THE HOLLY INN

PINEHURST, N. C.

The Holly Inn is one of the most attractive hotels in the South. Since it was built in 1895, it has been necessary to enlarge it several times to meet the constantly increasing demand. The interior is elegant, cheerful and tasteful. No modern convenience is lacking. There are bath rooms, electric lights, steam heat and open fireplaces. There is a call bell in every room, and all beds are furnished with best hair mattresses. An orchestra furnishes fine concerts daily, and also provides for dancing. The cuisine is unsurpassed. The waitresses are all white girls from the North. Rooms for billiards and other games are provided in the hotel.

Rates: $3 per Day and Upwards; $18 per Week and Upwards.

A. I. CREAMER, Manager.

AT THE HOTELS!

Opening of the Magnificent Carolina an Important Event.

Many Arrivals at The Holly Inn, The Berkshire and The Harvard—
Social Pleasures—Other
Hotel News.

The opening of Pinehurst's magnificent hotel, The Carolina, is an important event indicating as it does that the season is well begun. The hotel is again under the efficient management of H. W. Priest, who has been in charge since its opening in 1900, and it begins the season of 1903 better prepared than ever before, to cater to the tastes of people of refinement and culture.

There is nothing half-way about The Carolina opening. It does not start in half-equipped to await the coming of a "crowd," before preparing to care for it; but when it opens its front doors to guests it opens every department fully prepared to care for all who come, and thus it is each year, that many guests are always at the various hotels waiting for this important event and others come so as to reach here upon the eve of opening. The list of early arrivals is large and will be found in "The Pinehurst Directory."

The House Warming Hop.

The opening of The Carolina was observed with an informal but pleasant hop, Saturday evening, in which guests from the hotels and cottages participated, this the first of the season here, promises well for the series of Germans, dances, and the like which are always a feature of the winter.

The Sunday Dinner.

Next in importance to the hop was the Sunday dinner. The menu a dainty souvenir, a symphony in lavender and white without, and a harmony to delight epicures within. Here it is:

The Hotel Officers.

Manager Priests' staff of officers is this year, an especially efficient one. H. B. Locke of Boston, the room clerk is a hotel man of wide experience. He was at one time, one of the managers of the Hotel Worthy, Springfield, Mass., and last summer manager of the Lincoln House at Swampscott. During the summer of 1901 he was at Hotel Preston with Mr. Priest.

E. R. Wingate, the cashier, who is back for his second season, has by uniform courtesy won many friends. He was with Mr. Priest at Hotel Preston last summer.

Frank M. Hunt of the Forest Hill House, New Hampshire, is night clerk.

The "back of the house" is in charge of C. W. Colby, as steward, who has been with Mr. Priest for years and who has a wide circle of acquaintances.

Anthony Danzi, the chef, was for four years at the Manhattan Club, New York, and he has been at The Maplewood, New Hampshire, at Palm Beach, The Frontenac in the Thousand Islands, The Chamberlin, at Old Point, and The Plaza in New York, and elsewhere.

Alex. Berger, the pastry chef, has spent three seasons at the Ponce de Leon, and two at the Colonial, Nassau. He opened the Majestic New York and the Jefferson, Richmond. He has also been at The Maplewood, New Hampshire, The Navarre, New York, and elsewhere.

J. A. Sherrard, head waiter, has been at The Carolina since its opening and his genial personality has made him extremely popular. He has had a general hotel experience. For the past two summers has been at the Hotel Preston with Mr. Priest.

Fred M. Knight, the head porter, has been with Mr. Priest for many years and at The Carolina since its opening.

Bennett J. Redmond, who was on the "row" last year, comes this year as head bellman.

Mrs. E. R. Wingate (nee Murphy) is here for her second season as housekeeper.
