Recreation

Recreation Center And Park Needed

Hed Springs—At the meeting of the Rotary club last Friday night James W. Carruth, town recreational director, submitted a report in the summer recreation program, now well into its third month.

Mr. aCrruth pointed out that the bisic principle underlying the planning of the recreation program was that of progreding eartfully.

puanning of the recreation program was that of proceeding carefully in the institution of features in the program so as to avoid overlacing the abilities of those hendling it thus avoiding any set back caused by the failure of too ambitious a schedule. The in niced broader more inclusive program of this summer would be laid.

Program Divided
The playground program, divided into two sections: Morting for children of 12 and under ofter noon, for children over twelve, has net with a solid reaction.

The morning group his emaged in free play, agmies of now organization and budminton.
The afternoon group his emaged in badminton, horseshoes, croquet, doigeball, volleyball, softball and baseball.

A baseball team or teams has net normed in each group. Difficulty was experienced in send-uling games for the boys of 12 or under.

Harden Runs Gamut, From Swamps To Fire

That dense, forbidding stretch of country, the Great Dismal swamp, in eastern North Carolina is the subject of this week's Tales of Tar Heelia featured by Tale-Spinner John Hurden. From the swamp he moves to another part of constal Carolina, the "Lost Colony" area, and relates details of the tragic fire that swept through the summer theater recently. He concludes on a historic note with the planned renovation of the oldest man-made waterway in the state, the canal that sonthe state, the canal that nects Elizabeth River in ginla with the Albemarie's in North Carolina.
