

A VIRGINIA SENSATION.

The Extraordinary Experience of a Prominent Richmond, Va. State...

Mr. Crawford, however, is so well known in Richmond that no affidavits are necessary in his case. His remarkable experience is well worth perusal to the end...

Imagine my surprise then when a few months ago I met him in Staunton he was in better health than ever. I imagined he was 'pat' head up, but I was mistaken for you might meet 200 healthy men and not find one in the lot who presents more the appearance of a perfectly healthy man than he. He gives me the following additional particulars...

"After reaching my home I took my bed and the outlook was that when I left it would be for a march to the tomb. Convulsion followed convulsion in my agony my clenched hands drove the nails of my fingers into the flesh of my palms...

"This I lay suffering. All was gloom. At last some kind angel suggested that I use Warner's safe cure. It was administered to me and the fourth bottle had not been exhausted before some good effects showed themselves. While I thus lay between two worlds I chanced to read in one of Warner's advertisements...

"Some constitutions are liable to constipation. When this is the case take Warner's safe pills. My wife sent for some and I took a dose, and soon thereafter I seemed a new creature in a new world. I felt and knew I was cured, and so I was, for now after a lapse of many years I am sound as a dollar with no symptoms of my old trouble, and have only Warner's safe cure and Warner's safe pills to thank for my health, which under God is provided me. I have regained and I take great pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others as to its efficacy. I owe my life to the use of those most excellent medicines..."

Mr. Crawford, senior partner of Crawford & Lalley, of the St. Charles Hotel, is a man whose word is pre-eminence for probity all over the South. When the above thrilling story was sent us by Messrs. Warner & Co. they authorized us to offer $5000 to any person who will prove that any testimonial used by them is not strictly true so far as they know. They also say that wonderful as is the above, they can produce many thousands of similarly striking proofs of permanent cure when all other remedies failed.

Ingenious Frauds. Two men named Bernard and Fourcade have been sentenced to six and twelve months imprisonment respectively for having practiced a series of very ingenious frauds on keepers of public houses in Paris. They were in the habit of visiting the landlords and offering them barrels of excellent wine at greatly reduced prices. The liquor which they gave the publicans to taste was superb, and the bargain was generally concluded on the spot. A few days afterward the unlucky dealer found that the wine which he had bought was detestable. Since their conviction the men have made a full confession. Bernard used to keep a small bottle of good wine up his sleeve, and when he made a pretense of filling the glass from the barrel, he was in reality giving his customer the contents of this bottle to taste. The trick was carried out with considerable address, and was never detected by his dupes. Another "dodge," to quote his own expression, was to pour into a barrel of 200 litres, forty litres of first-class wine, the remainder of the barrel was then filled up with water, slowly inserted by means of a pipe. The wine remained at the top; the barrel was pierced high up, and the buyer was again persuaded to taste the liquor to show that there was no deception. Delighted with his bargain he put down the money then and there, only to discover after a brief lapse of time that he had been cheated outrageously.—London Telegraph.

By a late decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, wagon keepers are made responsible for any injury, loss or damage suffered by their patrons in the saloons, or as a consequence of their visits there.

The New Prize Story is eagerly sought for, read with pleasure or disappointment, is then tossed aside and forgotten. But ladies who read of Dr. Farrow's Favorite Prescription, read it again for they discover in it something to prize—a messenger of joy to those suffering from functional derangements or any of the painful disorders or weaknesses peculiar to their sex. Periodical pains, internal inflammation and operation, readily yield to its wonderful curative and healing powers. It is the only medicine for women sold by druggists, and is the only one for which the manufacturer guarantees that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.
