

VOL. IX; NO 9.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY TWENTY-SEVENTH, 1906.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

ALLAN LARD THE WINNER

Climax of Midwinter Tournament Comes in Semi-final Rounds.

Lard and Becker Fight it out Stroke for Stroke, and Keates Defeats Carnegie.

HE climax in the midwinter tournament came in the semi-final rounds, Allan Lard, of the Columbia Golf Club, winner the of champinship honors, being a trifle too fast in the finals, for George W. Keates, of the Brae Burn Club, and winning by a score of 5 up and 4 to play with a medal play card of 77, which is the tournament record for the season. In a word, Mr. Keates was a bit "off" and Mr. Lard was decidedly "on," as the card will show :

> Out 5 4 3 3 3 5 5 3 6-37 In 5 3 5 4 5 4 6 3 5-40-77

Interest in the match never lagged, nevertheless, and a big gallery followed the players until the end.

In the semi-final or morning rounds, however, it was a different story ; a hole for hole battle between Mr. Lard and C. L. Becker, of the Woodland Golf Club, which was uncertain until the last putt had been made upon the home green. At the turn Lard had gained a lead of three up, but Mr. Becker rallied coming in, reducing the score to I down at the fifteenth, but was unable to do better than halve the last three holes.

The cards: LARD. Out 5 5 3 6 3 4 5 4 4-39 In 4 3 4 4 6 5 6 3 6-41-80 BECKER. Out 5 5 4 5 4 5 6 3 5-42 In 3 3 5 4 5 4 6 3 6-39-81

Interest, however, was by no means centered upon this match, for news spread rapidly that Mr. Keates had W. C. CARNEGIE, WINNER GOLD MEDAL IN QUALIFICATION caught W. C. Carnegie, the crack St. An-ROUND OF MIDWINTER TOURNAMENT. drews player, a bit off his game, and stood to win. Mr. Keates was four up at the turn, but the Pittsburgher made a the finals of the "very special" tourna- of T. Pliny Moran, of the Columbia Golf brilliant rally, the tenth hole being halved ment in the afternoon, each attracted Club: in 5, Mr. Carnegie winning the eleventh their share of attention from the big in 3, halving the twelfth in 6, winning crowd which thronged the Club house the thirteenth and fourteenth in 4 and 5, and the course. but losing the fifteenth, sixteenth and The day was absolute perfection with the match, three down and two to play. ideal golfing conditions, and the after-William C. Freeman, of the Montclair noon tea drew together a company which Club, was the winner of the first division taxed the capacity of the Country Club consolation, defeating G. W. Wurzell, of house, both inside and out. the Oakmont Club, one up on the nine- The evening was devoted to congratu-

				FF	EE	M.	N.
Out	4	5	4	4	5	5	5	2	5-39
In	5	4	4	4	6	5	6	8	6 4-47-86
				w	UR	ZE	LL.
Out	5	4	3	5	5	5	5	4	4-40
In		5	3	5	5	5	6	3	5 5-48-87

lations and goodbyes at the hotels, many of the tournament participants leaving on the night train reluctantly, but anticipating return visits.

A BRILLIANT ENDING.

The close of the contest was in keeping with the features which characterized it from the start, an epoch making week in The special contests of the day, the every particular, which is summed up medal play handicap in the morning and very concisely in the following remarks

Leading Americans Will Also Partic-

ENGLISH PROFESSIONALS

Arrangements Made for Important

Matches Here Next Month.

ipate in Matches of Unusual Importance.

3RRANGEMENT has been made with the famous English golf professionals, Sandy Herd and Jack White ex open champions, Andrew Kirkaldy, Scottish champion, and Roland Jones, the crack London golfer, who are now in Mexico on an American tour, to visit Pinehurst February twelfth and thirteenth for a series of important matches in which many leading American professionals will be asked to participate.

Seventy-two holes will be played, eighteen hole rounds morning and afternoon, daily, and the prizes will be $200., $150., $100. and $50.

The matches will, without question, be the biggest and most important professional golf event of the entire year and one of the best ever seen in this country and the only opportunity offered to see the English visitors matched against the leading American professionals and prominent amateurs from many parts of the country are coming to witness the matches.

Among the American professionals who are expected to participate are Open Champion Willie Anderson, Alex Smith, Bernard and Gilbert Nichols, Alex Campbell, Jack Jolly, George Low and Donald and Alex Ross, David Ogelvie, Walter Fovargne and others

Euchre at The Berkshire.

Progressive euchre furnished a delightful evening at The Berkshire during the week, and is a pleasant prophesy for events of like character to follow. Nine tables were necessary, and the very dainty prizes offered were won by the following: Mrs. T. J. Check, Mrs. E. D. White Mrs. J. W. Mills, Mrs. A. B. Myers, Mr. G. W. Wurzell and Miss M.A. Litchfield.

"I am confident that never before in the history of golf, has there been as much enthusiasm manifested, as many beautiful trophies offered, and as delightful weather throughout as has been combined at Pinehurst this week. Pinehurst is certainly Queen of this country's golf resorts; in all truth 'America's St Andrews.' "

Progressive Bridge at The Inn. Progressive bridge entertained a large company at The Inn, Monday evening, Miss Edith MacLeod and Mrs. Fred J. Bailey, being the prize winners.