

THE HIGHLANDER,

MACON COUNTY AND WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA ADVERTISER.

Vol. 1. HIGHLANDS, MACON COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1885. No. 5.

Dr. Frost is about to visit Virginia, and will reside there for a time.

*Colonel Evans has rented Dr. Frost's house.

We understand that Mr. Stewart, Sr., of Webster, contemplates moving on to his place near Highlands, very soon.

Our readers are reminded that the dedication of the Presbyterian church takes place Sunday after next.

Now that it will soon be time to put up stoves, every body should see that their stove pipes and flues are thoroughly cleaned.

The price of the Blue Ridge Baptist has been raised from $1 to $1.50. It is a good paper, and worth the increased price. THE HIGHLANDER, however, will be kept along at one dollar.

The event chronicled in another column of THE HIGHLANDER, in which the editor was an interested party, must be our excuse for the delay in the appearance of this number.

Hatton Turnor, Esq., and Mrs. Turnor, of Lincolnshire, England, are travelling in the South in their own conveyance, and have been stopping at Mayor Hill's for a few days. They left for Franklin to-day, and intend to winter in Florida.

Another wolf hunt took place over at Whiteside on Thursday last. The hunters, however, failed to get sight of the "varmints," though the dogs fought with them in the laurel thickets. Mr. Maguire's dogs were badly bitten.

A number of inland revenue officers came into Highlands on Sunday last, and on Monday morning took Ben Webb to Franklin on some charge of dealing with whiskey in an unlawful manner, concerning which there are contradictory reports. Webb has since returned home, having been bound over in the sum of $200 to appear at the Fall term of court.

J. S. Tomlinson announces that he will begin at an early day at Asheville the publication of a twenty-four page paper called COUNTRY HOMES, which will be devoted to the Agricultural and Industrial pursuits of North Carolina, the Development of the Resources of the State, and to all interests that tend to make home happy and prosperous.

The Asheville Citizen, in enumerating the number of Western North Carolina resorts that are doing well and which give token of what is to come in the future when the West is better known, well remarks:—"And it may be added when it is better prepared to accommodate visitors. The fact cannot be too forcibly repeated that the requirements of the times are not yet met."

The Lenoir Topic reports an earthquake which lately occurred around Grandfather mountain and along the backbone of the Blue Ridge. Houses shook and dishes rattled, and people were very much frightened. A huge rock overhanging a precipice rocked, and the leaves of the trees were violently agitated, though there was not a breath of air stirring.

The Swannanoa Hotel at Asheville furnishes guests with beefsteaks brought from New York. So says the Citizen.

There seems to be a great scarcity of good beef and butter at Asheville, on which state of things the Citizen makes the following sound reflections: "This state of affairs is a grave reflection upon the industry and intelligence of the people. Industry might find a field in which it would always be rewarded; and intelligence would look far beyond home for a return for its exercise. Beef and butter are what all want, and all need, for which good prices will always cheerfully be paid. Now we pay very reluctantly very high prices for very bad beef, and we pay no prices at all for butter, because it is scarcely to be had at any price. And this is a reflection upon a mountain and a pastoral country."
