Progressive Euchre at the Berkshire.

A progressive euchre party was held in the parlors at the Berkshire last Tuesday evening and proved one of the most enjoyable social events of the season. The partners for the first game were chosen in a novel manner, the gentlemen being given the names of noted characters and were then auctioned off, the bidders not knowing who represented the names given until after the auction was over. This caused considerable fun and added greatly to the evening's pleasure. All present are looking forward to the next social event at this hostelry.

PUNCENCIES.

Married people should be more careful to avoid the first quarrel than the first scratch on their new furniture; but they are not.—Atchison Globe.

She—Don't you think, dear, it would have been better to look up that cook's references? He—Dear me, no. They might not have been satisfactory.—Life.

Weary Wanderer—Yes, madam, the Lord loves a cheerful giver. Benevolent lady—Well, here's 5 cents. I'm more cheerful than if I had given you $1.—Norristown Herald.

Bill—There are lots of diamonds over there in the Transvaal. Jill—Is that right? Perhaps, then, this trouble is only a row over a base ball game, after all.—Yonges Statesman.

She—George, is that one of those cigars I gave you on your birthday? He—No; I'm saving those for my friends. She—You dear, self-sacrificing, unselfish man!—Ohio State Journal.

Physician (giving advice)—Lastly, McGorry, don't go to sleep on an empty stomach. McGorry (who is ailing)—No danger ay thot, docthor; Oi always shape on me back.—Harper's Bazar.

Mrs. Newlywed—I was going to have some sponge cake as a surprise for you, dear, but I confess it was a failure. Mr. Newlywed—What was the matter? Mrs. Newlywed—I don't know for sure, but I think the druggist sent me the wrong kind of sponges.—Philadelphia Record.

Uncle Zebulon, from a back township, was on a visit to his nephew in the city; and they went to a restaurant for dinner. Waiting for their order to be filled, the younger man, glancing at a paper that lay on the table, said, "By the way, uncle, did you ever have cerebro-spinal meningitis?" "No," replied Uncle Zebulon, after a few moments' mental struggle; "and I don't want any. I'd rather have fried liver and bacon any day."—Youth's Companion.

A little friend of mine recently gave a birthday party, and among the guests was a youngster who lived in the West end. He seemed to enjoy the affair immensely, but when the clock struck 9 he suddenly burst into tears. When asked what was the matter, he said: "My mamma won't come and get me." "Oh, yes, she will," said the hostess, trying to keep from laughing. "I say she won't," sobbed the little fellow, "she always goes to bed at 9 o'clock."—Albany Journal.
