CHILDREN IN THE RING

Their Presence Adds Special Interest to Monday's Riding Contest.

Old and New Features Provide Entertainment for Participants and Onlookers.

THE Equestrian contest Monday, drew a good field of contestants and a large company of onlookers, all of whom found pleasurable entertainment in the program given. Several of the events which have proven popular in the past were repeated and new features added, including a cavalry drill and

Mr. E. B. Lockwood and Mr. C. E. Kaltbach.

The first event upon the program was a drill under the leadership of Riding Master Mack, the participants being put through an interesting series of cavalry movements and gymnastics. Next upon the program came a new feature, contestants sabre-cutting hanging bags or "heads", while riding past at a gallop.

Third in order was the pursuit race given in most interesting form, some of the contestants riding fast and others using skill to avoid losing the ribbon which rested upon the right shoulder and which had to be removed while riding on the left side.

The use of a dozen or so rings gave new interest to the lance contest, and in closing a race between teams of four members each took place in front of The Carolina, a mail pouch being transferred from the hotel to the Beacon cottage and return by relays.

head-cutting contest. Additional interest was given to the event by the presence of several children in the ring, Misses Clarice Paterson and Jane Johnson and Master Cook, to each of whom souvenirs of the occasion were given by Mrs. Leonard Tufts.

Points were awarded in each event, counting five, three and one, as in the past, Mr. Arthur M. Allen, Newton Centre, winning the men's trophy with a first and a second and Mrs. Leonard Tufts, Medford, the women's with a first, second and third. Other contestants included Mrs. W. E. Scott, Miss Hemphill,

The committee was assisted by judges including Dr. J. H. Packard, Mr. Thomas F. Sise and Mr. W. C. Baker.
