Springs Methodist church, assisted by Rev. S. F. Hudson, pastor of the Red Springs Baptist church. Burial was in Adonia cemetery.

The deceased was 74 years of age and had lived in Red Springs for the last fifteen years, moving here from South Carolina. He lived most of this time with Mrs. Boehn.

Surviving is one daughter, Mary, about twelve years of age. Mrs. Odom was also a cousin of Messrs. J. T. and J. D. Odom of this place.

Miss Mittie Smith gave a lovely bridge party to a number of her friends last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. A. F. Jones. Christmas decorations were used effectively in the living room.

Broadway Melody Will Score Smashing Hit

Drama, Comedy and Vivid Plot Well Blended in All Talking, Singing, Dancing Classic.

"The Broadway Melody," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, which comes to the Red Springs Theatre Monday and Tuesday, is one of the best-looking and most entertaining films which has come this way for a long time. And Bessie Love gives one of the most exciting performances that the pictures have ever recorded.

Anita Page, a lovely and intense lady of the best blonde coloring, if we may judge from the Technicolor sequence, supports Miss Love. Charles King, from the musical comedy stage, takes the role of the song-writer. They both give excellent performances.

"The Broadway Melody" was written by Edmund Goulding and is about as fine a job as could be done.

The plot, strangely enough in a film play about Broadway, is direct, forceful and tells a rattling dramatic story.

Mrs. Galloway Unveils Tablet To War Dead

Mother of First North Carolina Soldier To Be Killed in Action in France.

Wilmington, Dec. 10.—Mr. J. D. Galloway, mother of the first North Carolina soldier to be killed in action in France, unveiled the green bronze tablet commemorating the North Carolina dead of three wars when the twin spans over the Cape Fear were dedicated here today.

The tablet was placed in a boulder at the bridge entrance on the Wilmington side over the northeast Cape Fear river, and was unveiled immediately after Mrs. O. Max Gardner cut the ribbon which officially released traffic over the bridge.

Mrs. Galloway is the mother of Private George E. Galloway, who was killed in the action of February 20, the day of the German gas attack, according to a news dispatch carried the morning of February 25, 1918.

He was 22 years old and a son of the late D. W. Galloway, of fairmont, for many years cotton buyer for Messrs Alexander Sprunt & Son. He was a nephew of Dr. W. C. Galloway of Wilmington, and a brother of James Galloway, who lives now in fairmont, the name of his parents. Private Galloway enlisted in August of the year preceding his death, and soon after the United States entered the world conflict. He was rapidly trained in the regular army and a few months later embarked with one of the first divisions to go "over there." These facts were carried a few days after his death as a result of being gassed in the Wilmington Star under a Lumberton date line.

The tablet unveiled by Mrs. Galloway is of green bronze and dedicates the two twin bridges to the soldiers and sailors of North Carolina, who served in the War Between the States, the Spanish American War and the World War.

We are glad to see Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Stamps out after being confined to their room with deep colds contracted in that extreme cold weather.

The recent cold weather has been ideal for killing hogs and Lumber Bridge people have used it to advantage. The farmer who can kill 13 hogs and from them get 19 stands of lard has been diversifying for some time. This is the kind of farmers the state needs, and we have many of them in Lumber Bridge township. It would require too much space to report all the fine hogs that have been killed and laid away for use among our farm folk.

The P. T. A. will meet Thursday afternoon, Dec. 12, at 3:15. Every member is urged to be present. The high school pupils will present a program.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete tonight, but it is expected that the funeral will be held some time Monday. The body will be laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery. Dr. Clark was a native of Moore county, born near Jackson Springs, June 30, 1858. After graduating from Davidson College and Union Theological Seminary, he took up pastoral work in Robeson County. He was called to Bolivar, Tenn., in 1893, and went from Tennessee to Texas and then to Mississippi and Oklahoma. He entered upon his work as superintendent and evangelist of the Synod of North Carolina.

Dr. Clark was a member of the Synod of Oklahoma in 1915. In January, 1917, he returned to his native State to become superintendent and evangelist of Concord Presbytery. He was twice married. The first time to Miss Fannie Fowlkes of Rockingham, who died a few weeks after their arrival to Tennessee.

Lumber Bridge Boy Seriously Wounded In Cutting Scrape

Lumber Bridge, December 10th.—John McGhee a white boy about 18 years old, step-son of Lee Quick, was seriously cut by a crowd of Jackson boys. The crowd was near the home of Mark McMillan, a colored man, when the cutting occurred. The motive for the cutting has not been learned. Liquor seems to have played an important part in the affair. The cutting was thought to have been by a razor, several serious gashes were cut and one lung partly severed. The boy ran and fell in the door of the colored man. He gave what assistance he could and soon had a physician. McGhee stayed in the home of the colored man until Saturday evening when he was carried home. He is in a serious condition. Officers were notified and soon arrived and arrested George S. Rufus and Vivian Jackson, all others. They are being held awaiting results of the wounds.

Music Club Studies Musical Progress

On Thursday afternoon, at four o'clock, the Charles G. Vardell music club met in the parlors of Flora Macdonald college, Misses Elizabeth Clark and Louise Mandeville hostesses. Fifteen members were present. The study for the afternoon was the second chapter in "Epochs in Musical Progress." Miss C. S. MacMillan was leader, assisted by Misses Grace Goodman, Louise Carson, Eunice Pearsall, Mary McEachern and Mrs. W. B. Robeson. At the conclusion of the program punch and sandwiches were served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Martin McKinnon the second Thursday in January.

Makes Heavy Yield With Liberty Guano

Another production record has fallen this year in the amount of cotton raised on an acre of ground. From records just furnished The Citizen by Mr. John T. McNeill, Mr. McNeill picked 816 pounds of seed cotton from a plot of land 20 yards by 80 yards, a total of 1,600 square yards.

While this was only an experimental plot used to test out certain mixtures of fertilizer manufactured by the Liberty Manufacturing Company, and at the production yield if carried out over the farm would produce roughly two bales to the acre, it goes to show how the farmer's return from his land may be increased by the use of proper fertilizer and care to his crop.

Schoolmaster's Club Will Meet Here Soon

The members of the Schoolmaster's club of Robeson County will be the guests of the Red Springs graded schools and Superintendent Pugh at the next meeting of this organization in January. This will take place on the evening of the second in the high school building.

Child Fatally Burned At Rennert Thursday

Herbert McAlpin, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McAlpin of Rennert, was fatally burned Thursday afternoon and died in a hospital in Lumberton that night.

Members of the family being busy with household duties never noticed the absence of the child until it screamed. It had gone into the room where a fire was burning in an open fireplace and had secured a straw broom and stuck it in the fire. The fire caught his clothing and he received painful burns on chest, face, arms and back. The child was rushed to a hospital but passed away about 10 o'clock that night. Funeral services were held Friday. The children of Mr. McAlpin attend the Lumber Bridge high school.

BRITT-TOLAR

Lumber Bridge, Dec. 10.—Mrs. M. N. Tolar of Lumber Bridge announces the marriage of her daughter, Ruby Lee, to Mr. Sam C. Britt, of Lumberton, R. F. D. The marriage took place in Dillon, S. C., October 20th.

This announcement came as a surprise to the couple's many friends over the county. Mrs. Britt is the third daughter of Mrs. M. N. Tolar and the late N. S. Tolar of Lumber Bridge. She received her education at Wingate College and is a fine young woman, very popular among the younger set.

Mr. Britt is a prosperous young farmer of the county. He is a brother of Mrs. Furman Biggs of Lumberton and a nephew of Messrs Evander and Billy Britt and Dr. Britt of Lumberton. The couple have the good wishes and congratulations of the entire community.

Entertainment At College Friday Night In Interest of Needy

A community entertainment will be given in the college auditorium Friday night at eight o'clock. The program will be made up of various numbers and everyone attending is sure to be pleased. There will be songs by the graded school, short one-act plays, music, tableaux, solos and quartette by the college girls.

There will be a small admission charge and the proceeds will go to the community chest fund. This is the first year Red Springs has attempted an entertainment of this kind and it is hoped that as many as possible will attend and make it a big success.

Christmas Goods In Profusion In Stores Of Red Springs

Never before has Red Springs displayed such an attractive line of merchandise for the Christmas shopper.

A visit through the shops and stores reveals a fine discrimination on the part of the buyers, who have achieved wonderfully in selecting holiday gift goods that take the eye. The average citizen, making the rounds like this reporter, will find hundreds of items which he would be delighted to own, and more delighted to acquire as a gift.

The variety of the merchandise on display in Red Springs will surprise those who have not already looked over the local offerings. Our merchants have invested thousands of dollars in bringing to our doors a big line of suitable articles. The shoppers of Red Springs will do themselves an injustice if they fail to look over the stocks hand.

Of course the merchandise here does not compare with that on display in New York and Chicago and other larger cities. It isn't intended to, but thoughtful shoppers will be surprised to see the prices on commodities on sale in Red Springs. Many of the more progressive merchants are advertising their Christmas goods in this issue of The Citizen and others will call your attention to their wares next week. You can easily shop at home if you look through the advertisements and make up your list. However, the chances are, that after you get going into the stores, you will find many things that will make you change your mind.

BAID EAGLES FEWER

Juneau, Alaska.—In 1917 a bounty was placed on the bald eagle. Prior to 1927, 70,000 eagles had been killed. The bounty remains. The bald eagle has only one or two young ones a year. So had the passenger pigeon, the last of which died in the Cincinnati Zoological garden. It seems as though the bald eagle too is well on its way to extermination.

Spring's Not Far Behind

Andover, N. J.—"If winter comes, Spring's not far behind," said Brownling, and his contention seems to be borne out this year by the beaver. The beaver each year collects enough food and wood to carry him through the winter. This year the beaver has just begun the task generally started in October, thus indicating a very short cold season. The beaver has generally been a good forecaster.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boatwright were Charlotte visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Newton have moved to Dillon, S. C., where Mr. Newton has accepted a position.
