Miss Marie Cox United In Marriage To Taylorsville Man

A social event of interest throughout the Carolinas was the marriage of Miss Marie Josephine Cox of Red Springs to Ross Matheson of Taylorsville on Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The wedding was solemnized by an improvised altar of southern cypress and longleaf pine in the parlors of the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McMillan. The bride's pastor, Rev. J. B. Black of the First Presbyterian church performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Charles Vardell, President of Florida Normal College.

The bride, attired in a blue ensemble carrying pink roses and anonsia entered with her sister, Miss Agnes Cox, to the strains of the wedding march.

The groom was attended by his brother John D. Matheson of Lenior.

Religious music was rendered during the ceremony by Mrs. John H. Merritt, sister of the bride at the piano, Roland Brown, violinist. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony on a motor trip to Taylorsville, N. C., after a stay of April.

Red Lady Passes At Dundarrach Last Week

Mrs. Mary A. McMillan, wife of N. C. McMillan of Dundarrach, died at her home Wednesday afternoon, March 19, about 6 o'clock. She had been in poor health for several weeks, suffering from paralysis, and had been unable to be up and about the home most of the time, confined to her room only for two weeks prior to her death. She was the eldest daughter and child of the late S. P. and Sarah Nelson Clapp, former being a native of Guilford county, coming to this section of Robeson county and many years after the war was engaged in the turpentine and timber business. Mrs. McMillan had entered her 76th year of age, born March 11th, 1855. She had been for many years a constant member of the Presbyterian church and was an affectionate wife, mother, a thoughtful and helpful neighbor and friend, attentive to home affairs and always deeply concerned about those dependent on her, she was one that "looked to the ways of her household and let not the bread of idleness." Her going is a distinct loss to the family and she will be missed. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Charles McMillan, one daughter, Bessie McMillan, one brother, Joe Clapp of Statesboro, Ga., two sisters Mrs. John A. McMillan of Statesboro, Ga., Mrs. J. Clifton of Lumber Bridge, and John W. Shaw of Orlando, Fla., grand-son Mr. Raymond Hall of Ham, and one great-grand-son, Mr. Raymond Hall, Jr., six nephews besides many nephews and nieces spread over the southern states. Her funeral was conducted from the church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by her pastor Rev. A. D. White, assisted by Rev. Geo. W. Hester, pastor of Antioch church. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining that church. A large number of relatives and friends were present, many coming from a distance, which, in a small way, manifested the esteem in which the deceased was held. The active pallbearers were Jesse Gibson, J. A. McMillan, N. A. McMillan, C. F. McBryde, and H. C. McMillan.

Miss Lillian Nance Injured In Wreck

Miss Lillian Nance of Lumberton, who has charge of the teacher-training department of the Sampson county schools at Salemburg, had a narrow escape from death Saturday afternoon when the car in which she was riding was struck and badly wrecked by a big G. M. C. truck near Angier.

Miss Nance was returning from the State teachers' meeting in Raleigh, riding alone in a Ford coupe. About 2:30, within a mile of Angier, she met the truck which had on it 3 or 4 boys. The youthful driver of the truck, a son of O. B. Currie of Angier, threw up his hand to wave at someone about the time the vehicles were meeting, lost control and crashed into the car. Miss Nance said she saw the truck-headed for her and got as far to the right of the road as possible. A big ditch was beside the highway.

Miss Nance was thrown out of her car, across the ditch and into a field, the blow rendering her unconscious. She was picked up and carried to a physician in Angier where her wounds were treated. There was a long laceration on her head which required 8 stitches to close. Her right ankle was dislocated, making it impossible for her to walk; and there were several bruises on her body. Only one of the boys on the truck, the smallest of the number, was injured, he receiving a cut lip. The car was practically demolished and the truck was badly damaged.

Miss Nance was brought to the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baggett, of this place Saturday night. Although still suffering from bruises she returned to her work Sunday. She was accompanied back to Salemburg by Mr. and Mrs. Baggett and daughter Miss Louise, the latter a student under her in the teacher training work; also by Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Lumberton.

Miss Nance is also a sister of Mrs. Hartman Baxley of this place.

Blaze Threatened Dwelling Wednesday

A blaze which for a while looked as if it might cause serious damage started in the roof over the kitchen in the residence of Mr. John Graham Wednesday morning about the middle of the forenoon. Prompt arrival of the fire department and most efficient work on the part of the fire fighters prevented the flames from spreading to other parts of the house. Consequently the damage done was small, water doing about as much harm as the fire itself.

The fire apparently started from a defective fire in the kitchen. The first intimation of it was when a colored woman who was helping Mrs. Graham with the house work happened to be in the back yard and noticed flames shooting from under the shingled roof. Had it not been for fast work on the part of the fire department the fire would undoubtedly have reached the main part of the building and with the wind blowing at such a strong rate it would have been difficult to control. Nearby property would have been in danger, if not actually destroyed.

Methodist Happenings

The mission study class met last Wednesday. This was the last meeting, the class having completed the study "The Church and the World Parish." After the lesson, the class entered into a social hour, which seemed to be enjoyed by everyone present. First came the examination questions, one each in history, grammar, math, geography and reading. Mrs. McLean was asked to tell a story, and she very interestingly told the story of the "Goose With One Leg," this being followed by Mrs. McRae telling of the worst scrape she ever was in. She outlined it thus: which, where and when? Miss Mandeville was asked to describe someone in town, and the class was to guess who. Mrs. J. T. Odum had been asked to write a joke on each member of the class. Indeed they were rich. Time and space will not permit me to give them all. Mrs. J. A. Singleton, much to the surprise of her class associates, was thinking of entering college in the fall as a voice student; Mrs. M. J. Covington's friends will be surprised to know of her having a permanent. We felt very sorry for Mrs. L. S. Newton in the absence of her grandchildren, having to find consolation in rocking Celia's doll. Mrs. A. B. Watson in thinking she was losing weight, was taking an extra quart of milk.

Mrs. Will Graham and Miss Eunice Pearsall were blindfolded and each given a dish of corn flakes and asked to feed each other. This created a great deal of merriment. Hazel Mae Jones, representing a Chinese, Kathleen Odum, a Japanese, Lillian Hamilton, a Mexican cowboy, were introduced to the class and they gave a short recitation on "The Day Nursery" in our missions.

Hot chocolate, sandwiches and toasted marshmallows were served. The class presented Miss Mandeville with a box of beautiful handkerchiefs in appreciation of her work with the class.

The Epworth Juniors held their regular meeting Monday afternoon at the church, the president, Annie Ruth Cope, had charge of the meeting. In spite of rain, the meeting was well attended and several new members, bringing the roll up to fifty.

The ladies of the Missionary society have been busy and with the help of some of the men, have the church yard now in splendid shape. We are sure those passing have noticed the change. Misses Eunice Pearsall and Kathleen McLean have planted flower seed. The ladies have put out shrubbery, grass has been sown and ere the summer passes, we expect to see the results of such labor.

REGULAR BAND OF SHOPLIFTERS NABBED HERE

Four Negro Women Caught With the Goods; Had Articles From Nearly Every Store In Town; Lifted Only Clothing.

Jessie McNair, Annie Jones, Mamie McNair and Rosie McMillan, all colored, of Lumber Bridge, were nabbed here Saturday afternoon by local police after they had visited most of the town's leading clothing stores and stolen articles from them.

The four shoplifters, whom it is thought are members of an organized gang, were spotted in the store of the John J. Thrower Company about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They paid the Thrower Company a visit during the rush hours of the middle afternoon when the clerks were all busy waiting on customers. One of the clerks in the store was attracted to the women by suspicious movements of them made. Calling the bookkeeper from his office she told him what she had seen and asked him to keep an eye on the Negroes while the other clerks were busy. But the bookkeeper was too late. A dress had already been taken from the rack and the purloiners had disappeared. Going out on the street he soon spotted them coming from another store. The police had arrived by that time and by trailing the group he found a wagon and a bunch tied behind Garrett and McNeill's store, which were literally loaded with the stolen goods.

Hailed before the Recorder Jessie McNair and Rosie McMillan pleaded guilty while Annie Jones and Mamie McNair pleaded not guilty. All were found guilty by the court, however, and were given sixty days in jail. The sentences were later changed to $10.00 fine and costs in each case.

Goods found in the wagon was identified by the merchants from whose stores they were taken; some from Graham Company, some from J. A. Singleton and Co., The John J. Thrower Company, W. P. Covington, Miss Katie R. Brown, and W. J. Council's Department Store and T. Mikill's.

This gang in all probability had been systematically working this and neighboring towns all winter. Had the Thrower Company not acted as promptly as they did the wagon load of stolen merchandise would have been on its way to the country as the occupants of the wagon, when searched, gave every indication that they were just getting ready to leave town.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Evidence must be submitted prior to April 6, 1930, to show service connection for a disability other than nervous and mental disease, spinal meningitis, and active tuberculosis disease, paralysis agitans, encephalitis, lethargica, or amoebic dysentery, unless there is an official record of the injury during service or at the time of separation from active service. April 6, 1930, is the last date for filing claim for compensation. These limitations are covered by Sections 206 and 209 respectively of the World War Veterans' Act.

A bill now pending in Congress provides that Section 206 and 209 of the World War Veterans' Act be repealed. Veterans legislation in congress has been unaidably delayed on account of high government officials and members of congress. While it is apparent that Sections 206 and 209 of the World War Veterans' Act will be repealed during this session of congress, just when we do not know and the thought has occurred to us that in order there may not be any unnecessary delay for those veterans needing clinical or fiscal relief they should make application therefor on or before April 6, 1930. If claim has already been filed and further evidence is required some should be submitted to the Veterans' Bureau on or before April 6, 1930.

220,000 votes, which was 63,000 more votes than any candidate for Governor of either party had received prior to that time.

Judge Parker moved to Charlotte in 1922 to take up the practice of law in this city.
