

Mr. Donald B. Logan, of Worcester, Mass., was a visitor during the week, coming down to take his mother and sister home.

Mr. Charles S. McQuinn has gone after a two month's visit and his third season here. Mr. McQuinn is a prominent wholesale tea and coffee merchant in Boston, and an ardent Pinehurst Lover.

At The Berkshire.

Manager Kimball thinks that the demand will make it necessary to keep The Berkshire open until well toward the middle of May.

Mr. N. S. Hurd, of Pittsburg, Pa., is here for a "rest", as he expresses it, after a winter in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dunlap and Miss Dunlap of Lowell, Mass., who have been at The Carolina during the season, are here to remain until the house closes.

Mrs. W. H. Sturdevant and Miss J. T. Sturdevant, of Wilkes Barre, Pa., are here for the balance of the season.

Mr. R. V. R. Stuyvesant, of New York city, is here for a short visit after the winter at St. Augustine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Todd, Miss Todd and Miss A. Carney, of Canada, are recent arrivals.

Mr. A. A. Reynolds and Mrs. W. H. Reynolds, of North Adams, Mass., are here for their first visit.

Mr. Edward E. Kerr, of Farmer, Pa., is making a short visit here.

At The Harvard.

Mr. F. W. Moore of Union City, Pa., a Princeton student, is visiting his mother at The Harvard.

Miss Ethel M. Hinson, of Chicago, is a late arrival.

At The Magnolia.

Mrs. A. W. Stephens, Miss Stephens, Miss M. A. Stephens and C. G. H. Stephens, of Jamestown, N. Y., are late arrivals at The Magnolia.

Dr. and Mrs. William G. Nowell, of New York city, who have been here since November 27th, will remain until the house closes. Dr. Nowell is enthusiastic over Pinehurst as a winter and health resort. He came here completely prostrated from overwork, and has completely recovered. Dr. Nowell is of the opinion that very few people realize what a long task it is to gain lost strength and that too many come here and remain only two weeks when they should stay throughout the season.

Manager Pottle says he shall keep the house open as long as business demands it, which he expects will be until about the 15th of May.

At The Lenox and Concord.

Deacon John M. White and Miss White, of Wakefield, Mass.; Mrs. H. E. Parks, of New York city, are late arrivals at The Lenox and Concord, who come to remain for sometime.

The house will be open until the 15th of May or later.

At The Cedars.

Miss M. E. Guilfooy, of Watertown, Mass., is a late arrival at The Cedars.

Too Much Humidity.

To the number of those most disagreeable of human beings, the unreasonable grumblers, should be added a man of whom the Detroit Free Press tells.

He was suffering from inflammatory rheumatism, but was carefully nursed by his wife, who was very devoted to him in spite of his fault-finding. His suffering caused her to burst into tears sometimes as she sat at his bedside.

One day a friend of the invalid came in and asked him how he was getting on.

"Badly! badly!" he exclaimed. "And it's all my wife's fault!"

"Is it possible?" asked the friend, in surprise.

"Yes. The doctor told me that humidity was bad for me, and yet that woman sits there and cries and cries!"

Prompt Acceptance.

An Englishman visiting in this country attended a dinner given by a hostess whose hospitality is notoriously inadequate. Her dinners have often been referred to as "samples," and invitations to them are not accepted with alacrity the second time. Her wealth is large, however, and her social persistence is untiring, so there are usually some guests at the table. The Englishman was a big fellow, says the New York Sun, whose family had been kind to the hostess when she was in London.

The dinner was of the usual inadequate kind that her friends expected. It served merely as an appetizer to the Englishman, and when the coffee was served, indicating that the dinner was at an end, his dissatisfaction was amusing to the other guests. The hostess did not notice it, however, and said to him amiably:

"Now do tell me when we may have the pleasure of having you dine with us again?"

"Immediately, madam, immediately," was the unexpected reply.

Accidents will Happen.

Mr. Fuller—Why is an automobile like a bird?
Mrs. Fuller—I don't know, unless you are liable to fly heavenward when you ride in it.
