

The Pinehurst Outlook

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA.

MANY EXQUISITE TOILETTES

Leap Year German Forms Beautiful Picture at The Holly Inn.

Affair Most Brilliant in History of House and One of the Prettiest Ever Held in Village.

A LEAP YEAR German at The Holly Inn Saturday evening, was the most brilliant affair of its kind in the history of this hotel and one of the prettiest and most enjoyable of the many social events which are always a feature of winter life in the Village.

Many exquisite toilettes were seen upon the floor and their soft colors made a beautiful picture which was brought out sharply by the more sombre evening dress of the men which formed the background. The beauty of the scene was further enhanced by powdered coiffures which were worn by the women.

The details were arranged with faultless care, the favors were numerous and in excellent taste, and the figures unique and varied.

Mrs. A. C. Ketcham of New York, Mrs. Edward O'Brien of Chicago, Mrs. Albert Augustus of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. A. I. Creamer, presided at the favor table.

The managers were Miss Toffey, Miss Harris, Miss O'Brien, Miss Eddy and Miss Edwards.

Twenty couples participated and Mr. Marshall C. Parshall of Warren, Pa., and Miss Edna O'Brien of Chicago, led.

The participants included the following:

THE PARTICIPANTS.

Mr. H. Nelson Burroughs, Philadelphia, and Miss Edna L. Toffey, Jersey City, N. J.

Mr. J. Henry Hentz, 3rd, Philadelphia, and Miss Edwards, Bridgeport, Conn.

Dr. A. C. Potter, Boston, and Mrs. Carl Gildersleeve, Warren, Pa.

Mr. Carl Gildersleeve, Warren, Pa., and Miss S. A. Cutler, Newton, Mass.

Mr. N. L. McCutcheon, Greenwich, Conn., and Miss Bertha Eddy, Boston, Mass.

Mr. A. G. Warren, Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Chandlee, Philadelphia.

Mr. Walter A. Berg, Boston, Mass., and Miss Kathryne Denton,

White Sulphur Springs, Va.

Mr. Nat. S. Hurd, Pittsburg, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth Eddy, Boston.

Mr. F. Walter Hentz, Philadelphia, and Miss Louise Rines, Bangor.

Mr. H. S. Gordon, New York, and Miss Marion Eddy, Boston.

Mr. Berkley Edwards, Bridgeport, Conn., and Miss Nellie Upson, Bridgeport, Conn.

Mr. H. T. Converse, Albany, N. Y., and Mrs. H. F. Brown, Parlin, N. J.

Mr. C. A. Lockwood, New York, and Mrs. Fred. J. Bailey, Chicago.

Mr. J. A. Baker, Chicago, and Miss Judd, Boston.

Mr. Herbert L. Jillson, Worcester, Mass., and Miss Ambia Harris, Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. H. H. Porter, and Mrs. Porter, Westfield, N. J.

Mrs. Wilson wore white lace, decollete, relieved by a corsage bouquet of violets.

Miss Denton was very sweet in a simple gown of blue Swiss.

Mrs. Gildersleeve wore a striking French pattern gown of yellow.

Mrs. Bailey wore a dainty gown of white applique, decollete.

Mrs. Gordon wore organdie trimmed with orange chrysanthemums.

Miss Edwards wore pink chiffon, decollete.

Miss Bertha Eddy wore white muslin over green.

Miss Eddy wore blue voile, decollete.

Mrs. Howlett wore embroidered pink muslin, decollete.

Miss Chandlee wore white lace, decollete.

Miss Cutler wore white net over pink,

MEN WERE MERE FIXTURES!

Young Women of The Carolina Turn Tables at Leap Year Cotillion.

Dignified Men and Ofttimes Portly Preside and Swagger Youths Dispense Favors.

THE MEN were mere fixtures at the Leap Year Cotillion given by the young women of The Carolina, Monday evening, simply necessary accessories to make the occasion complete. And while they were in a measure, favored and flattered, they were nevertheless, made to feel their utter insignificance; to understand something what it meant to "be a girl."

They were not even permitted to seat their fair partners, bow courteously and mutter softly, "Enjoyed it so much, doncher know;" and in the first dance it looked very much as if they were to be denied the privilege of leading in the dancing. In other words tables were reversed and some of the twentieth century girls even insisted on escorting their partners to the refreshment tables and serving them seated!

But strangest of all, presiding over the brilliant scene with imposing mein, were dignified men and ofttimes, portly, who have long since deserted the gayety of the ball room for the quiet corner of the Club. Winsome dames at the favor tables there were not, but instead, swagger young youths who did not dance and who did not even care to try.

Becoming shirt-waist costumes of white took the place of decollete evening gowns among the women, and the "swallow tail" and white tie were barred among the men, in favor of the comfortable tuxedo.

The scene, however, lacked none of its wonted brilliancy, and because of the novel features introduced, it unquestionably takes its place as the most unique and one of the most enjoyable of the formal affairs which are always a brilliant feature of the winters social life here. Much credit is due the committee of managers of which Mrs. St. John Smith of Portland, Maine, was chairman.

Dancing began at nine and ceased at twelve, and the figures included many which were new, novel, humorous and picturesque. The favors were in excellent taste.

The "patronesses" were Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, Judge Charles B.

(Continued to Last Page)

"LOOK PLEASANT PLEASE!"

Mr. H. B. Howlett and Mrs. Howlett, Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. J. Hollister Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Montreal.

Mr. Horace A. Crary and Mrs. Crary, Warren, Pa.

THE GOWNS

Miss Marion Eddy, who wore a beautiful decollete gown of white satin, was generally admired.

Miss Toffey was charming in a gown of white dotted Swiss, relieved by a blue girdle.

Miss Harris wore a becoming gown of pink net trimmed with French lilacs, decollete.

Miss O'Brien was very dainty in pink point d'esprit, trimmed with Chantilly lace.

decollete.

Mrs. Porter wore white eolienne silk, decollete.

Mrs. Crary wore an embroidered gown of lemon.

Miss Judd wore white lace trimmed with blue.

Miss Upson wore white foulard.

Miss Rines wore white chiffon.

New Books for Library.

The gift of the following books to the Pinehurst Library by The Book Association of Friends, Philadelphia, is announced:

Letters of Isaac Pennington,
A Brief Memoir of Maria Fox,
Rambles of a Naturalist,
A Memoir of William Penn,
A Memoir of Thomas Story,
Life of John Woolman,
Hymns and Meditation.