THE KNOLLWOOD AIRPORT DEDICATION

- A United States Senator.
 - An Assistant Postmaster General.
 - A Brigadier General.
 - A Member of Congress.
 - An Army Air Squadron.
 - A Battery of Field Artillery.
 - A Stunt Flier.
 - A Parachute Jumper.
 - A Squadron of Planes from the Carolina Aero Club.
 - A U. S. Army Band.
- And we're not at all sure we haven't forgotten some of the program.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIST PACT

Japanese unofficially have made clear here that they would exchange information about the Chinese conflict with the signatories of the nine power treaty, but not with outsiders. Russia, not a signatory to the treaty which pledges respect for China's territorial integrity, was invited to the conference because of her important interests in the far east.

The Litvinoff bolt was all the more sensational because British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden already has returned from London for continued conference sessions, and French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos is coming tonight.

It was reported Litvinoff was incensed particularly over any plan to name Italy to membership on a proposed conciliation committee and to ignore Russia. (Russian resentment has been heightened by Italian adherence to the German-Japanese pact against Bolshevism.)

Litvinoff leaves Vladimir Potemkin, Russian ambassador to France, to represent his nation.

S. P. CHAMBER MEETS

Only routine business was discussed at a meeting yesterday noon at Jack's Grill of directors of the Southern Pines Chamber of Commerce. The board voted to invite a future meeting and tell of the association's plans for advertising and improving the highway.

CORINA'S SHOP OPENS; MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Former patrons of Corina's Shop, owned by S. A. Razook, were given a pleasant surprise last Monday at the annual opening of the shop when they viewed the many improvements and innovations made there in preparation for the current season.

Besides the addition of several cleverly decorated private fitting rooms, the entire front portion of the shop has been completely changed, allowing patrons much more room than in former years. Better lighting arrangements have been made and the whole shop painted and fitted in keeping with the standards established and maintained by Mr. Razook in former years.

Though at the present time Mr. Razook is in New York on a buying trip, renovations are still quietly going on, with the adding of even more fitting rooms contemplated.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

were puzzling. Eric was working on a supply of British and United States golf balls, which vary slightly in weight, size and response.

Jack Livingston of the Club Chalfonte holed a pitch shot for a three at the fifth hole on No. 2 and astonished William Rupp of Buffalo. At the sixteenth hole Livingston holed his tee shot for an ace. Both Mr. Livingston and Mr. Rupp were astonished.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull introduced Congressman Walter Lambeth of this district to Pinehurst's putting greens yesterday and in a most informal sort of a game, the statesman was a number of holes up on the legislator.

Paul Runyan was very happy about his first round on the championship No. 2 course, a well played 72.

A strong team in the amateur-professional bestball match which will precede the Mid-South events next week will be Halbert J. Blue of Aberdeen and Dick Metz of Chicago.

William C. Fownes, Jr. of Pittsburgh has returned to Pinehurst for the winter and will entertain a number of Pittsburgh golfers during the Mid-South events. Professionals from the Pittsburgh district who will be in the party are Emil Loeffler, Oakmont, Perry Del Vecchio, Greensburg, Ted Luther, Youngstown, and E. Vincent Eldred, Highland. Mrs. Charles Jones, Pittsburgh, will complete the party.

Culled from last night's AP sports comments by Eddie Brietz:

Latest candidate for the "red face" club is Halbert J. (Buck) Blue of Aberdeen, N. C. . . in the last 25 years he has played thousands of rounds over the golf courses at near-by Pinehurst, but never crashed Prof. Paul Michelson's hole-in-one club . . . last week he entertained Hampden M. Swift of the St. Louis Swifts . . . Imagine how Mr. Blue felt when his guest hit a No. 5 iron so perfectly it popped into the 14th hole . . . (Mr. Swift's first round at Pinehurst, too).

Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, Ohio, one time winner of the North and South women's championship, will return to Pinehurst competition this season, after a four years absence from competitive golf. She started playing again this summer and won the Youngstown city title. Her qualifying score was 79. Miss Fordyce was considered one of the best of the women iron stroke players.

Old timers made scores in the sixties in Pinehurst. In 1911 Walter J. Travis won the medal in the Holiday tournament here with a 69. He was eight strokes in front of the field, as Bob Hunter, the Intercollegiate champion was around in 77. Travis, who at the time was British amateur champion, won the Holiday event. A score of 89 made the first flight and Richard S. Tufts of Boston, 15 years old, did a score of 108 and won the third flight.

Although the foremost golfing talent in America has been shootin' and shootin' at the Number Three course here for some years, Purvis Ferree, a local boy and executive-secretary of the Carolina Golf Association, played the lowest round recorded, when he was out in 32 and home in 31 for a score of 63. Horton Smith's 65 was the best up to the Ferree blast.

Donald Currie, Pinehurst caddy master was a sort of hero when the Pinehurst stables burned. Standing at the front door of the barn, Currie was the first line of defense when the horses tried to run into the burning building. He hit one colt with a terrific right, which threw the horse off balance but prevented it from entering the stables.

Dick Metz declined an offer to tour the Orient as the guest of A. D. Lasker of Chicago because he feels he has fewer seasons to play top notch golf and build a reputation than he has to sit around the important night clubs of Tokio and Shanghai.
