THE DICKINSON SCHOOL

Miss Pott Talks Interestingly of its Work and Increasing Needs.

Wonderful Results Accomplished in Past Few Months, Sure to Bear Abundant Fruit.

MISS M. C. Pott of Smmitt, N. J. reports gratifying progress at the Dickinson School in the past few months. She feels that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, the teachers, have accomplished a wonderful work, and that the strong influence for good which they exert not only in the school-room but in the lives of the pupils, will bear abundant fruit.

The industrial department, a most important feature in the work, gives evidence of having awakened slumbering energies. An encouraging fact to be noted is that the pupils have begun to testify their gratitude by presenting to their patrons gifts which are the results of their own labors.

There is a promise that during the summer many of the families represented in the school will begin making homes for themselves.

The trustees learn that visitors at the school sometimes give money to the pupils who are called upon to speak or sing. In this connection they desire to call attention to the fact that the singing etc., is intended to show what work has been accomplished by the school as a whole.

The individual pupils share the benefits provided for the school as a whole and should not be paid for contributing what they can to the general good.

The Management and the Trustees beg those who wish to aid in the work to leave any money they wish to contribute at the General Office or send it to the Plymouth Cottage.

The school is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and every cent donated is needed to meet its yearly expenses.

The treasurer begs to acknowledge the receipt of the following recent contributions:

Mrs. J. Boyd at The Carolina $10.00
A friend at The Magnolia 5.00
A friend, two stoves and twenty-feet of stove pipe.

FANCY WORK AND CROQUET.

Guests at The Cedars Find Pleasure in Both.

Fancy work, croquet and sunshine are the order of the day at The Cedars, and "Fudge" and cards provide many a pleasant evening.

A croquet tournament on Wednesday afternoon afforded much pleasure. The first prize was won by Miss P. A. Taggart of Utica, N. Y., and the second by Miss Edith Barse, East Orange, N. J.

Among the recent arrivals are Mrs. C. M. Leonard, Kenwood, and Mrs. B. A. Kenney, Dansville, N. Y.

IT WAS TRULY RURAL

Mr. Dutton, Village beau, was all to the good.

Mr. French adorned a dress coat and trousers of very distinguished consideration.

Mr. McNeely rejoiced in a flaming crimson tie, which was a complete disguise.

Mr. Parish wore a blue striped shirt.

Mr. Nat. S. Hurd could also be seen and added much to the gayety of the nations by his lightning changes.

Mr. Ramsey appeared as a "Soup Bone" and did well.

Messrs. Hurd and Ramsey as "Rolling Rubes" gained applause.

Mr. Wheeler looked very handsome in a green tie.

Mr. Edwards gave an impersonation of the United States Army.

Mr. Babcock came as an exquisite.

Mr. Gordon represented beautiful snow.

Mr. Wilson impersonated "Ice Cream Soda, Tufts' patent.

Mr. Ide came as a gentleman, vintage of 1904.

Mr. Hopewell appeared as a sleeping car porter, (white face).

Mr. Lawrie came as a fashion plate for spring.

Mr. McCutcheon was the good little boy and in addition to his own make-up won his partners sun bonnet and a winning smile.

Around the World.

In the April Delineator is begun a series that promises to be exceedingly interesting and instructive. The title, Around the World in Eighty Pictures, is explanatory of the nature of the series to a certain extent; it gives no idea, however, of the delightful form of the narrative, which is letters from a young bride on her honeymoon to her father. The first stage of the trip is from Montreal to Vancouver, the points of interest being the quaint old Canadian cities Montreal and Ottawa, Niagara, the wheat district of the Northwest, the Rocky Mountains, and various other features of interest en route to the Pacific. The pictures are striking and express adequately the characteristics of the great region, and interest is not lost amid a host of dry facts, for the narrative is as pleasant reading as fiction.

MISS HIGGINS DOES SO.

Equals Woman's Record on Pinehurst Course.

Among the visitors of the past week were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burton of New York City, and Miss Mabel B. Higgins of Chicago, Ill., who spent a few days here on their way North from the South.

Mr. Burton is prominently known in golfing circles throughout the country and Miss Higgins is undoubtedly one of the best women golfers in Chicago and a member of the Middlethian Club.

During her visit she played over the Pinehurst course and in a match with Mr. Burton last Saturday, made a round in eighty-six, which equals the women's record of the course held by Mrs. M. D. Paterson of New York.

Miss Higgins' card was as follows:

Out 4 5 5 5 3 5 5 3 5-40
In 6 5 5 5 6 4 6 4 5-46-86
