ROCKEFELLER A GUEST

Genial Courtesy of Great Financier Charms Those He Meets.

The Carolina's Guests Come by Every Train and House Count Mounts Rapidly Upward.

The Carolina's guests are crowding in by every train, there are few departures, and the house count is mounting rapidly upward. A large and congenial company is now assembled here.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER ARRIVES.

John D. Rockefeller, the great financier, reached here Sunday morning and his coming has created a buzz of interest among the guests. His first act was to inspect the golf course, and Monday found him enjoying the game.

Mr. Rockefeller's personality is most striking and conveys at once the impression of force and character; and his genial, gracious and courteous manner charm all with whom he comes in contact.

AMONG THE GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnson of Spuyten Duyvil, N. Y., join Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Johnson. They are close friends of Mr. Rockefeller and are doing much to make the distinguished visitor's stay enjoyable.

Judge C. D. Gregory, Mr. F. S. Howell, Mr. W. P. Shaw and Mr. H. W. Dun of Albany, N. Y., make up a merry party of sportsmen-golfers who are here for their annual visit and as usual, finding a deal of enjoyment in it. Thirty-six holes of golf and several hundred points of billiards, are the rule each day.

Col. P. H. Mayo and Mr. John W. Atkinson, Jr., of Richmond, Va., were guests during the week. Col. Mayo is a cultured Southern gentleman and a thorough sportsman who is a frequent visitor here and whose friends are legion. He will return later with his family, for an extended stay.

Judge Ernest Smith of Delaware and Mr. H. Wendell of Philadelphia, are here to remain through January. Judge Smith is enjoying golf and Mr. Wendell shooting.

Mrs. J. A. Ballentine and children and Miss Margaret Ballentine of Wilkesburg, Pa., are here for their second season.

Mrs. John Tobin and Miss Eleanor Tobin of Montclair, N. J., join Mrs. Edwin A. Freeman and children for an extended visit.

Mr. William C. Freeman was a guest over Sunday, coming down with Mrs. Tobin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren of Dedham, Mass., who are occupying the Mystic, are dining here.

Mr. Le Roy W. Johnson of New York, is here for an extended stay.

Mr. W. L. De Wolfe of Chicago, joins Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnson.

Mr. Robert Kerr and Mrs. A. F. Kerr of Stamford, Conn., are among the recent guests.

Mr. C. O. Gates of Brooklyn, is here for a short stay.

Mr. Thomas Manger and Mr. William Hughes of New York, are among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Leard of Richmond, were visitors over Sunday.

PISTOL CLUB POPULAR.

Organization Effected at The Carolina Thursday Evening.

The members of the Pinehurst Target Pistol Club met at The Carolina Thursday evening at 8:30 for the purpose of organization. Since the announcement in last week's OUTLOOK interest has increased rapidly and many have signified their intention of joining.

Several members of the club spent Monday forenoon with the resident manager in definitely deciding upon the location of the butts, and the work of building them will be completed very shortly. The location is just at the rear of the trap shooting grounds; ideal in every way.

Arrangements are already making for an inauguration handicap tournament which will be held soon. A series of events will follow for which suitable trophies will be offered.

Application for membership should be placed with Dr. Herbert J. Hall, resident house physician, at The Carolina.

HARVARD IS FILLED.

Manager Abbott Glad to See Callers but Accommodations are Limited.

Manager Abbott of The Harvard, is glad to see the many visitors who are calling for rooms, but practically all of his apartments are occupied and he has little to offer except when rooms are made vacant by changes.

Mr. W. Gardner of New York, is here for a few weeks rest.

Mr. Louis H. Irving of Brooklyn, spent a few days here during the week, previous to locating at The Magnolia.

Prof. C. W. Burkett of Raleigh, was a guest over Sunday.

Mr. G. S. Johnson of New York, was a recent visitor.

AT THE CEDARS.

Arrivals of the Week Fill the House to its Capacity.

The arrivals of the past week have taken all the available rooms at The Cedars, and until changes are made there will be no available rooms here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Underhill of Winthrop, Mass., are here for their fourth season, welcomed back by many friends throughout the Village.

Mrs. Edward Overton and Miss Eliza C. Overton of Towanda, Pa., are here for a lengthy sojourn.

Mrs. Harry Willock and Miss Dorothy Willock of Oakmont, Pa., come for an extended stay.
