Ad. Topperwein Gives Truly Phenomenal Exhibition of Rifle Shooting at Flying Objects.

SOMETHING exceedingly novel in the way of shooting was witnessed at the Trap Shooting Grounds Tuesday afternoon in the exhibition given by John T. Boa and Ad. Topperwein, representing the Winchester Repeating Arms Company. A large company of onlookers including a number of trap these targets were so small that they were invisible to onlookers, the only indication that they had been hit being a puff of white dust against the sky,

Next in order came the shooting of doubles in the same way, first hitting an apple and then one of the pieces of it. Then he shot laying down, standing on his head and in other positions, always with wonderful accuracy, concluding his exhibition with snap pistol shooting at blue rocks and other articles thrown into the air.

Following the exhibition Topperwein shot holes in a few flying half dollars to oblige those who desired them for souvenirs, and incoming targets from the tower trap.

A number of attractive souvenirs were distributed, including miniature cartridge scarf pins, and dummy shells showing samples of various smokeless powders used in shot gun, rifle and pistol cartridges.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

There was a bad boy from the East

She screamed "Mercy!—oh, oh!—"
"It has riz in the form of a beast!"

and pistol shots, followed the program with much interest.

Mr. Boa opened the program by shooting at single targets thrown from the expert traps, breaking the first twenty-five straight, twenty-three of the next string and twenty-four of the last. He then broke doubles with ease and finally three targets thrown at the same time, and he was prepared to carry this even still further, breaking as many as six targets thrown in rapid succession, had the maugautrap been working.

Mr. Toppenwein's work was little short of marvellous. He began by shooting at apples, oranges, bits of brick and large marbles which he stooped down picked up and threw into the air, smashing them into bits with comparative ease. Then he broke "Carter's Little Liver Pills" (pee wee marbles) in the same way, and
