Elizabethtown DAR Meets With Miss Cornelia McMillan

Miss Cornelia McMillan was hostess to the Battle of Elizabethtown Chapter of the DAR on last Saturday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Freddie Butler of Roseboro, Regent, presided at the meeting and the program was begun with the usual opening exercises and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Delegates to the North Carolina Conference were absent at this time and their report was not given. Mrs. D. S. Currie and Mrs. H. C. Bridger were appointed as delegates to Washington.

After a short business session Miss McMillan presented Miss May MacEachern, who in turn introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Miss Carol Robertson, head of the History at Flora Macdonald college. Miss Robertson gave a most interesting talk on current events especially stressing the Atlantic Pact.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a delicious salad course and coffee to the following members: Mrs. Freddie Butler of Roseboro, Mesdames J. D. Johnson, Annie Belle Cromarrie, and Miss Annie Belle Sloan of Garland, Mrs. D. S. Currie of Perinton, Mrs. Charlie Rankin of Fayetteville, Mrs. D. D. King of Lumberton, Mrs. C. R. Jordan, Mrs. Mattie Clark, and Mrs. Carl Lyon of Elizabethtown, Mrs. H. C. Bridger and Mrs. J. L. Bridger of Bladenboro and Mrs. P. H. Myers and Mrs. Spurgeon Cannady of Tar Heel.

Other guests were Mrs. G. T. Bullock, Mrs. Martin MacKinnon, Mrs. John Denny, Mrs. E. H. Alexander, Mrs. Pete Stanton, and Misses Mary E. MacMillan, Jane MacMillan, Mary MacEachern, and Mae Brown.

Miss Elliott To Be Presented In Recital

Miss Carolyn Lee Elliott of Edenton, a member of the junior class at Flora Macdonald college, who will receive her A. B. degree with a voice major, in 1950, will be presented in her junior voice recital on Saturday evening, April 16, at 8:15.

Miss Elliott is the pupil of Miss Ethel Rowland. Her accompaniments will be played by Miss Alice McMillan of the music faculty.

Miss May Boone Named To NCEA Librarian's Post

Miss Mae Boone, librarian of the Red Springs schools, was named chairman of the Librarian's group of the North Carolina Educational association which concluded its annual convention at Asheville last Saturday.

Miss Boone, Mrs. Geneva L. Martin, president of the local unit of NCEA, Walter R. Dudley, superintendent of schools, Miss Lillian Nance, principal of the elementary school, and Mrs. Dorothy Carruth, delegate, were those from Red Springs attending the convention.

The discussions of the convention were based on the general themes of improved quality of instruction, and better community-school relations.

The first session was opened with a concert by the All-State high school orchestra. Hartzell Spence, author, and Dr. Clarence W. Crawford, Washington minister, were among the principal speakers.

Cpl. James McVickers of Camp Kilmer, N. J., is spending ten day leave with his mother, Mrs. Flossie McVickers.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moffatt of Milford, Conn., were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Baxley.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Little and children of Lumberton visited Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McRacken on Sunday.

Warren McNeill, Jr., student at the University, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McNeill.

Interesting Reports Made At UDC Meet

Mrs. John T. McNeill, Jr., and Mrs. C. M. Rakestraw were joint hostesses at the April meeting of the Camp Ryan chapter UDC at the home of Mrs. McNeill last Wednesday evening.

The president Miss Cornelia McMillan, reported that all taxes and causes had been met, totaling $133 dispensed during the year. She also reported one new member received into the chapter during the past year, and six transfers from the Children's chapter. Mrs. David Brown, leader of the children's chapter, stated that several members of the C of C are entering the annual state essay contest for high school students.

A report was made by the president on the recent district meeting in Dunn, after which an interesting program of Southern Melodies was presented by six juniors and seniors from the local high school. Miss Lois Lambie, supervisor of public school music, was in charge of the program, and divided it into four sections—Early 1800; pre-war and the sixties; spirituals; and war songs of the Civil War. Group singing of "Dixie" closed the program. Students on the program were Eunice Duncan, Lucy Morrison, Joan Stevens, Christine Armstrong, Elbert McPhaul and Buddy McNeill.

A sweet course was served with coffee to 30 club members and guests, who included the young singers, Miss Lambie, and Mrs. J. H. Woodward of Murrell's Inlet, S. C., house guest of the hostess.

Mrs. McMillan Hostess

Mrs. R. D. McMillan Sr., was hostess to her Fayetteville Book club, The Cross Creek Club, at her home last Thursday afternoon. Those members attending the meeting were entertained with a delightful dinner at 5 o'clock.

George Nurnberger, Jr., of Charlotte arrived Saturday to spend the weekend with his mother, Mrs. George Nurnberger. His wife returned home with him on Sunday after spending last week in Red Springs.
