

The Pinehurst Outlook

VOL. VI., NO. 20.

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 1903.

PRICE THREE CENTS

A PREPARATORY SCHOOL !

Notable Addition to Pinehurst's Equipment is Announced.

Its aim will be to Provide Instruction for Young Men and Masters During the Winter Season.

Formal announcement of an important addition to Pinehurst's equipment, a winter Preparatory School for boys, to be opened early next November, was made during the week. This step is but one in the general plan which is to make Pinehurst complete in every particular, and it will add immeasurably to the dignity and character of the Village. The news will be received with delight by Pinehurst Lovers everywhere.

The Village is exceptionally fortunate in having secured as Head Master for the school, the services of Mr. Aldice G. Warren, a teacher of wide experience, whose work as the head of a summer camp-school, "Fitzhugh Hall," at Sodus Point, Wayne county, N. Y., has attracted the attention of many prominent educators and won for him a wide circle of friends among parents who have placed their sons in his care. This school also bears the personal endorsement of the following distinguished men:

Rev. Henry Anstice, D. D., Rector St. Mathias Church, Philadelphia; Rev. Harry P. Dewey, Pastor Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn; Frederick L. Gamage, D. C. L., Head Master, St. Paul's School, Garden City, N. Y.; Rev. Wm. M. Grosvenor, D. D., Rector Church of the Incarnation, New York city; Hon. David J. Hill, D. D. LL. D., U. S. Minister to Switzerland; Henry Hopkins, D. D., President of Williams College; Hamilton W. Mabie, LL. D., editor Outlook, New York city; John Bach McMaster, Litt. D., University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Bliss Perry, Editor-in-Chief, Atlantic Monthly; Rev. Theodore Sill Rumney, D. D., Rector St. Peter's Church, Germantown, Pa.; Rev. Henry C. Swentzel, D. D., Rector St. Luke's Church, Brooklyn; Dr. Charles M. Underwood, Fourth Ave. and Mt. Prospect Ave., Newark, N. J.; Hon. William E. Werner, Court of Appeals, Albany, N. Y.; Hon. William R. Wilcox, President Board of Park Commissioners, New York city; Rev. Elwood Worcester, D. D., Rector St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia.

Mr. Warren has been located in Pinehurst during the past winter as a private tutor. He has made many friends, and has impressed all as a young man singularly fitted for this work; dignified, refined, cultured and earnest; one who realizes that "men, not books" educate.

The special field of the Pinehurst Preparatory School will be to provide instruction for young men and masters, whom it seems desirable to have spend the winter away from the evil effects attendant upon the severe weather of the North, and the work will be so arranged that pupils may take up as little or as much work as they desire, devoting a part or whole of their time to study, thus enabling them to enjoy the many advantages of life here and still keep up with their studies. The school will be organized upon the principle of small classes and thorough work, and one Master will be provided for every six pupils.

The advantage of Pinehurst as a location for such a school are obvious, for with its golf, riding, shooting, pure air, glorious sunshine, superb climate and right conditions for living, no place can furnish such ideal conditions for the combination of study and recreation.

In connection with the school provision will be made for private instruction for young women.

The ultimate aim is to erect a school building, but this will not be done at
(Continued to second page)

TOWER SHOOTING UNIQUE !

Addition to Trap-Shooting Equipment Pleases Sportsmen.

C. A. Lockwood Wins Inauguration Event--T. Sterling Beckwith and A. E. Lard Take Sweepstakes.

The winter's program of trap-shooting fixtures was brought to a formal end Thursday morning, with a special event, thirty targets thrown from the new tower. The event was one of the most unique and interesting of the season, plainly indicating that the addition of this feature to the trap-shooting equipment is to be a permanently popular one. The attendance was large and in the company assembled were many women.

These towers are not uncommon in Europe, but it is believed that Pinehurst has the only one in this country. It has been built at the suggestion of Mr. Lard, who has found tower shooting decidedly popular across the water. The idea is to produce conditions like those the sportsman finds in duck and similar shooting.

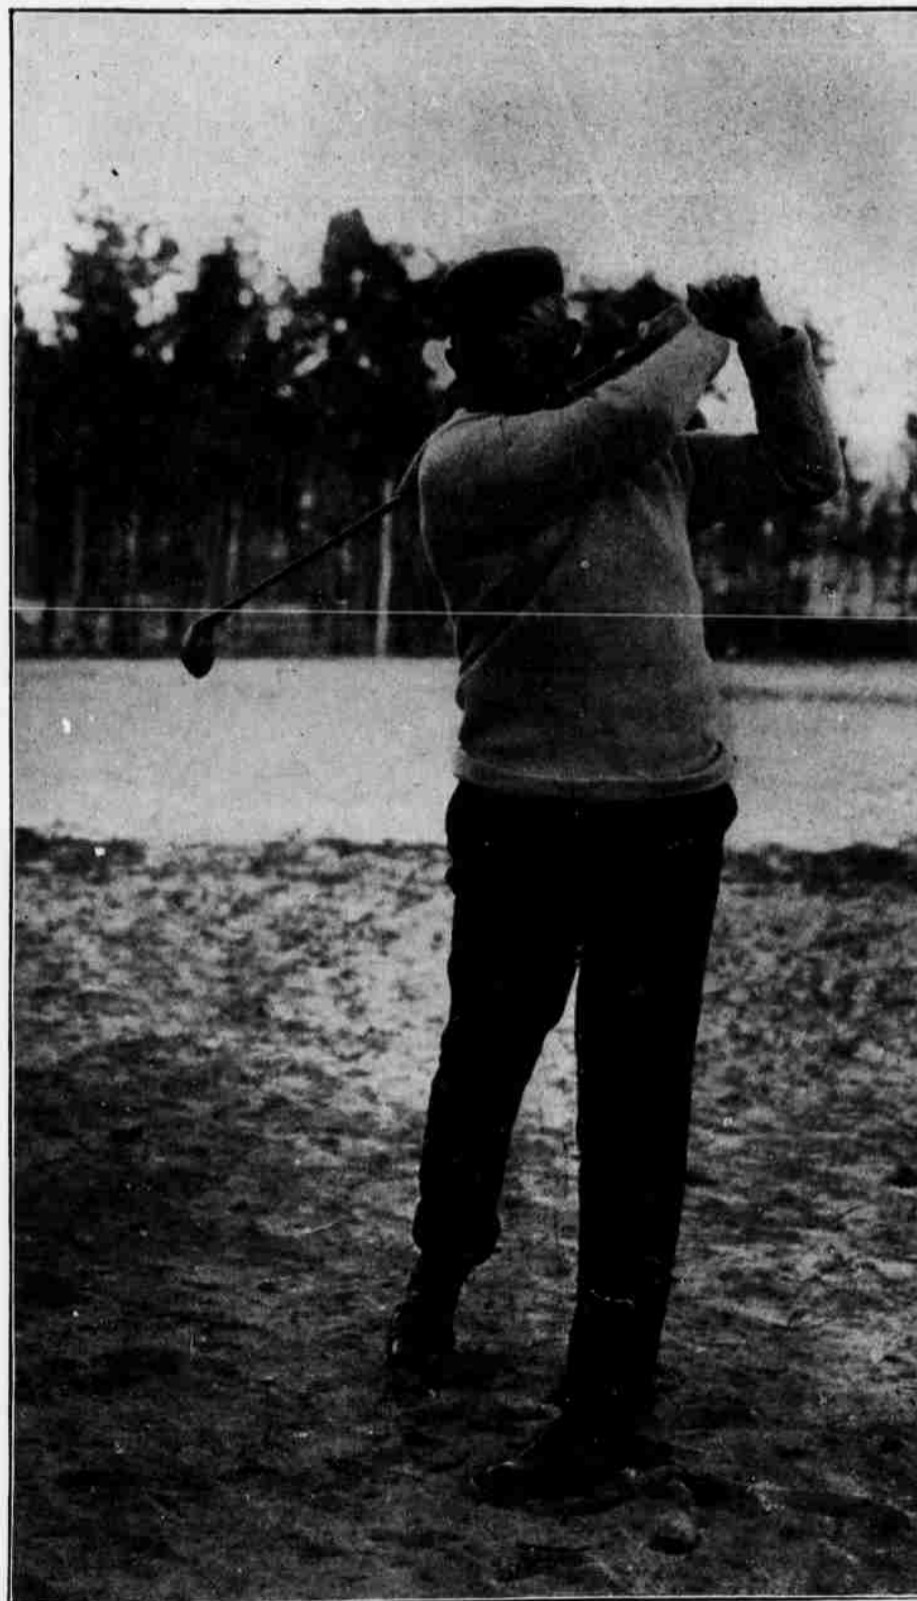

C. A. Lockwood, of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the event, with a score of sixteen. A. E. Lard, of St. Joseph, Mo., and I. C. Bates Dana, of New York city, tied for second place, with thirteen and M. H. Wilson, of Cleveland, O., and Herbert L. Jillson, of Worcester, Mass., were tied at twelve. T. Sterling Beckwith, of Cleveland, O., was fourth with eleven, and Col. P. H. Mayo, of Richmond, Va., fifth with nine.

There were five events, five birds to the left, right, overhead, and unknown angles, and five pairs of doubles, in the order named.

The scores in detail:

		LOCKWOOD
First	Second	Third	Fourth	Fifth
10110	01111	11101	10111	00 00 00	10 00--16
LARD.
10111	00000	01111	01101	00 01 00 00	10--13
DANA.
11100	00001	00101	10111	00 00 10	11 00--13
WILSON.
00100	11110	10100	01010	00 00 10	01 01--12
JILLSON.
01101	01111	00010	10010	00 00 10	00 10--12
BECKWITH
11100	00110	10010	01001	00 00 10	00 10--11
MAYO.
00111	11001	10000	10000	00 00 00	10 00--9

Following the event were two twenty-five single target Magautrap sweepstake events. Leonard Tufts, Boston, Lockwood and Beckwith tied for the first at thirteen each, and on the shoot-off, Beckwith won. The second event was easily Lard's with twenty, his nearest opponent being Beckwith, who broke fourteen.

PROMINENT GOLFERS AT PINEHURST, No. 7.

I. C. Bates Dana, of Hillandale Golf Club, Stamford, Conn., runner-up in the Championship Consolation.

Photo for The Pinehurst Outlook by Merrow.