PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA.

IT WAS TRULY RURAL!

Tin Whistles Cotillion Leads as Occasion of Mirth and Fun.

Rustic Garb, Novel Figures and Attractive Favors Make the Scene a Brilliant One.

THE rustic cotillion given by the Tin Whistles at The Holly Inn, Saturday evening, was an occasion of unbounded mirth and fun, surpassing any similar event of the season in its spirit of animation and keen enjoyment. Never was there a merrier dance, never a scene more varied and lively.

The participants met the requirements fully as to rustic costumes, with every conceivable variety of attire, combining to lend to the occasion a delightful unconventional charm.

The favors were thoroughly in accord with the idea of the evening and took the form of big red apples, sticks of chocolate, bags of hickory nuts, and monster paper sun flowers and cabbages.

The special favors were lace and scarf pins of gold. In the closing figures, tin whistles, the emblem of the Club, were given to each dancer, and with these a wonderful stimulus was given to Director Munroe's orchestra:

Can we golf and can we sing
Can we make the echoes ring!
Well, we rather think we can;
For the rest just "ASK THE MAN."

Doughnuts, cheese and milk were served at intermission.

The patronesses were Mrs. Arthur C. Ketcham of New York, Mrs. Edward O'Brien of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. A. I. Creamer, and to their efforts much of the success of the evening was due.
