PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA.

WITH THE QUAIL HUNTERS!

Satisfactory Bags are the Rule on the Pinehurst Preserves.

J. D. Foot of Rye, N. Y., Finds Dove Shooting Much to his Liking
--Other Records.

THE sportsmen are finding excellent shooting on the Pinehurst Preserves and satisfactory bags are the rule.

Among the most successful of the hunters was J. R. Such of South Amboy, N. J., who has gone after a ten days stay. Mr. Such in five days hunting, secured bags of thirteen, fifteen, twelve and fourteen quail, respectively.

Col. J. Ernest Smith of Wilmington, Del., who has been a guest at The Carolina, with Mrs. Smith, is an expert field shot and has enjoyed excellent sport. In a day's outing with Herman Wendall of Philadelphia, twenty quail were secured. Col. Smith killed five out of six birds in thick cover on this trip, a record which is seldom surpassed.

C. A. Lockwood of New York, who returns with Mrs. Lockwood for the winter at The Holly Inn, brings three fine dogs with him and will spend much time in the field. On a recent trip, with H. Nelson Burroughs of Philadelphia, sixteen quail from eight coveys were secured.

Mr. Burroughs returns for the winter and brings a dog with him and plans to do much hunting.

Recently while exercising their dogs in close proximity to the kennels, Mr. Burroughs and Mr. Lockwood witnessed a pretty sight; one of the dogs standing a bird, and three others back-standing beautifully.

A. B. Fields of New York, has enjoyed good sport, killing fourteen quail January twenty-first and thirteen on the twenty-fifth.

F. B. Austin of Washington, D. C., has made a couple of bags of thirteen quail each, on recent trips.

J. D. Foot of Rye, N. Y., has shown a preference for dove shooting and killed a number of these swift flying and very toothsome birds. During an afternoon's sport recently, twenty were secured.

J. J. Montague of Richmond, Va., who is located at The Holly Inn, with Mrs. Montague, brings a favorite dog with him and is finding good shooting close to the Village.

J. E. Briggs of Philadelphia and G. W. Mellen of Pittsburg, are having good sport.

Richard Parsons of Cleveland, Ohio, and J. G. Wright of Boston are enjoying the shooting.

Pinehurst Kennels is spreading rapidly and the demand for its dogs constantly increasing. The recent sale of "Pinehurst Dick" is an indication of this. A number of puppies are coming forward rapidly, under Mr. Morgan's skillful handling, and will be sure to make friends among the visitors next season.

NEW TERRITORY ADDED.

The extent of the Preserves is being continually increased by the addition of valuable territory, and stocking is being indulged in.

The result is a steady improvement in the shooting and notable increase in the numbers of birds, which is attracting visitors in large numbers.

ENTHUSIASM--MEMBERSHIP!

Excellent Scores Features of Target-Pistol Club's First Shoot.

Dr. Herbert J. Hall, Marblehead, Mass., and John P. Benson, New York, Cup Winners.

THE Pinehurst Target-Pistol Club made its first bow to the public last Friday with a handicap inauguration, tournament, the first of a series to be held weekly during the winter, and it is apparent that the club starts out not only with a large membership, but with an enthusiasm which nothing daunts.

The day was not favorable for the sport and the trap shooters saw fit to postpone their tournament, but the pistol shooters would brook no postponement and ten out of the twelve entrants faced the targets.

Excellent scores were the features of the event, considering the fact that many of those who participated have shot but very little, and there was a close fight for the net score cup.

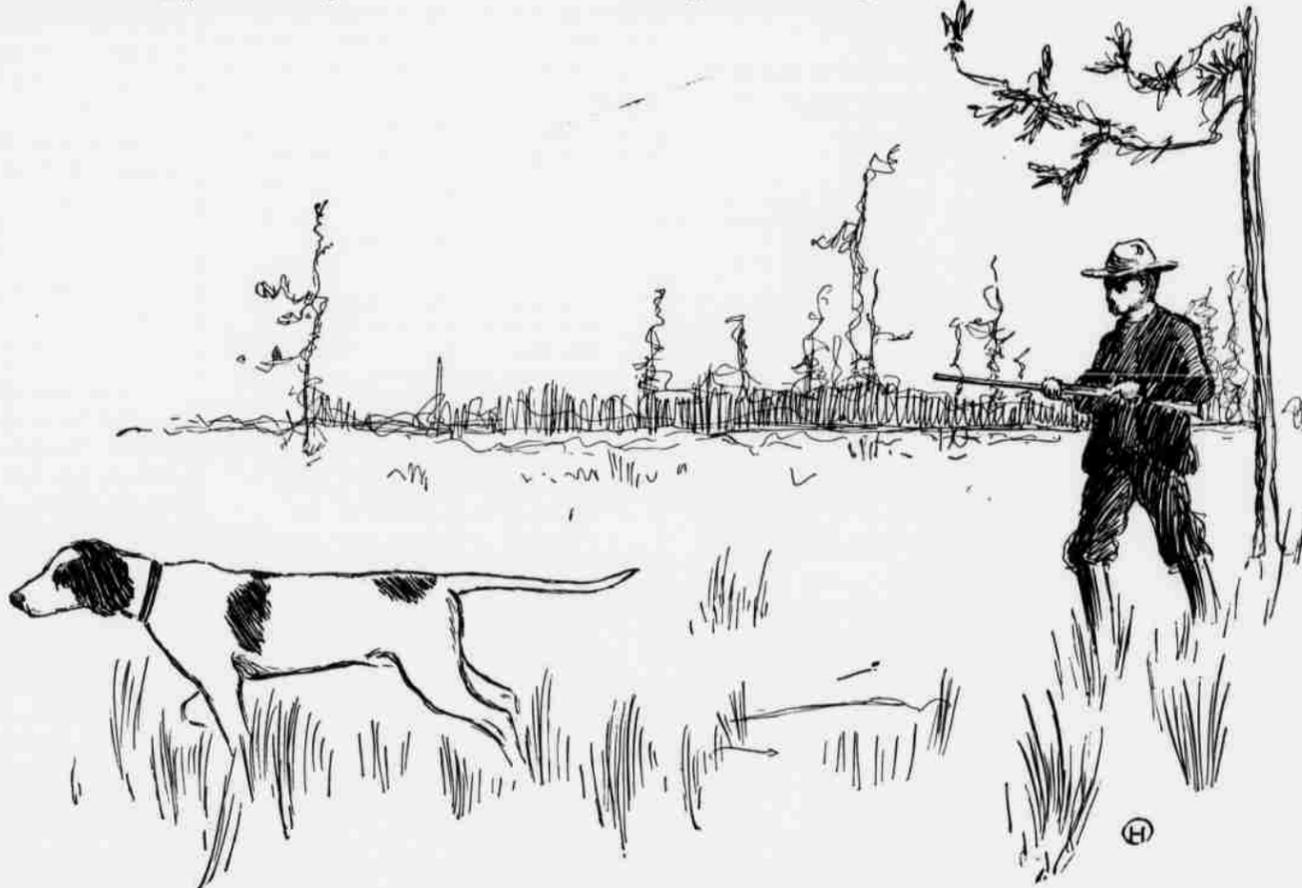

Dr. Herbert J. Hall, president of the club, scratch, was an easy winner of the cup offered for the best gross score with three hundred and sixty, a gross average of seventy-two per string.

Harry P. Benson of Salem, Mass., whose handicap was twelve per string, scored three hundred and sixteen gross, three hundred and seventy-six net; a gross average of sixty-three and one-fifth per string.

John P. Benson of New York, whose handicap was thirty-two per string, won the net score cup with a card of two hundred and eighty-six gross, four hundred and forty-six net; a gross average of fifty-seven and one-fifth.

H. W. Priest of Franconia, N. H., scored second with three hundred and eighty-two net, shooting with a handicap of twenty-six per string.

"THE JOY OF THE HUNTER ON EARTH ALL SURPASSES."

Pen Drawing for The Pinehurst Outlook by James Hall.

William Hughes of New York, and Congressman Thomas Magner of New York, have gone after a short hunting trip here.

F. W. Hammond of Clinton, Mass., is a recent arrival who will do some hunting.

Percival Roberts, Jr., of Philadelphia, sends down a dozen dogs in charge of a groom, and will spend much of his time in the field during his visit here.

Frederick Gaston of New York forwards a couple of dogs and will as usual try the shooting during his visit.

"PINEHURST DICK" SOLD.

The reputation of the dogs of the

"NED M" PURCHASED.

An important addition to the Kennels has been made by the purchase of "Ned M., 3207, F. D. S. B.," from G. Dan Morgan, the present trainer. Ned M is one of the best bred dogs in the country, and by the field trial winner "Mars Chan" out of "Bab L."

He is three years old and in appearance he is exceptionally handsome, black, white and tan in color, splendidly built, and weighing about fifty pounds in hunting trim; a winner either in the field or on the bench. He is already a favorite with the sportsmen.
